Queen's Letters Published

Deep Distrust of Grandson Wilhelm Justified in Recent Warfare

Snappy Comment of Persons Prominent in Regime Enliven Notes

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)
LONDON, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Queen Victoria's distrust of her grandson, Wilhelm II, from the moment he ascended the German throne is revealed more sharply than ever before in a remarkable series of the Queen's letters written between 1886 and 1890. The letters were edited by G. E. Buckle and will be published tomorrow.

More vividly than any biography of history these letters tell the story of years which were in many ways the pinnacle of the Queen's long reign. They reveal a stubborn queen who caused anxious moments in cabinets, but they also show a queen who had a shrewd political sense and who had become a governing influence in the political and social life of England. The record selection reaches its climax with the first jubilee, when the popular opinion of her in England swept at last into adoration. There were many anxieties and griefs for the Queen in those years, however, and not the least of them was her impulsive grandson, who became German Emperor in 1888.

GRANDMA WAS RIGHT

"Such a hot-headed, conceited, self-headed young man, devoid of all feelings," Queen Victoria wrote of him. "How sickening it is to see Willy, not two months after his dear noble father's death, going to regattas and reviews! It is very shocking, very unfeeling!"

After the Queen's indignation over no bounds after an affront to the Prince of Wales, later King Edward, in the shape of a message relating to his presence in Vienna during the visit of the German Emperor to the Austrian Emperor. The latter afterward denied he was responsible for this message, and even Victoria suspected Chancellor Bismarck was at the bottom of the trouble. All the same, she had nothing but contempt for Wilhelm's demand to be treated as the "senior"—not as "nephew."

FRETENSIONS PRICKED

"We have always been very well with our grandson and nephew," Queen Victoria wrote, "and to pretend he is to be treated in private as well as in public as 'His Imperial Majesty' is perfect folly. If he has such notions it had better never come here. The Queen will not swallow this dust."

The Queen was not enthusiastic over asking Wilhelm to visit Windsor.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Got back home without a puncture. We may have depression but we got good tires, and they are selling worth the money now.

Mr. Hoover just appointed an employment agent to see who was working and who was just standing talking about depression.

One of our submarines went down 332 feet purposely. We have had 'em go lower than this, but this is the first one to get back up again.

Germany has a new airplane with its tail where its head ought to be. They ought to call it the Congressional plane.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Hoover Imposes Embargo

Limitation, Asked in Note to Stimson, First Ever Put on South America

Navy Officials Again Grant Airplane Makers Right to Export Contract Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Acting upon a plea of the Brazilian government, President Hoover imposed today an embargo on shipments of arms and munitions to Brazil—the first time in American diplomatic history such a limitation has been placed on exportations of arms to a South American republic.

The embargo was contained in a proclamation signed by President Hoover and countersigned and sealed by Secretary Stimson.

It carried the proviso shipments can be made to Brazil under licenses granted by the Secretary of State, which, in effect, would prevent shipments to any Brazilians other than those representing the administration of President Washington Luis, the only government in Brazil recognized by the United States.

REDS SLAY THOUSANDS

City Laid Waste in China

Communists Plunder Town and Kill Inhabitants in Bloody Orgy

Missionary Freed to Seek Heavy Ransom Tells of Horrors

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22. (AP)—Eight thousand Chinese men and women have been slaughtered at Kian, Province of Kiangsi, by Communists in an orgy of massacre, looting and burning, said dispatches received today.

The Reds swarmed into Kian on the 6th inst., ransacked the city for plunder and ruthlessly killed 2000 inhabitants in one day. Thousands of others were slain as the depredations continued.

BISHOP BRINGS NEWS

First news of the massacre was brought by Bishop Migniani of the Italian Lazarist Mission at Kian, who, with a Chinese Lazarist priest, arrived at Kiukiang today. He had been released by the Reds to attempt to raise $10,000,000 Mexican (about $3,500,000 gold) as ransom money for fourteen other missionaries held captive at Kian.

Bishop Migniani said he and the Chinese priest, after being severely beaten and paraded through the streets of Kian, left the city on foot on the 14th inst., to obtain aid for their fellow-missionaries. These included four Italian priests, four Italian, one French and five Chinese nuns held for ransom at Communist headquarters.

When they left, no mission buildings had been fired, but buckets of gasoline had been distributed through the church properties, for use should ransom money not be forthcoming, or for other reasons.

Reporting the Red deaths at Kian had reached 8000, Chinese press dispatches said that immediately after capturing the city, the Communists massacred the residents and started disastrous fires, the flames and smoke of which were seen many miles distant for three days.

RIVER FULL OF BODIES

"So many persons were murdered," said the dispatches, "that virtually a constant stream of bodies was seen floating in the Kian River toward Nanchang. Scenes not describable were enacted."

From Pengsteh, Eastern Kiangsi, came reports that Father Vonaix, French priest, had been murdered. Three thousand Reds, said Chinese press dispatches, overwhelmed the city in a surprise attack.

Thousands of terrified inhabitants paid large sums of money to shipowners to take them to Anking and Kiukiang for safety. Others were murdered by the Reds, who seized two steamers that failed to escape.

American Consul Lockhart at Hankow urged Nationalist government authorities to obtain the release of a Filipino nun, held captive by Communists at Kian.

Reports, however, stated the government was having difficulty in forcing the few Nationalist soldiers in Kiangsi to fight the Reds. Voicing the slogan, "soldiers don't fight soldiers," the Nationalist troops permitted looting and slaughter to go on.

G. B. SHAW TO BE HEARD OVER RADIO

Einstein Also Will Talk on Program Next Tuesday From London Hotel

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting company announced tonight that at 4:40 p.m. next Tuesday (1:40 p.m. Pacific time) it will present to the American people for the first time on any radio the voice of George Bernard Shaw. Albert Einstein will be heard on the same program.

Shaw's talk, which will last forty minutes, will be made at a dinner in the Savoy Hotel, London, of the Joint British Committee for Promotion of Physical and Economic Welfare of Eastery Jewry.

Hitherto the famous playwright has refused to address the American radio audience, just as staunchly as he has declined to visit these shores.

Football Player Dies of Injuries

CHESTER (Pa.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Stanley Pominak, 22 years of age, of this city, died today from injuries suffered in a football game here two weeks ago. During the game he was tackled and knocked unconscious. He recovered at the time, but several days later complained of pains in the neck. An X-ray examination disclosed several fractured vertebrae in his spine.

EMPTY FISHING BOAT INDICATES TRAGEDY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (AP)—An abandoned fishing smack, found off the Monterey coast today, apparently recorded another tragedy of the sea. The boat, registered to Rangvald Jakobson of San Francisco, was towed in by R. Sakino, fisherman. Jakobson is known to have lived aboard the craft.

Gas Kills Child and Her Mother

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 22. (AP)—The mother's arms clasped about the child, the bodies of Mrs. Ida Mullins and her 8-year-old daughter Alma were found in bed at their Fifth-street apartment today. Gas was pouring from an unlighted stove.

Faculty Must Jolt Themselves Out of Ruts Worn Deep by Their Predecessors, He Says

BERKELEY, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—The golden key, symbol of the presidency of the University of California during all the years that institution has been in existence, was conferred today on Robert Gordon Sproul at a dignified inauguration ceremony in the Greek Theater on the university campus.

Dr. Sproul, in accepting the key, told the 6000 students, alumni and distinguished educators assembled that "despite his more than twenty years of service with the university, he still felt as a freshman entering college and approached the job as that freshman confronted by his first examination."

PROCESSION ON CAMPUS

The ceremony began early under cloudless skies with the longest academic procession in the history of the university, which wound its way from the base of the towering Campanile through the groves of eucalyptus and redwood of the campus to the sylvan Greek Theater, which was filled to capacity.

In the procession, which was led by President Sproul and Gov. Young, were two former presidents of the university, 300 of the school's faculty and educators from all over the United States and 100 of the university's most distinguished alumni, including men who have assumed large stature in the affairs of California and the nation.

In the procession behind the Governor and president were former President David Prescott Barrows and President Emeritus William Wallace Campbell, whom Dr. Sproul succeeds. Into the theater they filed, in caps and gowns, many with the colorful caps and gowns of higher degrees, the educators to range themselves on the stage and the alumni ranging themselves in the pit before them.

ROWELL PRESENTS KEY

The ceremony was opened with an invocation by Dr. Stanley A. Hunter, Berkeley clergyman.

Chester Rowell, regent, presented Dr. Sproul with the symbol of office, which successive presidents of the university have carried since the university was founded.

There followed brief addresses of greeting from Dr. Howard L. McBain, dean of graduate faculties at Columbia University, New York, and president of the Association of American Universities; Max Thelen, '04, representing the 60,000 alumni; Miss Ruth Waldo, vice-president of the Associated Students of the Uni-

WHEN WIVES FORM UNION MEN DO TOO

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Domestic happiness in Copenhagen lately seems threatened by the energetic but possibly well meant activity of a newly formed union "for the defense of married women" which has conscientiously undertaken the job to spy upon married men and later inform the respective wives of the men's flirtations. The movement was formed subsequent to the recent suicide of the first lady of the royal ballet which was declared to have been due to matrimonial unhappiness.

In order to counteract this ladies' "Ku Klux Klan," Copenhagen married men, however, now have formed a counter-league with a view to unveiling the flirtations which young wives in Copenhagen may be enjoying while their spouses are pursuing their daily work.

The chairmen of the two committees in letters to the editor of the Extrabladet explain how their organizations crusade for marital harmony. Expert private detectives have been engaged to maintain a sharp, but discreet vigilance on the city's streets, about telephone booths, restaurants, cafes, bars, theaters and other places of amusement.

ABDOMINAL ACHES NOT SO SIMPLE

Old-Fashioned "Cure" of Castor Oil May Be Highly Dangerous

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 22. (AP)—Old-fashioned stomach aches have gone modern, abandoning their traditional role of a simple ailment with a simple cure, as research has shown them to be frequently highly complex, the International Medical Assembly was told today.

Instant recourse to that old standby, a spoonful of castor oil, is not only passe in the care of children, but may be often dangerous in view of the new picture of the significance of abdominal pains furnished by research, Dr. William D. Lower, director of the Clinic Foundation, Cleveland, told delegates.

Instead of a simple digestive disturbance, the aches may be the first warning of appendicitis, of kidney ailments, or hip diseases, as well as one of many other ailments which occur with less frequency, Dr. Lower said.

As a result, administration without further diagnosis, of what have been considered old reliable cures, instead of being of aid to the patient, offer possibilities of great harm, he said. In the case of a diseased appendix, the old cure may be particularly dangerous, its action being comparable to that of a submarine torpedo because of high sensitivity in the region.

Hoovers to Send Absentee Votes

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—President and Mrs. Hoover intend to take advantage of the California law which permits absent citizens to vote in elections by mail. It was stated at the White House today that their absentee ballots will go forward to the Hoover home precinct at Palo Alto early next week.

It may be taken for granted they will support the entire Republican State ticket.

Woman Flees Needle Attack

DES MOINES (Iowa) Oct. 22. (AP) A "needle attacker," who attempted to kidnap Mrs. R. J. Hassett, 22 years of age, after piercing her arm with a hypodermic needle was sought by police today.

Mrs. Hassett escaped and ran to her apartment a half-block away, locked the door against her attacker before the effects of the injection overcame her. Physicians were unable to determine what opiate the assailant used.

Search on for Wilmington Man

OAKLAND, Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Lodwick asked police aid today in the search for her husband, Norman Lodwick, 42 years of age, Wilmington business man.

Mrs. Lodwick told authorities her husband left her last night while she attended business sessions of the Eastern Star convention. He failed to meet her following the meeting.

POWER SOURCE LIMITLESS

Georges Claude Foresees Vast Possibilities in Development of Energy From Sea

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Georges Claude tonight predicted that Niagara Falls will be outdone as a power source by a future sea water plant which will be an improvement of his experiment at Matanzas, Cuba.

Niagara water falls less than 200 feet, but Claude told a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers he could produce power equivalent to water "falling in as unlimited measure as wanted in a cataract 300 feet high."

The scientist, who is on his way to France, gave the engineers technical figures of power produced in his small Cuban plant, which he said proved his theories.

At Matanzas he obtained 12.5 kilowatts of power from a difference of temperature of 10½ deg. centigrade between surface and deep water.

But, he said, this power jumped to 22 kilowatts with an increase of only 3½ deg. in the temperature difference. He explained that the efficiency of a sea water power plant grows as the square of the temperature differs.

"And," he said, "there is a difference of 24 deg. available most of the year in the region of Santiago de Cuba."

This temperature difference, he said, is not the only source of the additional power expected. It will come also from froning out mechanical imperfections which he described in the Cuban plant. He said his experiments showed that "in large plants of the future" it will be possible to obtain more than 500 kilowatts of power from every cubic meter of cold water passing per second through the works. Of this power four-fifths, he said, will be net, the other fifth being required for operation.

JEWS DEFY BRITAIN

Palestine Policy Rejected

National Council Votes to Abstain From Any Part in Legislative Group

English Proposal Declared to Doom Building Up of Real National Home

JERUSALEM, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Jewish National Council voted unanimously tonight to reject the British statement of policy for Palestine and decreed against participation in the proposed legislative council.

The British proposal, the council declared after an eight-hour session, is calculated "to end the building up of the Jewish national home."

Another resolution voted is for participation in the protest of Dr. Chaim Weizmann against what he charges is the British government's breach of promise to the Jews.

CHARGES MADE

While two revisionist members and M. M. Ushishkin, head of the Jewish National Fund, abstained from voting on the resolution not to participate in the legislative council, the revisionists concurred in the resolution rejecting the government's statement.

The Jewish Telegraphic Agency says the proclamation asserts the British government's declaration violates the historic pledge the British people assumed with regard to the Jews. The statement, the Jewish National Council charges, is "barren of constructive phases and vitiates the undertaking regarding the Jewish national home, which was given to the entire Jewish people and to the Jewish community of Palestine.

"The national home without immigration and land is a cruel jest and political hypocrisy," the statement continues. "The Jewish community in Palestine rejects the statement and hopes that the government does not express in this case the will of the British people.

HOPES EXPRESSED

"The right to constitute the Jewish national home was confirmed by the League of Nations and the United States and reaffirmed by all British governments since the Balfour declaration.

"The Jewish community in Palestine will not take any part in parliamentary institutions calculated to arrest the establishment of the Jewish national home. The prosperity and progress of the Arab population are more linked with Jewish immigration and colonization than with all the activities of the British administration.

"We consider co-operation with our Arab neighbors the most faithful guarantee for the continued prosperity of the peace of the country. We appeal to the English people and the entire civilized world to vindicate our rights, and we urge the Jewish people in all countries to stand fast."

The Arabs here have not yet taken a stand on the British report.

POLISH JEWS RIOT AT BRITISH EMBASSY

WARSAW, Oct. 22. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—Fifteen Jews were arrested here last night after 1000 or more Jews had organized an impromptu demonstration in front of the British Embassy. The crowd, which included many Zionist pioneers, marched to the Embassy shouting anti-British sentiments. The police quickly dispersed the demonstrators.

The Right Poale Zion, the Socialist Zionist party, today cabled a protest to the British Labor party against the British government's statement. All of the Zionist groups in the country have joined in issuing a call for an all-Poland conference tomorrow to discuss the situation.

SLUMP CURE GOAL SET

New Course Laid for Industries

"Scientific Insured Stability" Advocated by Speakers at Chicago Conclave

Chieftains in Leading Lines of Endeavor Join Fight to End Depression

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP) — Substitution of "scientific insured stability" for the teeter-totter of depression and prosperity was the goal set by speakers today before the seventh annual conference of major industries.

More than two score of America's chief railroad, industrial, educational, commercial and business leaders attended the meeting, held under the joint auspices of the University of Chicago and the Institute of American Meat Packers. The closing feature was the annual banquet, addressed by Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, and Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

WARNING SOUNDED

Every address sounded the warning that the present depression, with its accompanying problems of unemployment, curtailment of buying and loss-taking, must be accepted as a consequence of "a dilemma of inflation beginning with the World War and playing hide and seek with threatened reaction ever since."

George M. Verity, chairman of the American Rolling Mill Company, reviewing the current condition of the steel industry, said one of its great drawbacks is the "antiquated" anti-trust laws, which at one time were salutary, but today, when a monopoly is "an economic impossibility," are throttling progress.

The railroads, said W. B. Storey, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, have progressed to a certain extent under the Transportation Act of 1920, but will be unable to continue until necessary changes are made to meet the encroachments of the bus, the automobiles, pipe lines, inland waterways and Panama Canal.

FIRESTONE SPEAKS

Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., vice-president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, declared improvements in tires resulting from the application of scientific methods have made necessary a change of merchandising typical of almost every other line of business. He cited the reduction in the number of tire dealers from 100,000 two years ago to 75,000 at present and the addition of various side lines to compensate for dealers' losses of profits.

State regulation of utilities during their period of growth was lauded by M. S. Sloan, president of the New York Edison Company, but he warned against "seekers of the millennium" who would try out government ownership or would "keep piling legislative restrictions" upon them. He said he does not believe the public "feels itself in the grip of a monster" so far as utilities are concerned, but that "offensive regulation" urged "by fanatics" for almost every basic industry can do much to retard the normal growth of commerce and industry.

OIL SITUATION

The conservation methods to which the petroleum industry "is now reconciling itself," said R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Company, will do much toward "relieving the emergencies and forestalling the waste" which have been its major problem.

Merchandising, which has not kept the progressive pace of other branches of business, must devote the future to adjusting itself, realizing conditions and meeting them squarely, said Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co. "The department store, the mail-order house and the chain store are the only progressive contributions merchandising has made to modern methods," he added.

ROAD TRIP WORTH MILLIONS

Mexican Delegates Learn How to Avoid Waste in Building International Highway

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Millions of dollars will be saved in the construction of the International Pacific Highway as the result of the road inspection tour from which Gov. Gomes and the Mexican delegates returned yesterday. Officials of the Automobile Club gave the Mexican officials a candid view of the appalling mistakes that California has made in her road-building program.

During the course of a four-day trip, roads costing more than $22,000,000 were traversed. The Mexican delegates were shown that the same roads—or roads of equal value—could have been finished for less than $10,000,000. More than half the money spent on California roads has been airily tossed away.

This was partly due to stupidity of the first engineers, who were eastern office men who didn't know a desert from an ink well. Partly it was due to the propaganda of strong paving interests.

Not only was the paving ineffective and unreliable, but the routes chosen were so absurd that California now is virtually making all her roads over again.

Late yesterday afternoon the delegates went over the Old Trails Highway from San Bernardino to Barstow. Much of the original road has been entirely rerouted to get better grades. The section of cement roadway from the summit of Cajon Pass to Victorville was constructed at a cost of about $27,000 a mile. It is so full of bumps that

NEW VICE RING IN SPOTLIGHT

New York City Graft Inquiry Uncovers Rich Racket

Indiscreet Women Principal Prey of Organization

Revenue From Victims Runs to $5,000,000 Yearly

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (Exclusive) A vice ring so powerful that it does not need or permit the aid of corrupt magistrates, and so well organized that it card-indexes its woman victims and collects $5,000,000 a year, has been uncovered by investigators sifting the by-products of this city's municipal graft, it was learned today. The ring, according to information being investigated by Isidor J. Kresel, who has charge of the Appellate Division's inquiry into the magistrate's courts, consists of stool pigeons, some members of the police department, certain court attaches, lawyers and bail bondsmen.

PREY OF ORGANIZATION

The ring preys on indiscreet women, some of the victims being of prominence, it is charged. Married women, show girls, night club hostesses—any woman with money or jewels, or, lacking either, having beauty—are likely under certain circumstances to find themselves "framed" on charges of immorality.

The disclosures concerning the vice ring came at about the same time that a Special Sessions court was reversing the conviction of Mrs. Emma Hammerstein on a charge of vagrancy or immoral conduct last June before Magistrate Smith. Mrs. Hammerstein had been found guilty of improper conduct on the testimony of a policeman. The widow of the impresario had insisted all along that the charges against her were framed. Her case had been under investigation for several month.

OPERATION METHOD

The vice racket, as it was explained to investigators, works like this:

One of the ring invites a woman to an apartment or hotel room. A little later the vice squad arrives. The woman is arrested. The man in the case vanishes. The bail bond company is called. Then a lawyer appears. Finally the case is quashed with the aid of court attaches. Then comes the shakedown. In one instance, it was revealed, a woman paid out $1500 to the ring. If the woman has no money she is permitted to put up her jewels.

As a result of evidence obtained by the investigators, it is learned, subpoenas have been sent out to a score of women who have been victims.

versity of California, spokesmen of the undergraduates; Dr. Frederick T. Blanchard, from the faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles, representing the academic senate, and Dean Charles Derlenth, Jr., of the college of engineering, speaking for the instructors who taught Dr. Sproul twenty years ago.

CHANGE SOUGHT

Dr. Sproul, in his address of acceptance, said:

"The faculty of this university must jolt themselves out of the ruts worn deep by their predecessors. If they do this we can, in less than twenty years, change the whole scheme of education at this university."

This was the keynote of Dr. Sproul's address—the departure from the old methods and the trying out of the newer education. He said he would use every means in his power to bring about larger salaries for faculty members and new funds to attract men of high caliber to the institution.

DEGREES CONFERRED

After his address the new president conferred four doctor of laws honorary degrees on the following:

Charles Derlenth, Jr., dean of the college of engineering of the University of California.

Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon.

Albert Russell Mann, dean of the New York College of Agriculture and the New York State College of Economics.

HIGHWAY TOUR RETURNS LARGE

the bus carrying the delegates had to go at half speed. The contiguous section of oiled road from Victorville to Barstow cost less than $10,000 per mile and is a better road in every particular.

During the four-day trip the delegates were shown every possible variety of highway in all stages of construction—cement roads being laid; cement roads being torn up; oil roads at every stage from the first preparation of oiling to old roads that have lived out their time and are being torn up.

These Mexican engineers have found out in four days what California learned in sixteen years' bitter and expensive experience.

Yesterday morning, they were driven from Barstow to Daggett, where a small section of oil-mixed road was torn up and replaced for their benefit, the lesson being that when it becomes necessary to increase the strength and thickness of an oiled road, this work can be done without losing the original materials.

Gov. Gomez stated that this trip has been worth eighty years of theoretic study in road - making from books.

The delegation returned to Los Angeles tonight. There will be a Chamber of Commerce luncheon on Friday. Most of the delegates will return to Mexico Sunday.

Stand on Rail Sale Explained

DALLAS (Tex.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Daniel Upthegrove, president of the St. Louis-Southwestern Railroad, today told an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner why he favors the sale of the controlling interest in his road to the Southern Pacific.

The witness said for several years the St. Louis-Southwestern has recognized the need of an affiliation with a larger and stronger system. He expressed an opinion that the Southern Pacific is the system of which the Cotton Belt should become a part because it is the only system not a competitor.

SAN DIEGAN LOW ON ROAD CONTRACT

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22. (AP)—The State Department of Public Works today announced R. E. Hazard, San Diego, as low bidder for grading and paving 13.1 miles of the inland route or San Bernardino-El Centro highway between Arroyo Salada wash and the northerly boundary of Imperial county. Hazard bid $489,125. The road is to be graded thirty-six feet wide and paved twenty feet wide with asphalt concrete.

REALTY SESSION ASKS HARMONY

State Convention Opened at Santa Cruz

Great Progress Forecast for West Coast

Lifting Tax Burden Main Topic of Meeting

BY JAMES L. DAVIS
"Times" Real-Estate Editor

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Pleas for harmony among western States and communities in developing to the fullest extent their natural resources and predictions of great industrial and agricultural progress for these States formed the keynote of an address by W. H. Daum, president, in opening today's general sessions of the California Real Estate Association's convention here.

"Industry begets industry and I predict," declared President Daum, "that the great industrial development taking place along the Pacific Coast will find a use for minerals and metals yet undiscovered and unthought-of that will amount to a greater sum in value in twenty-five to fifty years from now than all of the combined value of the mineral products of this great territory today."

Approximately 500 brokers were in attendance at the convention's opening session and approximately 300 of these were from Southern California counties.

TAX RELIEF PROBLEM

The chief business facing the convention is a discussion of, and probable action on, two programs of taxation relief, one for a reduction in the amount of general taxation now borne by real estate, and another for improved plans for the levying of special assessments so that in the future they will not be found burdensome to property owners. Definite action placing the State association on record as regards its tax program will be taken Friday in the form of resolutions. Present plans are for these to be followed up and legislation submitted to remedy situations when the California Legislature meets in January.

"We must place some limitation on the extent to which real estate can be taxed in order to make the ownership of real estate more desirable," asserted D. D. Watson, Brentwood. "During the next ten years thousands of people are coming to California and real estate must be relieved of a portion of its tax burden and this can best be accomplished by enrolling a large property owner body in affiliation with the realtors, locally, State-wide and nation-wide," he concluded.

PROGRAM OUTLINED

In outlining the program for tax relief, Hayden F. Jones of Fresno told the convention:

"We believe in placing a limitation on the amount of taxes to be levied against property which would prohibit the taxing of real property in any one year for more than 25 per cent of the cost of government. To find additional revenue from sources not already taxed, we consider that a luxury consumers' tax is possible without creating an unfair burden on anyone."

In tracing the development of the West, President Daum said: "Boulder Dam will add to the value of every activity of California and her neighbors and to the protection and permanence of all that preceded it. Great effort should be put forth upon the part of the real estate associations of the western States to work in a harmonious manner."

MESSAGE BROUGHT

A breakfast meeting of the appraisal section of the convention was presided over by Frank J. Buckley, Los Angeles, and Peter Hanson, Glendale. Loring O. McCormick, Los Angeles broker and appraiser, spoke.

At today's session of the convention G. D. Robertson brought brokers the message of the national association. John Garland of Los Angeles told of the Olympic Games to be conducted there in 1932 and traced their benefits to the community.

California's market value was placed at $15,000,000,000 and its economic value at $25,000,000,000 by George L. Schmutz, Los Angeles broker, in his address on "Appraising the State of California."

A. H. Voelker, Glendale, urged realty brokers to concentrate on exchanges and to so specialize on a small number of them that they would be able to give their clients the maximum of service. Frank J. Buckley, Los Angeles, declared that this convention was one of business and that specialists in various realty lines were offering to brokers their experience gained through years of effort.

WALTON QUITS SENATE RACE

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Oct. 22. (AP)—J. C. Walton, ousted former Governor of Oklahoma, announced his withdrawal today as an independent candidate for the United States Senate.

FAMOUS SOPRANO IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Mme. Galli-Curci

SONGBIRD SHAKEN UP IN CRASH

Mme. Galli-Curci Bruised and Shocked When Auto Overturns in Ditch

BIRMINGHAM (Eng.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci was badly bruised and suffered a severe shaking up near here tonight when an automobile bearing, among others, the famous soprano and her husband, Homer Samuels, overturned. Their chauffeur swerved to avoid a collision with another car and lost control.

The singer's car barely scraped past, but overshot the road and somersaulted into a ditch. While every member of the party was badly shaken up, none was seriously injured. A passing car picked up the party and brought them back to Birmingham.

Galli-Curci made light of the incident and announced she will carry out her program here tomorrow night and all subsequent engagements.

SOURCE OF ANTI-NORRIS FUNDS TOLD

Banker Says Official of Power Company Paid for Nebraska Straw Vote

OMAHA, Oct. 22. (AP) — Walter Head, Chicago and Omaha bank executive and chairman of the board of the Nebraska Power Company, contributed a $4000 fund to finance a straw vote for the purpose of ascertaining strength of possible opponents for Senator Norris, it was testified today at the campaign funds hearing before Senator Nye.

The witness, Victor B. Smith, Omaha banker, said the poll was to determine particularly the "availability" of former Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie and Gov. Arthur J. Weaver as candidates against Norris in the Republican primary.

Senator Nye, who conducted a one-man hearing today, after taking Smith's testimony, said:

"The evidence so far discloses the opposition to Senator Norris has been substantially placed on the power trust, through Mr. Head's connection as chairman of the board of the Nebraska Power Company."

At the same time, Head in Chicago, said his donation was merely for the purpose of ascertaining political sentiment in the State and not to find a rival for Norris.

He indignantly denied Senator Nye's observation and expressed a desire to appear before the committee and testify.

Senator Nye, however, left Omaha late today for Lincoln, where he will conduct a hearing tomorrow.

Mr. Head, over long-distance telephone, told local newspapers he had supported Senator Norris in 1924 and would support the entire Nebraska Republican ticket this year.

Senator Watson Must Keep Quiet

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 22. (AP)—United States Senator James E. Watson today decided to accept the advice of physicians that he refrain from too active participation in the present political campaign because of the weakened condition of his heart.

COSTE REPORTED MARRIED

French Flyer Said to Have Wed American Society Girl, Revealing Paris Love Tangle

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—The New York Daily News says:

"Reports that Dieudonne Coste, French trans-Atlantic ace, has taken back with him to Paris an American society debutante as his bride coursed through New York today.

"No direct verification of the report could be made as the flyer, with his fellow ocean-hopper, Maurice Bellonte, is now aboard the liner France, due to land in Havre tomorrow.

"In Paris, is was learned, officials preparing for the great national welcome home for the air heroes are figuratively tearing their hair, trying to decide how the situation should be handled.

"The American bride, according to what could be garnered, is a Park-avenue debutante. How, or when, or where, the ace managed to get enough privacy from the praising throngs to do his wooing and winning is another question that is thus far unanswered."

SENSATION CREATED IN PARIS BY REPORT

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times]

PARIS, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—A report from New York that Airman Dieudonne Coste, French trans-Atlantic flyer, had married an American and was arriving in France Friday with the bride has been received here with great astonishment.

Only Coste's most intimate friends have been aware that the lady whom he has for the past two years presented to the world as Mary Coste wasn't his wife, their marriage having been postponed by legal complications.

Yesterday "Mme. Coste" received from the airman on board the liner France the following radio message:

"Will be so happy to embrace you at Le Bourget. Tenderly yours, Dieudonne."

QUEEN VICTORIA TELLS OF TIMES

Letters of Late Empress in Print at Last

Deep Distrust of Wilhelm II Justified by Events

sor nor did she enjoy having to make him a British admiral. She said in the journal that she was "extremely dissatisfied throughout."

Wilhelm, however, felt transports of joy. He wrote to his grandmother:

"I am deeply grateful for the intention of Her Majesty to make me a British admiral. Fancy wearing the uniform of St. Vincent and Nelson. It is enough to make one quite giddy. I feel something like Macbeth must have felt when he was suddenly received by the witches with a cry of 'All hail who are Thane of Glamis and Cawdor, too!'"

DISTRUST TO LAST

The Queen never lived down her distrust of her talented grandson. She had no better opinion of Prince Ferdinand of Coburg when he was chosen to be Prince of Bulgaria.

"He is totally unfit—delicate, eccentric and effeminate," she wrote. "He should be stopped at once. It is important that it should be known that I and my family have nothing to do with the absurd pretension of this foolish young cousin of mine."

How the Queen tried to avoid summoning Gladstone to form a cabinet in 1885 is revealed in the first chapters of the letters. She disliked Gladstone and carried her dislike beyond the bounds of constitutional propriety. The letters disclose she even tried to consult Opposition leaders—Lord Salisbury and Edward Goschen—both of whom declined to be consulted, but advised her to summon Gladstone.

"Gladstone will ruin the country if he can," the Queen wrote in her journal, "and how much mischief has he not done already!"

Even when Gladstone's Cabinet was formed and the Home Rule crisis broke she held herself free to consult with Lord Salisbury, the leader of the Opposition, on the best means of producing a coalition for Gladstone's overthrow.

The letters take the Queen into her old age, but show she was vigorous enough to dance the quadrille at the age of 71 years. This was her description of it:

"After dinner in the drawing-room we pushed the furniture back and had a nice little impromptu dance, the Curtiss Band being so entertaining. We had a quadrille in which I danced with Eddy (Duke Clarence.) I did quite well. Then followed some polkas and waltzes."

MELANCHOLY HONOR

Of all the human documents in the book none gives a better picture of the Queen than her description of the dazzling scene in Westminster Abbey when her world-wide empire was celebrating her fifty years of reign.

"I sat alone (oh, without my beloved husband for whom this would have been such a proud day) where I sat forty-nine years ago and received the homage of princes and peers. My robes were beautifully draped on the chair. The service was well done and arranged. The Te Deum by my darling Albert sounded beautiful and the anthem by Dr. Bridge was fine, especially the way in which the national anthem and dear Albert's chorale were worked in."

Thus more than a quarter of a century after Albert's death and at the summit of her life Victoria's thoughts were still with her consort.

Five Doctors Lose Licenses

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22. (AP)—The licenses of five California doctors were revoked by the State Board of Medical Examiners here today, the second day's session of that body.

The following physicians had their licenses unconditionally revoked after hearings: Dr. Newton B. Siler, Los Angeles, violation of probation; Dr. Archibald Atkinson, Sacramento, violation of probation; Dr. James T. Brown, Los Angeles, violation of probation; Dr. Samuel D. Cottrell, Los Angeles, conviction on two counts charging violation of the State Narcotic Act; Dr. Walter Hoyt Gridley, upon conviction of habitual intemperance.

BRIAND REPORTED AS MUCH IMPROVED

PARIS, Oct. 22. (AP)—Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, who has been suffering from an illness recently diagnosed as pulmonary congestion, was reported much improved today. Although the Minister has not left his room he had as much work before him today as if he had resumed his duties.

CRIMINALS ESCAPE LOUISIANA COLONY

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22. (AP)—Three New Orleans bandits serving long terms at the Angola State penal farm, near here, administered a sleeping potion to a guard and a patient in the prison hospital last night and escaped, authorities admitted today.

COL. B. H. CHEEVER DIES

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Col. Benjamin Harrison Cheever, U.S.A., retired, who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in the Indian Wars, is dead at his home here. He was 80 years of age.

AFFIDAVITS ON BILLINGS TO BE FILED

Three Documents Will Be Given to Supreme Court Today in Pardon Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Three more affidavits in the Billings pardon application will be filed with the State Supreme Court tomorrow, it was announced today by Fred L. Berry, attorney for the court. Berry said he cannot give the contents, but they will strike heavily at defense contentions in connection with the 1916 Preparedness Day parade explosion.

They have been prepared, he said, by Charles M. Fickert, District Attorney when the Mooney-Billings cases were prosecuted; C. A. Myers, a photographer of this city, and O. R. Reans of Seattle. The latter is a druggist who talked to John MacDonald after the explosion. The affidavit of Myers is understood to bear on the Ellers Building photographs, which show Thomas J. Mooney and Rena Mooney, his wife, on the roof of a building while the parade was passing.

There are one or two additional affidavits to be prepared, Berry said, and they will be completed as quickly as possible, so the case can be taken under submission in its entirety by the justices.

BAN PLACED ON BRAZILIAN ARMS

the embargo was contained in a note dated today and delivered by Ambassador Do Amaral of Brazil to Secretary Stimson.

Closely following the issuance of the embargo proclamation at the State Department, the Navy Department announced it has again granted private airplane manufacturers the right to deliver to the Brazilian government airplanes for which the Navy had contracted. The Navy's latest accession was to the request of the Glenn L. Martin Company of Baltimore to release to the Brazilian government three patrol planes being completed for the Navy. Twelve other planes have been released to Brazil on permission of the Navy by the Curtiss-Wright Company.

The President's proclamation was in line with Secretary Stimson's pronouncement of policy last week the American government would allow the shipment of arms and munitions to the Brazilian government.

FEDERALS PLAN NEW OFFENSIVE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 22. (AP)—With the Brazilian Federal battle lines declared to be holding in the hotly contested Sao Paulo-Parana sector, the government today announced a new offensive is being planned against the rebels in Southern Minas Geraes.

The rebels are struggling to cut off all railway communications between here and Sao Paulo. There have been engagements in the last two days at Cruzeiro and Passa Quatro.

REBELS CLAIM STEADY ADVANCE

CURITYBA (Parana, Brazil) Oct. 22. (AP)—Steady advances on all fronts, especially in the Sao Paulo-Parana sector and in the region of the railway connecting the two Federal strongholds—Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo—were claimed today at Brazilian revolutionary headquarters.

Woman Arrested as Boy Scalder

BLUEFIELD (W. Va.) Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—The prayers of an 8-year-old boy, dying in agony from immersion in scalding water—"O, God, forgive Minnie for burning me"—led authorities of this town to arrest and charge with murder, the lad's stepmother, Mrs. Minnie Stull.

Following a hearing yesterday in which the woman was held without bail for the grand jury and lodged in the Princeton (W. Va.) Jail, extreme precautions were taken to prevent mob violence. The community's ire is at fever pitch over the unnatural crime which the woman insists was an accident.

Signal Corps to Use Talkies

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—The Signal Corps of the Army has adopted sound pictures for use in training and instruction of officers and enlisted men in various branches of the service, it was announced today by Capt. Alonzo Fox, in charge of the army picture service.

He believes the new type films will reduce the period of training and thus mean an ultimate financial saving.

Boston Hotels Uphold Legion

BOSTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The city of Boston Hotel Association today gave the American Legion a clean bill.

The hotel men said the total property damage in twenty-five of the leading hotels which housed and fed nearly 50,000 persons during the Legion convention amounted to less than $500 and they "would not hesitate for a moment recommending any city in the country inviting the Legion convention."

MEANEST MULE IN ARMY DIES OF PURE CUSSEDNESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Jersey Lightin', the orneriest mule anywhere and the only white mule in the United States Army, has departed this world.

She was so mean that she deliberately broke her own neck when in the stocks at Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook, after having been shod yesterday. Old campaigners who swore that no man had ever seen a dead white mule were thrown into sorry confusion.

Jersey Lightin' achieved notoriety recently when her miserable life was saved by Col. J. C. Johnson, commanding the post. The order had gone out to have the old tartar shot, and wondering soldiers led her out before a firing squad. The commandant came up and stopped this, pointing out a typographical error had slipped into the order and that he had merely issued instructions to have her "shod." It was agreed further that nothing less than a coast defense gun could have exterminated Lightin' anyway.

Around the post today they were sure her death was a case of suicide, superinduced by a streak of meanness broader than a top sergeant's vocabulary. Lightin' had been brooding ever since last week when she saw them dynamiting the Fort Victoria, a derelict sunk off Sandy Hook. Ever since that charge let loose she had sunk into a fit of jealousy and depression. It was the certain cause of her self-destruction today, men of the fort are convinced. As a final touch of cussedness it was noted that Lightin' waited until after a complete new set of shoes had been nailed tight to her hoofs before she ended her life.

RUINS OF AZTEC CITY REVEALED

Sacrificial Stones Found on Nicaraguan Island

Huge Indian Idol Believed Four Centuries Old

United States Engineers For Canal Make Discovery

GRANADA (Nicaragua) Oct. 22. High up on the side of Zapatera Island, surrounded by the blue waters of Lake Nicaragua, United States army engineers surveying a new canal route have discovered what they believe to be Aztec ruins.

Much of the relic city is in tumbled condition, but there still stand, preserved through four centuries, large human sacrificial stones and at their foot a giant Indian idol with a carven man's body and the head of a grotesque vengeful animal.

Immediately behind the large idol there is a tomb made of flat stones from which the binding cement long since has dropped away. Vines and undergrowth have conquered the spot and the tomb has settled to a mound of earth and stone five or six feet high, twenty feet wide, and 100 feet long.

On the four sides of the tomb, which is believed to contain remains of the humans sacrificed, including hapless Spaniards who came into the Indians' midst, lay broken and headless idols where they have fallen through the centuries that have passed since the Aztecs ceased to be a nation.

BEST ONES SACRIFICED

If this tribe was like other Aztec tribes, particularly those who lived about Anahuac, or the present site of Mexico City, to die by sacrifice was considered an honor reserved frequently for highest type young men, who prior to their death were feted with the nation's best food and had the prettiest girls for companions.

At one place in the ruins there was the entrance to a tunnel which the explorers judged to be the nation's treasury, built to hide their gold from encroaching tribes and, afterward, the Spaniards. The tunnel led down to the water's edge where it terminated in what is now a large circular cavity, in the center of which is a cone of fallen earth rising to within a few feet of the surface of the hill side.

NEW AIRLINE PLANNED SOON OUT OF BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (AP)—E. J. Spaulding, airport committee chairman, said today a new airline operating from here to the central section of the State will be started soon. Until negotiations have been completed details will be withheld. Spaulding said a large eastern airplane distributing company will establish an airport branch.

JOBLESS RELIEF LEADER ON JOB

Col. Woods and Hoover Map Immediate Aid

Task Called "Race Against Human Misery"

Director Says Government "Must and Will Win"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The renewed efforts of the government to aid the nation's unemployed took more definite form tonight as President Hoover and the man he has named to direct the activities—Col. Arthur Woods of New York—conferred at the White House.

Col. Woods arrived late in the day and went directly to the executive mansion where the President awaited him in his office. Later he called upon Secretary Lamont at the latter's home.

Describing the situation as a "race against human misery," the new administrator said the government "must and will win."

He asserted that the problem will be met with all the information and vigor that can be summoned and that he and the President's Cabinet committee of seven will try to take immediately the steps needed to meet the situation.

SERVES WITHOUT PAY

He had accepted the post, in which he will serve without pay, only yesterday and declined to discuss particulars of the organization to be set up until he confers with associates tomorrow.

An organization similar to that which he directed in 1921 at the instance of President Harding is to be established, Col. Woods indicated, with changes to meet new conditions.

He said most of the work of the government probably will lie in the co-ordination of local activities, and that the plans will be adapted to the varying needs of different sections of the country. The organizations already set up throughout the country have made the task easier, he said.

EXPERTS GATHER

While the Cabinet committee awaited the coming of Col. Woods to press the relief operations, Secretary Davis at the Labor Department greeted a group gathering to assist in the statistical study of employment and economic matters which the government conducts.

He warned them they will be asked to lay down some method of determining to what degree the displacing of human labor by advanced machine designs or improved process had contributed to unemployment.

Only a detailed study as compared with an enumeration will furnish a sufficiently good picture of this contribution to the total of the jobless, it was suggested, and help was asked in the application of methods to aid the government in gathering data.

NEW YORK COMMITTEE PRAISED BY PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—A telegram from President Hoover today characterized the work of the emergency employment committee in New York city as "a real step toward our common objective, which is to assist in every way we can to bring back a sound revival of business."

The message was addressed to Seward Prosser, chairman of the committee, which seeks to raise $150,000 a week to provide emergency employment for heads of families in Manhattan and the Bronx.

"The common obligation is to find work for the needy and to care for the destitute," the President's message said. "The interdependence of all men and women, particularly in times of depression, must be evident to every clear-thinking citizen."

"HIRE-A-WORKER WEEK" SUGGESTED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—A group of business men suggested to the Governor's Unemployment Committee today the establishment of a "hire-a-worker week" in which every employer of labor be pledged to put at least one additional man on his pay roll.

STORE STAFF TO GIVE DAY'S PAY EACH MONTH

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Employees of the Fair, large Loop department-store, today agreed to give one day's salary each month between November and April to aid the jobless.

Two railroads—the Pennsylvania and the Santa Fe systems—also added their aid today, agreeing to spend a total of $7,160,000 on track elevation within the city.

In a message to the City Council Mayor Thompson said employment relief work should follow his example of "putting in 99 per cent of the time in trying to create jobs and 1 per cent for soup houses and charity."

The Mayor outlined two methods of relief for Chicago—approval of pending bond issues which would provide thousands with work and repeal of the prohibition laws.

Prohibition, the Mayor said, has thrown 2,000,000 persons out of work.

Gov. Emmerson's State-wide relief committee will swing into action tomorrow with an organization meeting.

Swing Declares Arizona's Dam Attack Faulty

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Doubt that the Supreme Court suit filed by Arizona to enjoin construction of Boulder Dam "states a cause of action for an injunction against the United States or any of the defendant States" was expressed in a statement today by Representative Swing, Republican, California.

Swing said in the statement, issued after a call at the Justice Department, he is gratified "over the way the department is proceeding with preparation of the case on behalf of the Federal government." He added he is confident "the matter will be ably handled."

ROCKET PLANES ROAR NEARER

German Expert Predicts Speed of 3000 to 5000 Miles An Hour by 1942

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Herr Fritz Von Opel, German rocketcraft expert, predicted today the airplane of twelve years hence will be a rocket - propelled conveyance that will fly twenty-five miles above the earth at a speed of 3000 to 5000 miles an hour. Herr Opel and his wife sailed for Honolulu for a holiday.

"I know it sounds ridiculous to talk of traveling 5000 or even 3000 miles an hour," said Von Opel, "but in a few years that speed will be commonplace. Theoretically my experimental planes will do that now but they have not been developed on a practical basis."

Birth Death Curb Sought

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. (AP)—A challenge to all hospitals and communities to curb the maternity death rate was issued today in an address by Mrs. Jessie J. Turnbull of the Elizabeth Steel Magee Hospital of Pittsburgh before the American Hospital Association's convention here.

Mrs. Turnbull offered statistics tending to show that for every 10,000 living children sixty-five mothers give up their lives.

TONNAGE GOAL SET FOR NAVY

Parity With Great Britain by 1942 Proposed

Board Completes Program for Adams's Guidance

Battleship Replacement to Start in 1937

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—Tonnage parity with Great Britain at least by 1942 is the goal set by the Navy General Board in its revised naval construction program just completed for the guidance of Secretary of the Navy Adams.

As it now stands, the board's program calls for beginning battleship replacements in 1937, adoption of an orderly destroyer and submarine replacement program, expedition of eight-inch gun cruiser and aircraft carrier construction until the treaty limits are reached and somewhat delayed construction of the new six-inch gun cruisers.

While details of the board's recommendations are secret pending consideration of the projected program by Secretary Adams and his advisers, it was learned today that the general board has prepared what may be termed a ten-year program, completion of which would be scattered over a period of thirteen and possibly fourteen years.

As understood here, the board recommends authorization of sufficient ships to begin this program at once without urging that the full program be adopted at this time.

FOUR CONVENIENT AUTO PARKS IN OUR BLOCK

It will pay you to read these statements from people who weren't paid to write them

...but who bought Studebaker Eights with

(MANUFACTURED UNDER STUDEBAKER PATENTS)

"I have driven practically every car manufactured and I received the greatest thrill I have ever had when I first drove the new Studebaker and what's more, the thrill is still there. It is my opinion that you have the greatest automobile value on the market. Other manufacturers will certainly have to adopt many of your features, including Free Wheeling, if they expect to compete with you."
L. DEMERATH, Chicago, Ill.

"So far ahead and so revolutionary that there can be no comparison."
LOUIS T. FRICKE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Results are far beyond my expectations. Free Wheeling is more than is claimed for it. In fact the Free Wheeling car is easier to control in traffic, than the conventional shift car; producing greater speed and less strain on the engine, rear axle and chassis. One learns instinctively and with ease how to use the momentum of the car to the best advantage."
JOHN B. CLERMONT, Yonkers, N. Y.

"There is a restfulness in Free Wheeling not experienced when the engine is turning over at car speed."
WILLIAM H. MOORE, Capt., Q. M. C., U. S. Army, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"This Free Wheeling Studebaker is the easiest car to handle regardless of where it happens to be—in traffic or highway travel. I drive at least 25,000 miles every year and buy a new car every year. But I sure think I will hold this one for awhile and try and join the Hundred Thousand Mile Club."
HAROLD F. STORMHAFER, Detroit, Mich.

"To me it is the only worthwhile forward step in car mechanics for a decade or more. It is an entirely new thrill in motoring, as well as an unquestionable economy. I don't see how other car manufacturers can avoid using the Free Wheeling feature."
HARRY G. WEDLER, St. Louis, Mo.

"Free Wheeling puts Studebaker in the lead, in a class by itself."
E. V. DICK, Doylestown, Pa.

"I have been the owner of approximately 20 automobiles since 1910 and I have never yet had a car which I thought so much of as my new Free Wheeling President."
J. A. GARDINER, Buffalo, N. Y.

PHONE or call on any Studebaker dealer and he will put you behind the wheel of a seasoned eight with Free Wheeling. Then you will know for yourself why these purchasers (and hundreds of others) have written so enthusiastically about their cars.

Studebaker has conquered momentum and put it under control! If you pay more than a thousand dollars for an automobile, you can't afford to buy one without Free Wheeling. For Free Wheeling owns the future!

AND ASSOCIATE DEALERS

Sunday Evening, Studebaker Champions, 7:15 p.m. to 7:45 P. M. Station KFI and N.B.C. Network

"If I actually told you how enthusiastic all of us are about it, I'm sure you wouldn't believe it possible. At present we have 3 cars and all of us—including my chauffeur who has driven all kinds of cars for the past 20 years—are actually crazy about the President. Now don't get all swelled up and raise your prices, as I'll want another one soon."
E. G. BITNER, Mt. Vernon, New York

"Free Wheeling demonstration without a salesman sold the car when I had absolutely no intention of buying. Free Wheeling can't be described in connection with other cars I have driven nor is there any comparison. Am 1000% Studebaker Free Wheeler."
J. G. RUPLE, Los Angeles, Calif.

"I purchased my Free Wheeling President on account of its ease of handling, its riding qualities and, being an engineer, because it impressed me as being a well engineered job."
EDWARD HERTMAN, Detroit, Mich.

"Free Wheeling is the best thing that has been put on the automobile lately, and believe they will all take it on, just as quick as they can."
BEN M. BOLTON, Griffin, Ga.

"I will never go back to the old style of wheeling."
REV. FELIX J. O'NEILL, Stafford Springs, Conn.

"The greatest car ever manufactured. Nothing passes me on the highway except an aeroplane."
JAMES ROY WINGATE, North Platte, Nebr.

"I am more than pleased. The Free Wheeling Commander is infinitely better—noticeably less tiring on extra long drives of several hundred miles. It seems to be an event now to buy gas."
H. W. MOWERY, Mahwah, N. J.

"It's entirely a new thrill in motoring."
W. J. MATTHEWS, Newburgh, New York

"Free Wheeling feature is very efficient in making driving in traffic as effortless as on the open highway."
H. SHAELER DOW, Chicago, Ill.

"Free Wheeling is one of the greatest achievements in the auto industry. Quicker pick-up, make more miles per hour with less gas without any exertion on the part of the driver."
ALGER SWEIGERT, Shillington, Pa.

"Your advertising claims for Free Wheeling are too modest. Compared with other cars, I would not exchange mine for any car on the market of any price, whatever, if it did not have Free Wheeling."
REV. R. F. HODNETT, Winter Garden, Fla.

"Quite a number of people have driven my car and after understanding the principle of Free Wheeling, they are very enthusiastic, especially the women folks who after driving have proclaimed it the greatest boon for women drivers and did not think it was possible that a car could be built which was so easy for a woman to handle."
C. A. STEVENS, Carrollton, Ohio

"Free Wheeling is the greatest thing put on a car since the self-starter."
HOWARD C. COOLEY, So. Somerset, Mass.

"Would not consider a return to conventional gear shift."
THOS. J. PARTAIN, Knoxville, Tenn.

"Free Wheeling is the greatest improvement since four-wheel brakes. A wonderful car. Have driven cars since October, 1899. Had second car in this State."
A. N. CLARK, M. D., So. Norwalk, Conn.

"I consider Free Wheeling the greatest motor improvement since self-starters were installed. My pleasure is unbounded for I have had more satisfaction from my new President Eight State Sedan than from any or all cars previously owned."
HARRY L. STONE, Clifton, N. J.

"Free Wheeling is the best motor car improvement since the electric starter. Was less tired after driving all day than ever before."
NELLSON N. TRACY, University City, Mo.

"My Free Wheeling Commander is wonderful—just glides along."
MRS. ANNE E. FRANK, Baltimore, Md.

"There isn't any car, no matter what price, that I would rather own than the one I have."
W. T. McLAUGHLIN, Easley, Ala.

"Free Wheeling takes Studebaker drivers out of the field of accustomed automobiling into the realm of flying. We have many of the thrills of flying without the hazards."
CARROLL F. GRAFF, Duluth, Minn.

SYDNEY CHEERS CUPID AND PILOT

Kingsford-Smith Returns to His Pretty Fiancee

Record-Breaking Trip From England Completed

Flyer Stresses Significance of Long Flight

SYDNEY (N.S.W.) Oct. 22. (AP)—After an eight months' absence, during which he flew nearly around the world and back again, Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith today returned to his fiancee, Miss Mary Powell, whom he will marry late next month.

The pretty girl, modishly clad in black and white, left her sick bed to greet him at Mascot Airdrome as he arrived here, escorted by eighteen planes, completing a record-breaking flight which has brought Sydney to within less than thirteen days of England.

She waved as he circled the field once or twice and landed, but it was not until he taxied his little single-engined machine across the field toward the official dais that he saw her and waved kisses at her.

When he stopped his plane and throttled its motor she ran out to meet him, and she took his hand as he stepped from the cockpit. They embraced and talked smilingly and happily as they walked toward the cheering crowd of 6000 or more.

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

She led him to his parents and the official reception committee and stood by him as they bade him welcome and he spoke into a ready microphone. Afterward she rode with him in a triumphal procession through the streets of Sydney to the home of his parents at Lane Cove.

"I am very happy," she told newspaper men tearfully. "This is the proudest moment of my life. I knew he would succeed, for he never says he will do things and then not go through with them. I am prouder of him than ever.

"It is wonderful to have him back after nearly eight months' absence. Thank goodness, he has decided to give up long-distance flying. We have not decided where we will spend our honeymoon. That and our future home in Sydney are questions which will have to be talked over.

"Please send my kindest regards to Amy Johnson (British girl flyer who made the trip from England to Australia,) and my warmest thanks to all the dear people of England. They were so generous to Commander Kingsford-Smith."

Kingsford-Smith's parents, Miss Powell and the flyer drove around the airdrome while the thousands applauded. Then with his fiancee Kingsford-Smith mounted the official dais and was formally welcomed by representatives of the government and civic authorities of the city.

NEARLY THIRTEEN DAYS

His arrival here came twelve days twenty-three hours and 25 minutes after departure Thursday, the 9th inst., at 5:30 a.m. (G.M.T.) from Heston Airdrome, England.

In a speech before the microphone Kingsford-Smith said: "I honestly believe what I have done will be of some service to development of aviation as the greatest modern commercial transport. Time is money and with safety of flying under properly organized conditions which are now established nothing can hold aviation back.

"This flight was made under normal conditions which allowed me to rest and keep fit, in a light, single-engined machine, which behaved just as well as the big Southern Cross. It is a demonstration of the commercial possibilities of the route I followed, provided nothing is left to chance. Proper organization is no less than the man, and his machine is a vital factor in success of long flights.

SHARK GUILTY OF MAN-EATING

Photographer of Sea Depths Convinced of Fact

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—A shark when enraged by blood lust will attack a man and need not turn on its side to do it, either, J. E. Williamson, undersea photographer, said today on his return from the Bahamas.

He took motion pictures of sharks from a steel chamber equipped with glass windows two inches thick suspended 100 feet below the surface. When animal blood was poured into the sea beside his chamber the taste of it enraged the sharks. Seeing Williamson inside his five-foot window they tried to break through the glass to reach him.

Robber Slain by Own Rifle

PHOENIX, Oct. 22. (AP)—An unidentified robber was shot and killed in attempting to hold up the Sears-Roebuck store here today.

E. L. Carmach, clerk, told the police he found the man, armed with a pistol and a rifle, in the store upon his arrival. Carmach was held prisoner pending arrival of S. W. Martol, manager, to open the safe, but Martol ran when confronted by the robber. Carmach said he picked up the rifle, dropped by the bandit, and killed him in an exchange of shots.

"You have laid the firmest of foundations for success in using the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of Lucky Strike"

Says

CLEMENT O. MINIGER

Noted industrial leader and philanthropist.
President Electric Auto-lite Company.
Director Willys-Overland Company.

"The demand of Americans for the utmost in comfort, convenience and safety has made the Electric Auto-lite standard equipment in many of the finest of American automobiles. In using the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos you have laid the firmest of foundations for the success of your product. Because you are rendering Americans a service which they appreciate most—the benefit of modern science."

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Mr. Clement O. Miniger to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Mr. Miniger appears on this page.

YOUNG ORATORS TO HEAR HOOVER

President to Forego Navy Game for Forensics

He Will Listen to Finals in High School Contest

Executive's Address Will Be Sent Out on Radio

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—President Hoover will personally attend the Fifth International Oratorical Contest here Saturday night and deliver a brief address of welcome to the seven foreign contestants for the crown of world champion high-school orator.

Of course, he will have a word of encouragement, too, for the American champion, Edmund Gullion of Washington, but his remarks will mainly be directed to the young orators from across the seas and will refer to the splendid spirit shown by foreign countries in participating in a series of national and international competitions which in the last five years have drawn the civilized world closer together in youthful study of fundamental affairs of government and history. President Hoover sees in these international contests a powerful influence for world peace and understanding.

GAMEN GIVEN UP

Announcement that the President had put aside plans for attending the Navy-Princeton football game Saturday and, instead, will remain in Washington to participate in the oratorical finals, was made at the White House this afternoon just after Mr. Hoover had posed with the young speakers for an official photograph on the White House grounds.

His speech Saturday night will be broadcast by radio, along with the competing orations and the announcement of the judges.

President Hoover's appearance this year will constitute the sixth attendance at an oratorical contest final meet by a President of the United States. While former President Coolidge was in the White House, he spoke at five of the meetings, including both national and international finals. President Hoover spoke at a contest meeting when he was Secretary of Commerce and when his name was being broadcast as that of a potential Republican nominee for President.

CANADIAN LATE

Only seven of the eight boys who will battle for the international championship went to the White House today to meet the President. Paul Leduc, the Canadian champion, failed to reach the capital in time and tonight was bemoaning his fate. However, he arrived in time to join the other contestants at luncheon at Western High School.

Those who visited the White House and had their pictures taken with the President include young Gullion, the United States spokesman; Jack Mallard German of England; Clemente Perez-Zanartu of Chile, champion of South America; Heinz Bockhacker of Germany; Andre P. J. Pioux of France; Javier Vivancor of Mexico, and William Hayes of Ireland. Randolph Leigh, director-general of the contest, also was in the picture, and introduced each of the orators individually to the President.

At the Western High School luncheon as special guests were a number of the members of the Constitution Club, composed of high-school students all over the United States, who have taken part in past national and international contests.

MONTANA RAIL BODY PRESENTS ARGUMENT

HELENA (Mont.) Oct. 22. (AP)—A brief of argument in opposition to the request of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads for modification of a recent freight rate order of the Interstate Commerce Commission was forwarded by the Montana Railroad Commission to the Federal body today. The carriers had asked elimination of provisions cancelling transit charges and reduced rates on grain from Montana to California, Arizona and New Mexico. The Montana commission suggests these losses may be made up by increased returns resulting from cancellation of the export grain rate, included in the same order.

FEMININE DIVORCE SEEKERS FAR AHEAD

LONDON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Women outnumber men two to one in 580 petitions for divorce being heard in the Michaelmas term of court. Attorneys who are appearing in many of the cases say there apparently is an important difference in the attitude of women, many of whom intend not to ask that the decrees be made absolute. By declining to take a final decree a woman prevents her husband marrying again.

YOU CAN'T BE DAINTY WITH A COLD IN THE HEAD

In a few deep breaths, Vapex banishes all the distress of colds

No WOMAN can possibly be at her best with a cold. Her nose becomes red and stuffed, her head feels clogged, and the miserable distress ruins her good disposition.

Simply put a drop on the handkerchief or a drop at each end of the pillow. Breathe the delightful vapor and you breathe your cold away.

Swiftly Vapex clears the head, opens up the nose, dries secretions. A few deep breaths relieve distress and make you feel better. If a cold keeps you awake, use Vapex at night and rise in the morning refreshed and soothed.

Vapex is very inexpensive. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications—an average of only 2c apiece. Millions of bottles are sold yearly. It is approved by Good Housekeeping because it is safe for every one—even little children.

For safety's sake, always ask for V-A-P-E-X—the original inhalant—and do not accept an inferior product that claims to be "just as good."

MARICOPA ROAD LINK ASSURED

State Official Pledges Sum of $150,000 For Work

This Makes $250,000 From Federal Fund Available

Fourteen-mile Strip Will Be Started in January

VENTURA, Oct. 22.—Assurance of construction program to cost $550,000 on the Maricopa road, to start early in January of 1931, was given yesterday by Federal and State highway officials to members of the tricounty highway board in charge of the Maricopa project.

The United States Forestry Service already had pledged $250,000 for the artery, which will traverse the Santa Barbara National Forest. This sum, however, was not available until a like amount was assured from the State and the district.

B. B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works, yesterday pledged $150,000 of the State's funds, and a similar figure was assured by the tricounty board.

Representing the tricounty body at the session yesterday, which was held in the San Francisco offices of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, were Charles Petit of Ventura, supervising engineer for the Maricopa project; Supervisor Sam Stanwood, Santa Barbara county, and Supervisor Stanley Abel, Kern county.

The $550,000 is to be expended on a fourteen-mile section of the proposed road, survey for which already has been made by the State, which runs from Soper's ranch in the Ojai, north past Wheeler's Hot Springs and on to the top of the mountain on Sespe Creek.

Detailed plans for the fourteen-mile strip now are being worked on in the San Francisco offices of the United States Bureau of Public Roads. The contract, which is expected to be let early in January of next year, will be awarded shortly after the six and one-half miles on the other end are completed. This strip, which is being constructed by C. G. Willis and Sons, Inc., of Los Angeles, runs from the Cuyama Valley to the summit of Pine Mountain.

Plans for building the remaining fifteen miles of the highway, which lies between the Willis contract and the one just pledged, have not been started yet, Petit said.

Stewart Fruit Company Head Dies at Upland

UPLAND, Oct. 22.—William Boyd Stewart, head of the Stewart Citrus Association and planter of one of the first orange groves in the old Ontario Colony, died suddenly Tuesday following a short attack of pneumonia. Mr. Stewart died at the San Antonio Community Hospital at the age of 70 years. His home was at 388 First avenue, this city.

He came to Ontario Colony forty-three years ago from Cherry Tree, Pa., and at once became interested in the citrus industry. He helped plant several groves in Upland district in 1888 and 1890, and in 1901 organized the citrus association which bears his name, and caused a large packing plant to be built.

Prior to that time Stewart and his brothers marketed their fruit through various other agencies, but as his citrus holdings increased he conceived the idea of building a plant of their own for purpose of marketing their fruit. He and his brothers assisted in incorporating other citrus-fruit associations, including the Upland Lemon Growers' Association, and Upland Citrus Association.

Stewart acquired considerable ranching property and other interests under the firm title, The Stewart Company.

He leaves a widow, Mary A. Stewart; one daughter, Mrs. Agnes Soper of Stockton, and one son, Harold Stewart, West Sixth street, Ontario. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p.m. from Draper's Ontario chapel, with interment in Bellevue Cemetery. Dr. Augustus Prichard of Pasadena and Rev. Frank Kehrli of Glendale will officiate.

Station-Agent Hold-up Bandit Goes to Folsom

VENTURA, Oct. 22.—Charles G. Galtra, who pleaded guilty yesterday to his part in the daring hold-up September 10 of two agents at the Oxnard Southern Pacific depot, today was sentenced to Folsom State penitentiary for not less than five years by Superior Judge Edward Henderson.

Galtra, bound over from justice court yesterday morning, pleaded guilty to charges of first-degree robbery in Superior Court in the afternoon.

Although it was not stated in the complaint, Galtra told the court he previously had been convicted of highway robbery in Fresno and had been sent to San Quentin.

Galtra and one other bandit, who still is being sought, bound and gagged two station agents at the depot and made off with pay checks valued at $1250, $35 in cash and a pistol.

RIVERSIDE COACH ON LEAVE TO PLAY BALL

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 22.—Jess Hill, Riverside Junior College's coach, who attained fame for his playing with the Hollywood baseball team during the past summer, was granted a leave of absence by the Board of Education last night so that he may play in the title series between Hollywood and Los Angeles this week.

JOHN LAW BRINGS BACK STOLEN PET

Zola V. Cotton and "Bobby"

MONTEBELLO, Oct. 12.—"Happy days are here again" for Zola V. Cotton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, for her toy Boston terrier dog, Bobby, which disappeared from the chamber's office, 1200 Whittier Boulevard, four weeks ago, was returned to her yesterday by Glenn Lamkin, deputy Sheriff from County Substation No. 2.

The dog has been the constant companion of Mrs. Cotton since it was old enough to wobble about on its four legs. She was heartbroken when a man seeking information at the office was reported by an eye-witness to have deliberately taken the dog. Although the description that Mrs. Cotton could give regarding the thief was vague, the long arm of the law was able to effect its safe return.

The dog is said to be the smallest of its kind on the Pacific Coast for it has reached full maturity and yet it weighs only six and one-half pounds, hence is reported as having a very high commercial value.

Inquest Clears Train Crew of Death of Two

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 22.—A verdict of accidental death, exonerating the train crew of all blame, was returned today by a Coroner's jury at the inquest in the deaths of Nick D. Chiames, 44 years of age, and Mrs. Sam Makros, 40, who received fatal injuries Monday, when their automobile was struck by a Pacific Electric freight train on San Gabriel Boulevard.

Motorman W. E. Roberts testified that Chiames drove his car onto the tracks at a speed of about fifteen miles an hour, while the wigwag signals were swinging.

Funeral services for Chiames will be conducted at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Greek Orthodox Church in Los Angeles; services for Mrs. Makros have not been arranged.

Power Line to Be Constructed

MENTONE, Oct. 22.—Twenty men started work this morning for the Southern Sierras Power Company in the building of a 33,000-volt electric line from the Southern Sierras line in Mill Creek Canyon to Seven Oaks. The line will be carried to the Seven Oaks house-keeping cabins about three miles east of the resort this winter and next summer taken into Barton Flats.

The twenty men now working are the brushing crew which will clear the right of way for the power line of all brush. The wire crew will be able to start work in about a week. The crews will work out of Seven Oaks and will make headquarters there.

The line will be built according to 33,000-volt specifications but will carry only 11,000 volts at the present time. It will mean much to the development of a great section of the mountains, it is declared by officials of the company.

The power company made a survey in August and decided on the route and the sort of line to be built, provided it was approved by the Railroad Commission. The approval has been given and the line will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Two Youths in Jail Charged With Robbery

VENTURA, Oct. 22.—Less than two hours after they had assertedly robbed a private residence in Santa Paula, two youths who said they were farmer lads from Walla Walla, Wash., were arrested yesterday by Ventura police. They are Lewis Witt and Wesley Bramhall, both 19 years of age.

The pair were taken into custody today, as they headed north just beyond the Ventura River bridge on the coast highway.

Goods, identified as stolen from the residences, by Chief of Police Thornton Edwards of Santa Paula, were found in the automoblie. They included bed clothing, personal articles and trinkets of minor value.

STATE COMMANDER TO INSTALL OFFICERS

VENTURA, Oct. 22.—Bud Gearhart of Fresno, State Commander of the American Legion, will officiate at installation ceremonies for both Ventura county and the Poinsettia City Legion posts tomorrow night at the Athene clubhouse. The newly elecetd commanders of the two units, Al Mehn of Ojai for the county post, and Casper Scott for the city outfit, and other officers of both organizations will take office.

FIFTY-YEAR OLD LODGE CELEBRATES

Riverside Masons Start Birthday Observance With Dinner; Meeting Tonight

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 22.—Observance of the fiftieth anniversary of Evergreen Lodge of Masons here began formally tonight at a dinner in the Masonic Temple attended by several hundred members of the lodge. Tomorrow night national, State and local Masonic dignitaries join in a giant celebration at the Civic Auditorium here.

Tonight's "jubilee banquet" was preceded by a reception opening at 2:30 p.m., and by a brief ceremony in the lodge rooms at which a new Bible was presented to the Evergreen Lodge officers as a gift from the past masters. Dr. John Gardner, pastor o fthe Frst Congregational Church, made the presentation and the book, which is used in the lodge rituals, was accepted by Herrick Schnur, master of the fifty-year-old organization.

The old Bible, which has figured in ceremonies for hundreds of Masons now dead, will be retired from service and entered among the lodge's priceless mementoes.

Following the presentation of the Holy Book, the Masons went to the dining-room where was served the jubilee dinner honoring the passing of the fiftieth milestone.

An audience that will pack the Civic Auditorium is expected to gather for the public observance tomorrow night. Invitations have been mailed to several lodges of the Southland.

The principal address of the evening, to be given by Perry Weidner, will deal with the timely topics of "American institutions, Communism and atheism." Weidner, in 1931, will head the Knights Templar of the United States.

Superior Judge O. K. Morton, inspector for the hundred and sixth Masonic District, will be in charge of the event. A half-hour concert by the famous Golden West Commandery Band of eighty pieces will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by the prepared program.

Democrat Says Industry Back East 'Perks Up'

REDLANDS, Oct. 22.—C. M. Brown, Sr., manager of the Gold Banner Citrus Association here, and one of the best-known independent fruit men in the State, and his son, C. M. Brown, Jr., have returned from the East. The young man went as far as Boston, covering the eastern markets and attending the national convention of the American Legion while his father visited in the Middle West.

"I did not call on many of the markets," said C. M. Brown, Sr., this morning, "leaving that to my son. But I did find that the farmers of the Middle West who have been fighting to keep their heads above water for several years are getting pretty well discouraged. At that there is every evidence of improvement in conditions in the industrial centers and I really believe that despite the fact that the Republicans have done their best to ruin the country, we will pull through." Brown is also one of the leading Democrats of the State.

C. M. Brown, Jr., says there is no doubt but that the industrial centers of the East are "perking up" and he feels sure that the California and Florida citrus crops, large as they are, can be absorbed by the markets.

He reports the Legion convention as one of the greatest ever held and dismissed with a statement that it was not worth talking about, the effort of the Harvard paper to make out that the convention was one big celebration.

Twins Become Habit in Norris Family History

SIERRA MADRE, Oct. 21.—Two sets of twins and three singles, all girls, now compose the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Norris, of 297 West Mariposa avenue.

The first set of twins, Mauryne and Georgyne, made their appearance at the Norris home six years ago, and besides Katherine, 10 years of age, Peggy, 8, and Charlene, 7, Papa Norris was notified yesterday at his place of business, that he had become the father of another set of twins. Hoping that this time he might be blessed with sons, and if not sons, one son at least, he rushed home to find that the inevitable had happened again, for to be sure they were girls.

Pretty, cuddly, blue-eyed babies they are, and Mrs. Norris, prepared for the ordeal of naming girls, has given them the names of Donna Stella and Diana Coral.

The new twins saw the first light of day yesterday at 12:45 p.m. and although somewhat disappointed, the mother is doing nicely.

WOMAN HELD, GRAND THEFT CHARGE MADE

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 22.—Margaret Lofton, residing in county territory, was before Judge Edward H. Miller yesterday when she was given preliminary hearing on a grand-theft charge. She was held to answer in Superior Court, bail being placed at $250. It is asserted in the complaint filed by Mrs. Myrtle Deason that on the 5th inst. the defendant stole a purse from her store, containing one diamond ring, two diamond earrings, one gold Eastern Star pin and compact, one gold fountain pen and a chain and also $15, the value of the entire property being placed at $238, according to Mrs. Deason.

YUCAIPA APPLE SHOW OPENS TODAY

Women Take Their Pick

YUCAIPA, Oct. 22.—Tomorrow is the opening day of the eleventh annual Apple Show here, which continues for four big days until Sunday midnight. "A better show in every way," has been the slogan of Manager H. R. Sheppard throughout the months of preparation for the annual harvest festival. In this laudable effort he has had the full co-operation of the weather—the most important factor in achieving the seeming impossibility of showing better fruit than has been exhibited heretofore.

Growers declare that fall weather has been ideal for coloring apples and that the 1930 crop is best produced in the past ten years. The show comes at the close of the picking season in the Yucaipa Valley and throughout the past six weeks growers and packing-houses have been selecting the choicest specimens of fruit for exhibition.

OTHER FRUITS SHOWN

The apples shown will include some of the best grown in the Beaumont district and the Oak Glen district as well as that produced in the Yucaipa Valley. Besides apples, there will be other deciduous fruits and products of the farm, but the apple will be king. A special feature will be made this year of the canned fruit departments, and there will be a huge display of home-canned fruits and vegetables.

Among the oddities of the show will be some "fresh" apples three years old. They might also be called "green" fruit in the trade parlance, inasmuch as they are not dried or otherwise processed. They are exhibited by one of the valley's packing-houses to illustrate the superior keeping quality of this fruit. They were actually picked in the fall of 1927, and this will be the third successive year that apples from this particular lot have been exhibited at the Apple Show.

Entertainment features provided for the big tent will include musical numbers by bands, orchestras and glee clubs during the afternoon and evening. The well-known trained animal act, "Buckskin's Educated Animals," will also be in the big tent, while on the midway rides, games, etc., are provided by the Hunsaker Exposition Company. A three-act play will be presented in the Woman's clubhouse Thursday and Friday evenings, and a mammoth dance staged there on Saturday evening.

EASY AUTO TRIP

The Apple Show at Yucaipa is seventy-six miles east of Los Angeles—located in a mountain valley that is beautiful in autumn coloring. The trip by auto is an easy one over paved roads, and the appetite created by the mountain air may be appeased by the turkey dinner which ladies of the Woman's Club serve for $1 each noon and evening.

This is the eleventh annual show to be staged at Yucaipa. It is wholly a community event, being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Woman's Club. The affair also partakes of the nature of a festival in that many fruits, canned and fresh, and other orchard products, are offered for sale.

NEW ROW ON WATER RIGHT

Fresh Dispute, Involving Distribution of Colorado River Flow, Arises at El Centro

EL CENTRO, Oct. 22.—A new dispute involving the distribution of water under the Boulder Dam project arose today when Imperial and Coachella Valley representatives met in an effort to settle the question of water rights in the lower Colorado River basin. Tom Yeager, attorney and spokesman for the Coachella Water District, asked that his valley and adjacent mesa lands which will be served by the all-American canal project, be allowed to share in the water rights already established by the Imperial Irrigation District.

President Earl Pound of the Imperial Board of Directors demanded that Imperial Valley farmers be allowed to retain their priority rights, and that the new area to be brought into cultivation under the canal, including Coachella Valley, be given a secondary right.

QUESTION RAISED

The question of water rights in the lower basin was raised by Attorney Charles L. Childers of the Imperial district, who is now drafting in tentative form the contract under which the Federal government is to construct the all-American canal authorized in the Swing-Johnson bill.

Childers asked for a final decision from the local board as to the size and character of the new district which is to be formed to deal with the Federal government. When representatives of two valleys in the basin got together today to answer this question it developed immediately that there was a wide difference of opinion. Director C. W. Brockman of Calexico agreed with the Pound viewpoint that Imperial Valley should preserve its established rights and that any additional land brought into the project should acquire only a secondary right. Director Mark Rose favored the formation of one united district, with equal water rights extended to all lands regardless of existing priority claims.

COACHELLA HAS VIEWS

Coachella representatives intimated that rather than accept a secondary water right, they would form a new district to include all lands under the proposed canal outside of the present Imperial district. Such a move, if was suggested, would involve serious problems of drainage and waste-water disposal, which would affect the present district adversely. No final decision was reached at today's conference and further conferences are to be held.

During his recent visit to the Coast Dr. Elwood Mead, Reclamation Commissioner, expressed the opinion that the formation of one united district in the lower basin would be desirable from the government's viewpoint.

Recent expressions from valley ranchers, however, have indicated that there is a strong sentiment in the Imperial area against any proposal which would give new lands an equal share in water rights already established in the valley.

Writ Asked in Oceanside Row on Recall Move

OCEANSIDE, Oct. 22.—One of Oceanside's municipal mix-ups was aired in Superior Court in San Diego today when a writ of mandate was called before Judge Eugene Daney demanding that the Oceanside City Council call a special election to oust two of its members. The suit was against E. L. Forner, J. B. Donnell, E. A. Walsh, H. D. Brodie and J. F. Martin, and sought to effect removal of Walsh and Brodie. The plaintiff said a petition had been circulated, seeking recall of the two officials and bearing names of 25 per cent or more of the registered voters. The Council ignored the petition, Wallace complained. The petition, he declared, had been certified by City Clerk John H. Landes as sufficient. Walsh and Brodie were charged with using bad judgment in managing the city's affairs and with having assumed a dictatorial attitude toward citizens.

STATE LOADING LAW VIOLATION CHARGED

ONTARIO, Oct. 22.—For assertedly violating the State loading law, James E. Kelly, 847 Island avenue, Wilmington, must face Judge George R. Holbrook Thursday. Kelly was arrested in West A street by State Motor Patrolmen L. E. Kronmeyer and George W. Carpenter, charged with driving a truck and trailer heavily overloaded with roofing tile.

HOBGOBLINS CHASED HIM

Burbank Man in Throes of Nightmare Almost Loses Thumb

BURBANK, Oct. 22.—While suffering a nightmare in which he imagined he was being pursued by a band of hobogoblins, Ernest B. Cleveland, 26 years of age, of 230 South Verdugo avenue, leaped from his bed and to the bedroom window. In thrusting his hand through the pane he nearly cut off a dressed in the local Emergency Hospital. The wound was thumb.

Cleveland told police his plight followed an ordinary nightmare in which he saw the hobgoblins coming toward him "just as plain as day."

JANE LAWS IN SESSION IN WHITTIER

Women Peace Officers of California Meet at Home of Deputy Constable

WHITTIER, Oct. 22.—The Women Peace Officers' Association of California met here this evening for a dinner at the English Tavern and a social evening at the home of the first woman deputy constable of Los Angeles county, Mrs. M. J. Talbot. There were thirty officers and their friends assembled in the studio of the tavern with Mrs. Talbot as toastmaster. Mrs. Vada C. Sullivan, chief matron of the Los Angeles County Jail, was the principal speaker, and stressed the responsibility of the women making up the Peace Officers' Association. She said, "I wish to pay tribute to the high standard of excellence which prevails in this organization, and to the high sense of responsibility which the officers assume. It is possible for us to guide and direct our charges into paths of rehabilitation that lead to mountain tops of righteousness and right living."

VIRGINIA YERXA

"Much praise should be given Mrs. Talbot, our hostess tonight, for the splendid work she has accomplished as the first woman deputy constable of Los Angeles county."

Miss Virginia Yerxa of Pasadena sang a group of popular songs and received an ovation.

The organization is but 2 years old, having been inaugurated in November, 1928, with twenty-six members. There are now 147 women officers in the State. Mrs. Talbot was an officer long before the organization was formed, having received her appointment six years ago.

She has the distinction of being the only woman officer to conduct a man prisoner from the County Jail to the courtroom. She is a woman of dauntless courage, and has the respect and high regard of her associates both in and out of the association.

Mrs. Sullivan is president of the organization; Mrs. Elizabeth L. Lossing of Berkeley, first vice-president; Mrs. Lulu Shaw, Long Beach, second vice-president; Mrs. Angelina Floyd, Alameda, third vice-president; Mrs. Anne D. Hahn, Los Angeles, secretary; Miss Hannah Hornitz, Huntington Beach, treasurer; Miss Alice Stebbens Wells, Los Angeles, librarian and director of education; Miss Irene Farrell, San Mateo, parliamentarian; Mrs. Clem Sweeters, Riverside, chaplain, and Mrs. A. W. Mafthews, Eureka, sergeant-at-arms.

Creditors Agree on Trusteeship

EAST HIGHLANDS, Oct. 22.—The appointment of David H. Roddick, one of the well-known Highland district orange growers, as trustee for the creditors of Fred H. Leuschen, has been approved by D. Wayne Richards, referee in bankruptcy.

Selection of Roddick came as a compromise following a sharp contest over the naming of a trustee for the creditors in which creditors became deadlocked in attempting to choose between Charles P. Fuller and E. W. Bailey.

The creditors represent more than $350,000 of the total of Leuschen's debts.

Leuschen entered voluntary bankruptcy several weeks ago after demands had been made by his creditors.

JUDGE STAFFORD ON BENCH AT VAN NUYS

VAN NUYS, Oct. 22. — Judge Dailey S. Stafford is presiding this week at the Van Nuys Municipal Court, in place of Judge Clifford Thompson, who is temporarily assigned to the Los Angeles bench. Judge Stafford succeeds Judge Caryl Sheldon who has been serving on the bench here for the last few days.

KIWANIANS NOMINATE HARDY OF EAGLE ROCK

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 22.—District trustees of the Kiwanis clubs comprising Zone No. 3, met here and nominated "Sunny Jim" Hardy of Eagle Rock as lieutenant-governor for this division. The nomination is tantamount to election. Hardy will succeed Carroll W. Parcher, editor of the Tujunga Record-Ledger.

HOSEMAN QUIZ HELD

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 22.—The examination for hoseman for the Huntington Park Fire Department recently held here has resulted in Clyde P. Hamilton receiving a grade of 81.7, Burl C. Powell 80.5, J. J. Lowry 79.9, James F. Raleigh 77.6, Loren F. Cunningham 76.9 and Larry L. Kitching 75.5. This provides an eligible list when a vacancy as hoseman occurs in the department.

MATE QUIZZES ACCUSED WIFE

Denver Detective Confronts Murder Suspect

Stepmother Questioned on Death of Child

Husband Has Been Ill From Eating Ground Glass

DENVER, Oct. 22. (AP)—A detective-father late today questioned his wife, accused stepmother, about the death of his 10-year-old daughter whose body was found in Berkeley Lake last week.

Leo O'Loughlin, city detective, today met his wife Pearl for the first time since the tragedy. He has been ill in a hospital for a week suffering from effects of ground glass. The cause of his illness and the discovery of ground glass in the organs of the child, Leona, resulted in police holding Mrs. O'Loughlin in connection with the murder.

SECRECY KEPT

Police would not reveal what resulted from the meeting.

Time and again Mrs. O'Loughlin's shouted denial that she knows anything of the murder of Leona or the attempt upon the life of her husband have resounded through the corridors of police headquarters and through the mortuary where the body of the child awaits burial. Police took Mrs. O'Loughlin to the mortuary last night in an attempt to shake her story by confronting her with the body.

MAN ALSO HELD

Despite the woman's denial of the crime Captain of Detectives Bert Clark announced today, unless there are developments in the meantime, he will file first-degree murder charges Friday. This will be done, he said, to defeat an application for a writ of habeas corpus filed yesterday by Mrs. O'Loughlin's attorneys.

Another suspect in the case, an unidentified man, was arrested for investigation by investigators for the District Attorney. He was questioned, but was placed in jail without his name being divulged.

ROBBERS IN CHICAGO GET $64,000 GEMS

Brokers and Their Wives Held Up as They Step Out of Taxicab at Home

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Two couples were stripped of jewels valued at $64,000 early today by three hold-up men who duplicated features of the recent daring robbery of Mrs. William Hale Thompson, wife of Chicago's Mayor.

The victims, George E. Crandell and Ralph Gardner, brokers, and their wives, were returning to the Crandell apartment in a Gold Coast residential building after attending a fashion show.

As they stepped from a taxicab in the driveway of the building the robbers, displaying pistols, warned the women not to "scream or move." They took two rings, one valued at $30,000, a bracelet and necklace from Mrs. Crandell and a $10,000 bracelet from Mrs. Gardner. Crandell yielded $50.

The robbers allowed Mrs. Crandell to retain her wedding ring and Mrs. Gardner a diamond ring, present from her husband. Crandell, formerly a vice-president of Montgomery Ward & Co., told police all the gems, except the large most valuable ring, were insured.

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Arthur Letts, Jr., son of the founder of the Broadway Department Store and wealthy stockholder in the Broadway and Bullock stores of Los Angeles, was granted a divorce here late today from Mrs. Bessie E. Letts.

The papers in the case were sealed by court order.

PIT TRADE HELD VITAL BUSINESS

Commerce Associations' Vote Overwhelming for It

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The maintenance of commodity exchange trading as an essential method in the efficient marketing of agricultural products has been overwhelmingly approved by more than 2700 members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Approval was voted by chambers of commerce and trade associations of every State of the Union in a referendum conducted by the national organization. Four recommendations centering around commodity exchange trading were indorsed and now become part of the policy of the United States chamber.

The results of the referendum made public today show 2687 chambers of commerce and trade associations favored supporting commodity exchange trading, with 111 in opposition.

A recommendation that trading in futures on commodity exchanges be supported received 2597 votes, with 194 in the negative.

Buggy Passing Into History, Sales Indicate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The sulky, phaeton, barouche and common-box buggy are passing.

The Commerce Department today noted a 13 per cent decrease in the value of all horse-drawn vehicles sold from 1927 to 1929. The 122,734 such ehicles sold last year brought $10,223,535 to the manufacturers.

Farm wagons, business wagons, lunch wagons, carriages and buggies were fewer than in 1927, but two-wheeled carts increased 111.9 public conveyances and farm trucks also were sold.

Likewise, the value of wheelbarrows dropped .4 per cent, and the per cent in number, to 9132. More number of handcarts and push-carts, 18.8 per cent.

ROME, Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Blanche Vogel, American daughter by a former marriage of the Marchioness Sommi Picemardi Di Valvetone, today became the bride of Count Antonio Martini Crotti.

CURTIS ATTACKS TARIFF CROAKER

New Law Will Not Injure Trade, He Asserts

PUEBLO (Colo.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Assailing predictions of injury to American foreign trade as a result of tariff revision, Vice-President Curtis tonight quoted figures which he said showed a gain since adoption of the Fordney-McCumber Act in 1922.

Carrying into Colorado his extensive campaign speaking trip which began in the East and took him into a number of the Central States, the Vice-President refrained from discussing in detail conditions under the new tariff act "since the measure has not been in operation long enough to determine its true merits."

HERO FUND HEAD DIES

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22. (AP)—Frank M. Wilmot, 58 years of age, secretary, manager and trustee of the Carnegie hero fund commission, died at his home here today.

Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., operating with the Pennsylvania Railroad, provides swift, up-to-date air service from coast to coast and between intermediate points at fares comparable to rail-Pullman fares.

WHY are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, mellowed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Native villages in the heart of the dark continent are fairly numerous. So it was that the day he found the cub, Tarzan and his family left the homeward trail and came to one of these collections of huts to obtain milk for the young lion. Great excitement followed their approach. The natives viewed the three whites with curiosity. They saw them almost as naked as themselves and armed similarly, save that the younger man also carried a rifle. Jane, Tarzan and Korak wore the barbaric trappings of Pal-ul-don and so were entirely strange to the eyes of the simple natives.

"Where is your chief?" asked Tarzan, as he strode into the village among the women, children and yapping curs. A few dozing warriors arose from the cool shadows and one replied, "The chief sleeps. Who are you to awaken him?" "Tell him," continued the ape-man, "that Tarzan would speak with him." Instantly the attitude of his listeners changed. Though they had never seen him, all knew, feared and respected the very name of Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle. The simple blacks fell back in awe—their eyes very wide and round.

Then there was a great commotion. The natives brought mats for the guests and food and presents, all to honor this distinguished visitor. Presently Umbaga, the chief, appeared. An old man, he had been chief even before Tarzan of the Apes was born. He greeted his guest as one great man might greet another. Yet he was undeniably pleased that the Lord of the Jungle had honored his village with a visit. Two days after, when they departed, among Umbaga's gifts was a fine mother dog to feed and care for Tarzan's lion-cub.

It was only infinite patience on the ape-man's part that the two animals overcame their fear of each other. Both were terrified at the enemy-scent of the other. But at last the thing was accomplished, and as the three set out toward home once more, the dog trotted on a leash beside Tarzan. The baby lion he carried cuddled in the hollow of his strong arm. Za they called the dog. And they named the lion Jad-bal-ja, which in the language of Pal-ul-don means "The Golden Lion," because of his color.

Those Who Entertain Daily Taken for Granted

Special Treat in Store for Amos 'n' Andy Fans

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. World-wide News, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Like the old Irish lady who said she had three sons, two being alive and one in the British Army, so it is on radio. Featured stars for a night fill the columns, while the boys in the radio army who serve each day as regular features are taken for granted.

The orchestras of Earl Burtnett, Ted Weems, George Olsen, Gus Arnheim and a host of other musical organizations on Southern California stations play night in and night out, bringing happiness and merriment into homes throughout the West. Then there is Sylvia's Happy Hour, with its bright messages to the bed-ridden. Also Eddie Albright with his 10 o'clock in the morning fiction readings. Equal credit should be given to the sponsors of these privates in the radio trenches.

So here's a solute to the regular day-to-day performers.

They tell us that—

There's a special treat for Amos 'n' Andy fans this coming Friday. Beg or borrow a paper Friday morning—we'll tell some more.

I'll bet a lot of oldsters sneak into school with the kids today—the Detroit Symphony Orchestra—KHJ's School of the Air at 11:30 a.m.

That's one excellent concert offering. Here's another—KFI at 7:30 p.m.—San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Basil Cameron of England—a newcomer to this series. Compositions of Wagner, Delibes, Grainger, Mozart and Strauss to be featured.

KTM proved their Ranch Boys are real dyed-in-wool cowpunchers. At the Indian Village they climbed aboard steers and steered them all over the lot. Any time you can Paul Revere with a steer you're no softy.

KHJ's Lutheran Hour—a Columbia feature—from a different city each week. The Walther League A Capella Choir of St. Louis—a sacred half-hour—7 p.m.

KFI at 7 tonight—Rosa Ponselle, prima donna of the Metropolitan—Rosario Bourdon's Orchestra. Verdi's "Don Carlos," songs by Sadero and an aria by Rossini.

Sports: Baseball over KFWB at 2:15. "Beans" Reardon, National League umpire, interviewed over KFWB at 9 tonight. KHJ's Sports of the Air at 9:30 offers Seraphim Post, former captain and guard of Stanford. He and Braven Dyer will discuss the coming U.S.C.-Stanford tilt.

Two classic half-hours on KNX—song recital at 6:30 with Theodore Kittay; Lubovski's Violin Choir and Claire Mellonino at 9:30 p.m.

"Because"—KTM's playlet at 9:30 tonight—light comedy—two scenes.

"Folgeria." KHJ's serial comic opera, 9 p.m. Last week some strong-arm lady ran the savages up trees or something and now they're at it again.

A bit of this and that—music and story. KECA at 7 tonight—the Nomad Novelist and Rounds's String Ensemble.

Frank Watanabe sent us a bust of himself dolled up like a Japanese houseboy. We stuck it in the tower—and our stuffed hoot owl is jealous.

Science? KNX at 7 tonight—"New Information About the Moon."

"A half-hour of never-to-be-forgotten moments from comic operas"—so KHJ bills its Music Hour at 8 tonight. Raymond Paige will direct.

Move Launched for Ousting of Gallup Sheriff

GALLUP (N. M.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Sensational charges against Sheriff R. L. Roberts, recently defeated for Republican renomination, were filed in District Court here today seeking to remove Roberts from office.

The charges, filed by Dist.-Atty. Kenney and Asst. Dist.-Atty. Glassock, held Roberts "has built around himself in McKinley county an organization of bootleggers and thugs which, together with Roberts, since he was defeated, have terrorized the city of Gallup."

ATHERTON WITHDRAWS FROM CONGRESS RACE

STOCKTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Warren H. Atherton, former police judge who threatened to become a strong candidate against C. F. Curry, Jr., and State Senator Inman in the race for Congressman, Third California District, announced this afternoon he will not be a candidate. The office will be settled with "write in" votes November 4, this being necessary by the death of the late Representative Charles F. Curry after the expiration of the period in which names could be printed on the ballots.

WORKERS DISCOVER QUICK METHOD TO OVERCOME FATIGUE

They Take a Moment to Eat or Drink Something Sweet

Salesmen who cover miles each day, and business folks who go at top speed at their desks and counters, know that mid-afternoon is the zero hour as far as energy is concerned.

Since rest and relaxation are out of the question at this busy time of the day, countless workers have found to their delight that a piece of candy, a cookie, ice cream, or a sweetened drink—even sugar dissolved in water—restores vigor almost immediately.

The reason for this is that the sugar content of these "snacks" supplies the system with quick nourishment without taxing the digestive system. When the body is thus nourished, fatigue is materially lessened.

Recent tests among workers have proved the value of this practice of eating something sweet in mid-afternoon. A well-known physician in Philadelphia often advises business men to drop in at a soda fountain at 4 o'clock and drink a flavored milk shake. Nervous exhaustion is overcome and the evening meal is eaten later with calm enjoyment.

The demand of the system for refined sugar should not be denied. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with refined sugar. The Sugar Institute.

GOITRE REMOVED

Titusville Minister's Wife Saved An Operation, Wants Others to Know.

Mrs. F. N. Baker, Star Route, Titusville, Pa., says, "Feel I am doing real missionary work when I tell how my goitre was removed with Sorbol-Quadruple, a stainless liniment. My eyes, heart and nerves were in a bad condition. Felt no ill effects for the treatment. Glad to tell or write my experiences."

BOB REPORTED SEEN IN PHOENIX

Missing Capitalist Linked to Hotel Deal There

Headed for South America in Plane, Says Report

Wife Suspects He May Have Committed Suicide

PHOENIX, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Phoenix Evening Gazette says today Charles V. Bob, New York and Chicago capitalist, visited Phoenix within forty-eight hours after he was reported missing from Chicago on the 5th inst.

The newspaper says it learned from "an apparently reliable informant" of Bob's presence here in connection with the filing in the Maricopa County Recorder's office of a mortgage of $750,000 on the Westward Ho Hotel of Phoenix in favor of August Heckscher of New York.

Bob is the principal stockholder and dominant personality of the Pacific Hotels Company, parent corporation which controls the Westward Ho. The mortgage, dated the 11th inst., was signed by Walter J. Mellody of New York, secretary of the Pacific Hotels Company, and George Lindholm, resident manager of the Westward Ho and president of the company. Lindholm said Bob to his knowledge, had not been in Phoenix.

The newspaper's informant said Bob passed through the city by airplane, "heading south" toward "some point in South America," accompanied by Frederick J. Russell, his confidential secretary, and Dean Lamb, pilot. Russell and Lamb were missed from Chicago at the same time search was started for Bob by the New York State Attorney-General's office.

WIFE DENIES SEEING BOB SINCE THE 6TH INST.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Charles V. Bob, wife of the missing stock promoter, whose business enterprises are under investigation, told Dep. Atty.-Gen. Staples under oath today she had not seen her husband since the 6th inst., and knows nothing of his whereabouts. Several of his friends are convinced he has left the country.

A hint that Mrs. Bob fears her husband may have committed suicide was contained in a statement made by her attorney, Ferdinand Pecora, who accompanied her to the Attorney-General's office.

A short time before Bob left for Chicago, Pecora said, he told his wife "to acquaint herself with his life insurance policies." She denied a report that their maid had received a telephone call last Friday from Bob in Akron, O.

When he left for Chicago, she said, Bob told her he was going there to raise money, saying he was in financial difficulties.

Earlier in the day, Staples blamed Bob for suspension of the curb exchange house of Piperno & Co., investigation of which he said, brought to light Bob's activities.

Bob, it was said, gave checks totaling $110,000 to the Piperno firm to buy stock in his own concerns in an effort to create a market value for the securities. Then he stopped payment and Piperno & Co. was forced to announce its inability to meet its obligations with other members of the exchange.

Women who live in Kansas, Kentucky and Ohio, in New England and Canada—long-distance speculators who know little or nothing of finance—are the heaviest losers in the collapse of Bob's Metal and Mining Shares, Inc., the Attorney-General's office said today.

OLD SOL'S MUG STILL IN DARK

Photographers Get Eclipse Photos But Lack Water for Developing Them

NIUAFOU ISLAND, (South Pacific) Oct. 23. (Thursday) (AP)—Astronomers of the United States Naval Observatory took 112 shots at the sun in eclipse yesterday under favorable conditions, but cannot develop their photographic plates for several days, owing to scarcity of water.

The eclipse began exactly as predicted at 7:55 a.m. Wednesday (2:38 p.m. Tuesday, eastern standard time), but the duration of totality was about two seconds short of the expected 83½ seconds.

Many medium prominences and two long streamers were seen, but none during totality.

ELDERLY WORLD WAR OFFICER MARRIES

FITCHBURG (Mass.) Oct. 22. (AP) Maj.-Gen. Benjamin A. Poore, 67 years of age, of Washington, D. C., World War brigade commander and classmate of Gen. Pershing at West Point, married here today an old friend of school days, Mrs. Flora B. Bullock, 66.

"DOLLAR-DOWN" PLAN DEFENDED

Credit Men Told Installment Buying Continues

Speaker Says Slump's Blame Definitely Disproved

More Than 2000 Concerns Send Delegates

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of California-Arizona State conference of credit executives were told here today that universal installment buying had nothing at all to do with bringing about the present economic depression.

The speaker was Fred J. Henry, Pacific Coast division manager of the Commercial Credit Company of Baltimore.

"Pessimists thought as soon as the depression came installment buying would cease, but this was not so," said Henry. "Installment buying has been going right ahead and the installment debt today is about the same as a year ago.

"Had the finance companies stopped when the crash came, and demanded everybody pay up, it could have been said the installment buying was responsible for the depression. They did not do this, however.

"It never was contended all installment business is on a sound basis. But it is contended the business as a whole is sound," he said.

Other speakers included Kenneth G. Freeland, California Bank, Los Angeles; W. R. Roberts, San Francisco; Graydon Hoffman, California First National Bank, Long Beach; Edward Hyatt, State Engineer; Dudley Chandler of Los Angeles, and Stanley N. Wilson of San Francisco.

The delegates represented more than 2000 bankers, manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers, controlling many millions of dollars of western credit.

THIRTY TEUTONS HURT IN FASCIST-RED CLASH

FRIEBURG (Germany) Oct. 22. (AP)—Thirty persons were injured in a brawl here last night between National Socialists and Communists. Chair legs and beer mugs were used as weapons by the Fascists in repelling attacks of the Communists. Police, one of whom was injured, made no arrests since the Communists, the mischief makers, disappeared when the riot squads arrived.

DYING GIRL PENS ROMANCE

Washington Clerk, Courting Death, Writes Apologue of Experiences as Asphyxiation Creeps On

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The life of Miss Draper Gill was filled with drama for a short while today before she died. In her attic bedroom the 26-year-old employee of a local department store penned the story of her life and death—and then turned on the gas.

The story, entitled "Thirteen Cigarettes," centered around the life of a 26-year-old woman named Carol. Her life had been bare of romance and filled with debts and worries.

Finally, in desperation, so the story went, she decided to smoke thirteen cigarettes with the idea of doing something to rid the world of herself when they were gone.

Near the middle of the story there was a single paragraph, "there are eight cigarettes left." Further on it said: "Now there are three." And in conclusion, the story said: "There are no cigarettes left. The ashes of thirteen are lying in a crumpled heap in the ash tray."

A maid smelled gas this morning and investigated. Police found the woman in an unconscious condition and she soon died.

On a small round table the police found the manuscript of the story and beside it, in an ash tray, were the stubs of thirteen cigarettes.

TREE SURGEON KILLS SON OF GOAT RANCHER

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Oct. 22. (AP)—H. C. Rosenberger, Cedar Rapids (Iowa) tree surgeon, shot and killed N. O. Tenney, Jr., 19-year-old son of a Prescott goat rancher, near here early this morning. He said the youth attempted to hold him up.

AMERICAN POOR GET SYMPATHY

British Parliament Member Say's They're Mistreated

LONDON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Dr. E. Leslie Burgin, Member of Parliament, said today upon returning from the International Law Association conference in New York "there is no country in the world quite so hard on the unfortunate and poor as the so-called prosperous continent of America."

Dr. Burgin said he had traveled in thirty States, adding that "throughout the whole of America there seems to be little reserve in the pockets of the people. Thrift, foresight and saving all seem to be little known and less practiced.

"There is no unemployment insurance, there is very little organized public assistance and the poor law is administered with a rigor that savors of Prussianism."

MINE BLAST RESCUERS SAVE SEVEN

German Disaster's Toll 248 With Twenty-five Still Trapped in Shaft

ALSDORF (Germany) Oct. 22. (AP) Seven miners were rescued alive tonight from galleries of the Anna II mine, but there was almost no hope for twenty-five others still unaccounted for and believed entombed by the explosion, which yesterday at dawn destroyed the shaft. The death toll stood tonight at 248, not including the twenty-five men still missing.

Four of the seven miners rescued had taken refuge in a small blind gallery and were severely injured. One of the four died soon afterward from the effects of poisonous fumes which he had breathed.

The cause of the disaster remains as mysterious as ever.

Exceedingly pleasant to own —and surprisingly economical

The New

La SALLE V-Eight

$2195

AND UP, F. O. B.

THE NEW La Salle V-Eight offers a remarkable array of advantages that make it an exceedingly pleasant car to own and drive—and surprisingly economical as well.

The bodies are new expressions of Fisher and Fleetwood coachcraft—fresh in authentic beauty. Built to provide the utmost quiet and restfulness, the quality in design, construction and materials is so high that the resale value of this long-lived car is assured.

It is an exhilarating experience to drive so spirited a car. The eight-cylinder power plant is larger, and still more power is at the command of the driver.

The new La Salle profits heavily by its membership in the Cadillac family of distinguished fine cars—the new Cadillac V-8, the new V-12 and the V-16—because Cadillac brings to motoring this year a newness of performance never before experienced even in Cadillac or La Salle cars.

Nowhere is this more delightfully stressed than in the car's simplicity of control, driving ease and greater safety, assured by such characteristic features as Cadillac's harmonized steering system, clashless Syncro-Mesh Transmission, remarkably effective braking system, and non-shatterable Security Plate Glass throughout.

Best of all, you can enjoy the La Salle without undue strain on your pocketbook, for it sells as low as $2195 f. o. b. Purchase is made easy by the G. M. A. C. Deferred Payment Plan. Perhaps the value of your present car is sufficient to take care of the down payment. Let us appraise it. There will be no obligation.

The Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild for boys offers 904 awards for craftsmanship, valued at $50,000, including four University scholarships of four years each, and each valued at $5,000—trips to Detroit—and thousands of dollars in gold. Membership is open to every boy in the U. S. between the ages of 12 and 19, inclusive. To enroll and obtain details, see your nearest Cadillac-La Salle dealer

RADIO BALKING BANDIT ESCAPES

Crime Broadcast Cuts Down Time For Getaway

Underworld Unable to Make Use of Instrument

Many Cities Turning to Wireless for Police

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The daylight bank robber and other criminals who depend upon a quick getaway to execute their crimes are running afoul of an instrument they have been unable to convert to their own uses—the radio as used by police.

Radio-mobilized dragnets of fleet police automobiles have reduced to a minimum the precious minutes headway the bandits have depended upon for escape.

Already a notable decrease in crime of this class has been reported to the Federal Radio Commission by the score and ten cities and one State in which police radio service has been established.

Success of the system in most of these cities has caused twenty more to apply for radio permits.

SYSTEM SUCCESS

Commissioner LaFount predicted today that within a short time every American city of 100,000 population or more would adopt the system. He noted that because the police systems operate on wave lengths that are exceedingly difficult of interception, the criminals have no opportunity to turn the radio to their own use and fight back.

The commission especially changed its regulations to adopt a policy that would permit establishment of the system in municipalities. It designated frequencies for the work, which permits the use of the same channels by several cities in the same geographical area.

Michigan is the only State to have a State-wide system. From Detroit come reports of excellent results. Minneapolis, Dallas, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Louisville, Kentucky, Seattle, Columbus, O.; Tulare, Cal., and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, are some of the cities using police radio. In Pennsylvania, the State police have a number of broadcast stations, while the city of New York uses a service in connection with harbor police work.

PERMITS GRANTED

Philadelphia, San Francisco, Auburn and Buffalo, N. Y.; San Antonio, Berkeley, Cal., and Washington, D. C., are among the twenty cities granted permits to construct radio stations, along with the State of Missouri, which will build a station at Kansas City.

While big rum-running syndicates have been found to use radio for communication with ships at sea, the commission said thus far the domestic criminals had been unable to use the radio to combat the police.

Salary Increase Recommended for MacDonald

LONDON, Oct. 22. (AP)—A House of Commons committee appointed several months ago to study "ministers' remuneration" has in its report recommended an increase in salary for the Prime Minister, Ramsay MacDonald, of from the equivalent of $25,000 annually to $35,000.

The committee's report also recommends that the leader of the opposition in Parliament receive a salary in addition to that obtained from ordinary parliamentary duties.

Principal among the reasons advanced for an additional salary for Mr. MacDonald was the tremendous outlay necessary to maintain the establishment at 10 Downing street. Mr. MacDonald testified that the residence cost him in the neighborhood of $10,000 a year.

NEON EARNINGS GAIN FORECAST

Optimistic Report Issued by President Howse

Says Present Revenues Show Highest in History

Local, Portland and Oakland Units Report Gain

Earnings of Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation are the largest in its history and its business is only slightly affected by the current business depression, Paul D. Howse, president, stated yesterday in commenting on the corporation's outlook and the present market action of its stock.

"As the cash dividend alone nets the purchaser 7 per cent at $30, plus an additional 4 per cent in stock, there is no reason why the stock should be selling at current levels," Mr. Howse said. "If selling at $30, the present dividends would net the owner a return of 8 2-3 per cent.

"While we have not completed the audit for the company's activities during the current quarter, we have the earnings of the factory at Portland, the one in Oakland, and the one in Los Angeles. To the total earnings of these factories is to be added a considerable sum from subsidiaries, the Hyde Technical Laboratories and Electro Therapy Products Corporation."

The Los Angeles factory's earnings for the third quarter of this year totaled $64,906.96, an increase of $9907.68, or 19 per cent over the same period last year; the Oakland factory's earnings were $67,188.52, an increase of $7184.69, or 11 per cent, and the Portland factory's earnings were $28,833.97, an increase of $2660.52, or 10 per cent. These earnings were net after all charges, depreciation and Federal taxes.

The aggregate net profits of the three factories amounted to $160,-929.45 for the September quarter, as compared to $141,176.65 for the 1929 period, a gain of $19,752.80, or 14 per cent.

In view of the company's earnings and increasing business, Mr. Howse said that he advises the company's 2000 stockholders to hold their stock as he is confident they will not be disappointed in the returns therefrom.

Operations in Cotton Textile Industry Gain

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The cotton-spinning industry was reported today by the Census Bureau to have operated during September at 76.4 per cent capacity, on a single-shift basis, as compared with 65.2 per cent during August this year and 104 per cent during September last year.

Spinning spindles in place September 30 numbered 33,959,172, of which 26,067,004 were active at some time during the month and the average number operated was 25,941,-497, compared with 33,993,998, 25,-983,978 and 22,163,887 in August this year, and 34,643,998, 30,037,922 and 26,225,311 in September last year.

Active spindle hours for September totaled 5,682,899,108, or an average of 187 hours per spondle in place, compared with 5,134,486,143 and 151 for August this year, and 7,881,178,800 and 226 for September last year.

Pennsylvania Crude Oil Cut

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22. (AP)—A cut of 15 cents a barrel in the price of all Pennsylvania grade crude oils was announced by leading purchasing agencies here today.

The new prices are: Pennsylvania grade in New York Transit lines and Bradford district oil in National Transit lines, $2.40; Pennsylvania grade in National Transit lines run prior to July 1, $2.10; Pennsylvania grade in National Transit lines, run after July 1, $2.15; Pennsylvania grade in Southwest Pennsylvania lines, $2.10; Pennsylvania grade in Eureka lines, $2; Pennsylvania grade in Buckeye lines, $1.75.

NET INCOME OF DU PONT POWDER OFF

Third-Quarter Figures Show $6,996,486 Slump From 1929 Period

WILMINGTON (Del.) Oct. 22. (AP) The report of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. for the third quarter of this year issued today shows $1.05 a share earned on the average number of 11,009,774 shares of common stock outstanding for the quarter, which compares with $1.80 a share earned on the average number of 10,322,481 shares outstanding for the same period of last year.

The net income for the quarter was $13,033,345 against $20,029,831 for the corresponding period of last year. These figures include $7,487,-465 income from General Motors investment for the third quarter of this year against $10,505,322 included for the same period last year.

The earnings for the first nine months of this year, applicable to common stock, were $41,505,674, or $3.88 a share on the average number of 10,700,970 shares outstanding, compared with $57,215,662 or $5.64 a share on the average number of 10,153,014 shares outstanding during the 1929 nine months' period.

Income from operations for the nine months of this year was $19,-540,038. For the same period of 1929 it was $26,354,416. Income from General Motors investment for the current three-quarter year was $25,-452,322 and $35,456,453 for the same period last year, and income from miscellaneous and marketable securities was $3,224,740 as compared with $3,120,150. Net income before dividends on debenture stock, but after making provision for Federal income taxes and interest on bonds of subsidiary companies, was $45,-984,859 for the nine months this year, compared with $61,566,243 for the same period last year.

Sales at Retail in Los Angeles Show Slackening

September advances in retail business have not been sustained for the current month to date, according to the weekly summary of the Bradstreet Company issued yesterday which stated that the local trade in general has reported sales are considerably less than in the preceding month.

Los Angeles downtown retailers hoping to stimulate buying have agreed to start the drive for Christmas holiday business on November 1 with displays of Christmas merchandise, the summary stated. This is about thirty days earlier than usual.

Women's-wear manufacturers report that the winter season business will run a little below a year ago. Collections, however, are much behind a year ago. The industry is now preparing spring samples and will submit these to the trade about November 15.

Warner-Quinlan Loss Reported

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Warner-Quinlan Company reported today net loss for the September quarter of $114,689 after all charges and reserves against net profits of $749,689 or $1.18 a share in the third quarter of 1929.

For the nine months the company reported net loss of $285,060 after fixed charges, reserves and inventory write-down against net profits of $1,822,559 a year ago, equal to $3.23 a share on the 564,936 average shares outstanding during the period.

KANSAS CITY AUTO GAS PRICES PARED

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. — Gasoline prices in Kansas City were reduced 1 cent a gallon today by all companies. New retail prices, including State tax are 14.9 cents a gallon with high test 3 cents higher.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

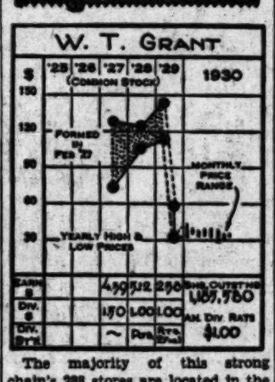
Frank M. Brock, vice-president of the Lyon Van and Storage Company, State-wide van and storage organization of California, left Sunday to attend a directors' meeting of the National Furniture Warehouseman's Association in Chicago this week. Mr. Brock has been a director of the national association for some time.

SUPPORT IN STOCKS COSTLY

Recent Activities by Corporations May Bring Queries From Stockholders; Wisdom Open to Question

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Whether or not corporations should support their own stocks in a declining market is a debatable question that probably never will be satisfactorily answered. Competent authorities are found on both sides, and reasonable arguments are advanced in support of each position.



The majority of this strong chain's 288 stores are located in the eastern States, but 1930 expansion plans call for a gradual increase of operations in the Middle West. The wide variety of goods offered sell within a price range of 5 cents to $1. Accounting policies are notably conservative, expenses incidental to the opening of new stores being entirely charged against current earnings.

Volume of business in the old stores has held at the 1929 levels so far in 1930, while total sales for the first eight months are more than 10 per cent ahead of results for the similar period of last year—due largely to the increase in store outlets. Earnings have likewise shown a fair improvement in the first half of 1930, common shares earnings amounting to $.79 a share, as compared with $.77 last year. On July 31 the current ratio was about 8 to 1. Stocks of merchandise on hand have also shown a healthy decrease of about 13 per cent since the first of the year.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, none.
Common stock (no par.) 1,185,580 shares.

Current data: About thirty new openings are planned for the final half of the present year.

(All rights reserved, Cambridge Associates, Boston)

Nevertheless, some corporate managements may have difficulty in explaining supporting activities to stockholders at the end of this year. No matter how good the intention, it is always difficult to gloss over losses, and most companies recently supporting stocks undoubtedly are hung up now with substantial paper losses in their own securities.

DETAILS UNDISCLOSED

Stockholders, however, are not always permitted to look behind the scenes and learn what the management has done along this line. Most of the supporting activities are handled through some subsidiary or affiliated company, generally to avoid charter limitations of the parent company, and the details never filter through to the consolidated balance sheet.

Looked at from one angle, the wisdom is doubtful of a corporate management speculating in the company's stock with the company's money. They may call it investment, but any operation that contemplates the purchase of stock at a low price for sale at a higher price is certainly speculation.

The management may rightly figure the stock is a sound investment at prevailing prices, yet it is not the aim of the supporting operation to accumulate stock for investment. As soon as the expected rally materializes the intention is to distribute the shares at a profit on a steady and rising market.

LOW POINT GUESSWORK

This is speculation, and speculation with other people's money. If the support of the market results in the accumulation of stock at the approximate bottom, then the guess has been good speculation. But if the bottom is missed and prices fade to lower levels, the poor guess may result in hanging the company up with a high-priced investment in its own stock.

Placing of supporting orders to prevent demoralization of prices is done occasionally, and is usually advocated as a means to prevent complete panic and the useless sacrifice of stocks by investors. Usually, however, these extraordinary measures are taken by an organized group contributing to a general fund, which is employed by experienced operators in a wide list of key stocks.

After bitter experience with supporting stocks since last November, many corporate managements have come to the conclusion that the price of the stock is immaterial. These companies are severely criticised by some stockholders, yet it may develop that they are better off than other companies still trying to find the bottom.

Empire Steel Control Sold to New Group

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22. (AP)—Reorganization of the Empire Steel Corporation, a $23,000,000 concern, with plants in Cleveland, Ashtabula, Niles and Mansfield, O., under which stock control will be placed in the hands of voting trustees, with Pickands, Mather & Co., Cleveland, steel and ore operators, taking a prominent part, was announced here late today.

The announcement of the reorganization of the Empire board of directors, said that Pickands, Mather & Co. had recently acquired the common shareholdings of W. H. Davey, former president, and associates and that many of the large stockholders entered into an agreement whereby the large holdings of common shares, under a trust agreement, will be placed in the hands of voting trustees.

All shareholders will be given an opportunity of joining in the trust agreement, it was said.

The reorganized board named Paul Llwellyn, former president of Interstate Iron and Steel Company, Chicago, as chairman.

New Union Oil Listings Voted

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday approved the application of Union Oil Company of California to list 43,451 additional shares of $25 par value common stock. This stock will be issued November 10, 1930, in payment of the 1 per cent stock dividend due on that date. The number of shares now listed on the exchange totals 4,538,571, of which 4,345,120 were outstanding as of October 8, 1930.

Governors also approved the application of Union Oil Associates to list 24,733 additional shares of $25 par value common stock, which is also the result of a 1 per cent stock dividend to be paid November 10, 1930. Total number of shares of Union Oil Associates now listed on the exchange amounts to 2,498,051, of which 2,473,318 shares were outstanding as of October 8, 1930.

OIL DIVIDEND RATE ASSURED

Head of Texas Corporation Points to Past Record of Company

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—"I can see no reason why a change in the dividend policy of the Texas Corporation should be considered at this time," said R. C. Holmes, president, who is in Chicago to address the seventh Conference of Major Industries.

He drew attention to the record of his company in past periods of depression, but declined to discuss probable earnings this year.

Iron and Steel Trade Outlook Brightens Up

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Increased railroad buying, heavy awards of structural steel and scattered gains in steel production are favorable developments in an iron and steel market in which pronounced conservatism remains a dominant note, according to the Iron Age.

Even more heartening to the iron and steel trade than the betterment in railroad buying or maintenance of structural steel demands is evidence that consumption is bumping rock bottom. With the decline in demand as measured by shipping orders, steel output shows signs of stabilizing. Raw steel output for the country at large is estimated at 53 per cent against 55 per cent a week ago.

Little hope is held out for an upturn in general demand so long as business sentiment remains so conservative. Downward adjustments in pig iron and steel are in diminishing number but scrap continued to show pronounced weakness. Heavy melting grade is off 25 cents a ton at Pittsburgh and St. Louis and 50 cents a ton at Chicago and Detroit.

USUAL EXTRA PAID

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Ingersoll-Rand Company today declared the usual extra of $1 on the common stock and the regular quarterly dividend of $1, both payable December 1 to stock of record November 3.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Only a moderate volume of business was reported in cotton here today and prices were slightly lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables, a favorable construction of the weekly weather report and some further hedge selling.

Trade buying was again in evidence on the declines and after selling off to 10.50 for December and 10.77 for March, or about 7 to 9 points net lower, prices steadied up a few points on covering. The mid-afternoon market was steady at net declines of 3 to 6 points.

PROFITS OF GAS UTILITY SHOW DROP

Los Angeles Company Reports on Operations for Twelve Months

Net profits of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation for twelve months ended September 30 amounted to $4,713,738.51 after all charges, including depreciation and charges, which is equivalent to $24.18 a share on the greatest amount of preferred stock outstanding during the period, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

All of the common stock is owned by Pacific Lighting Corporation. After provision for preferred dividends, there was a balance available for the common stock and surplus of $3,546,116.29.

The net earnings available for preferred dividends compare with $5,970,913.92 reported for the same period a year ago, which represents a decrease of $1,257,175.41, or 20 per cent. A large portion of the decrease was attributed to an increase in the charge for depreciation of $471,582.06.

Gross earnings of the system aggregated $23,707,065.65, as against $24,149,986.57 a year ago, a decline of $442,921.22, or 1.8 per cent. Operating expenses and taxes increased $443,384.44 to $13,122,574.39, leaving a balance as net operating income of $10,584,491.26, against $11,470,796.93 a year ago, a decrease of $886,-305.67, or about 8 per cent.

The balance available for the common stock of $3,546,116.29, compares with $4,806,306.71 reported a year ago, representing a decrease of $1,260,190.42, or 26 per cent.

Paint Company Again Declares Extra Dividend

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22.—The Sherwin-Williams Company, in releasing its annual earnings statement today, announced the declaration of an extra dividend of 12½ cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly of $1 payable November 15 to stockholders of record the 31st inst. The regular quarterly preferred dividend was also declared payable December 1.

Net profits for the fiscal year closed August 31, last, amounted to $3,551,294 after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $4.18 a share on 635,593 common shares of $25 par value against $6,019,475 or $8.25 a share reported earned the preceding year. Sales totaled $75,-010,171 against $75,778,071 a year ago.

T. G. Murphy was elected secretary succeeding H. J. Douglas resigned. L. Reese was elected comptroller.

Large Fixture Orders Taken by Weber Concern

Weber Showcase and Fixture Company yesterday reported two orders totaling more than $100,000. One of the orders is for complete fixtures and showcases for fifteen stores of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company to be opened in the near future in various California cities.

The other order is for office partitions throughout the new Edison Building at Fifth and Grand.

Office space on every floor of the building, which is understood to be the second largest in the city in point of floor space, is to be subdivided exclusively with Weber sectional office partitions.

Mine Expansion Funds Assured

Completion of arrangements with French interests for the financing of further development by the White Hills Silver Mines, Inc., was announced yesterday by J. K. Turner, president and manager. The White Hills district, located north of Kingman, Ariz., was first discovered as a silver producer in 1892.

Properties controlled by the present company were previously worked by Denver interests, an English syndicate and various lessors.

RADIO PROFITS HELD AMPLE

Chairman Predicts Earnings Sufficient for Dividends

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Although no definite prediction can be made at this time, earnings of Radio Corporation for the year should amply cover the preferred dividend as well as being sufficient to assure the safety of the dividends on the B stock, Gen. James G. Harboard, chairman of the board, stated today prior to his departure for Europe.

"Fall buying has shown some improvement, and we anticipate a good holiday demand," the executive said. "Generally, I am satisfied with the outlook at this time and all indications point to improvement in our business for the last six months of 1930."

DR. SCHACT STATES CASE

German Financier Says Reparations Payments to Stop Unless Foreign Exports Increase

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the German Reichsbank, continues to shock his American audiences by frank statements. When he told the Foreign Policy Association in New York that all German reparation payments would be stopped unless other nations would buy German goods sufficient to square the account, the audience was surprised, but the statement is not a wild one, it is merely an economic truism.

But when this German banker stated that "some German government" would breathe defiance to the disarmament provision of the Treaty of Versailles unless the Allied countries carried out their part of the treaty bargain and divested themselves of growing armaments, he challenged a side of international relationships that no outstanding citizen of Germany has mentioned, except in a whisper.

How much increase in foreign trade does Germany need before she can continue making payments? About 40 to 50 per cent increase, answers Dr. Schacht. And such an expansion is out of the question right now, he adds.

John Foster Dulles, New York lawyer, one-time member of the Germans Reparations Commission, thinks Germany is able to pay her reparations at this time. He cites the fact that her exports are steadily increasing, and now exceed for the first time those of Great Britain.

"Germany's financial and economic burdens would not be lightened if at the same time she lost the power to inspire confidence in her credit, without which no nation can prosper," says Mr. Dulles.

Mr. Dulles advises Germany to shun those leaders "who deliberately stimulate a spirit of pessimism and defeatism in order that Germany may shed her reparation obligations."

Reports continue to come in from the different capitals of Europe that a five-year moratorium on war debts is being cooked up. The favorite argument is that it will become increasingly hard for the Allied governments to keep payments to the United States if the German reparation payments are suspended. These governments contend that reparations and Allied debts are closely related; but the United States refuses to admit this.

Dr. Ernest M. Patterson's new book, "The World's Economic Dilemma," makes extremely interesting reading.

It's an attempt to study the economic question from the international, rather than the national, point of view. It strikes a new note in the field of social economics.

Imagine discussing the pressure of population and climate as this professor does.

A chapter, too, is devoted to the gold standard and the price economy; another one to corporate growth and investment, followed by another on the economic activities of the government.

But it is in his chapters dealing with the economic difficulties of Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Japan and the United States, that Dr. Patterson touches high-water mark.

His plea is for a wilder vision—the "larger selfishness"—one that does not confine itself to national lines. No nation can continue to live unto itself . . . not even the United States, rich and self-contained as it is.

But Dr. Patterson believes the world's economic dilemma can be modified by an expansion of commercial treaties, based on mutual self-interest; a more scientific development of the international trust; the expansion of the work of such organizations as the International Chamber of Commerce and the various world activities connected with the League of Nations.

State Takes Lead in Gas Production

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—With natural gasoline production of 640,325,000 gallons in 1929 California for the first time has taken the lead among the States in supplying this commodity, according to figures issued today by the Commerce Department.

The total output of natural gasoline in the United States last year was 2,233,689,000 gallons—a new record—and California, with Oklahoma and Texas, now ranking second and third, respectively, supplied 87 per cent of the total.

The California production in 1929 was 44 per cent above that of 1928.

New Natural Gas Combine Formed

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Formation of a new natural gas system in the Southwest, the Consumers' Natural Gas Company, was announced today by A. T. Wood. He will head the new company which is to acquire control of Pecos Valley Gas Company in New Mexico, the Oklahoma General Gas Company and the Pioneer Gas Utilities Company.

As a result of the consolidation the Consumers' Natural Gas Company will own all of the outstanding stocks and other securities of the four subsidiary companies with the exception of a $474,000 first mortgage bond issue of the Pecos Valley Gas Company and a $441,-000 first mortgage bond issue of the Gas Company of New Mexico and small minority in the Pecos Valley Gas Company, the Oklahoma General Gas Company and the Pioneer Gas Utilities Company.

DIVIDEND PASSED

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—E. L. Bruce Company omitted today the quarterly dividend of 62 1-2 cents a share on the common due at this time, but declared the regular preferred dividend.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Quoted values of domestic bonds jogged in expanded activities today, while the main trend of foreign issues continued upward.

Liquidation was particularly heavy in all classes of railroad obligations, in contrast with the small losses in the best listed issues, second and third-grade liens dropped a point or more, several to new lows for the year.

British 5½s advanced ¼ point in an unusually large turnover, and closed ½ under the year's high. Brazilian 6s held steady. Santa Fe Argentine 7s advanced nearly 3 points. International Railways of Central America 6s reacted 15 points in one sale, and Allegheny Corporation 5s of 1944, and Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s dipped 4 each. Rails establishing new 1930 minimums included Chicago and Northwestern 4½s and Erie 5s of 1967.

If last price equitied, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Market Continues to Sink Lower as Demand Fails to Halt Selling Wave

Liquidating activities continued to sweep through the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday on the momentum of Tuesday's selling and thirteen issues sank into still greater depths, many breaking through lows established on the preceding session. Extension of the selling wave was attributed largely to distress liquidation, professional pressure being lessened in view of the already deflated condition.

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance, on a light turnover, crashed 15 points to 50 and recovered to 55, down 26 points net. Transamerica continued to reflect determined support when the stock was held within a range of 3-8 on a turnover of 6200 shares. It closed off 1-2 net to 17 7-8. Security-First National dropped 2 1-2 to 95 and ended at 95 1-8.

Among those to break through Tuesday's record bottoms were Standard Oil of California, Richfield, Pacific Western, Southern California Edison, Pacific Mutual, Security-First National Bank and International Re-insurance. Other stocks hitting new lows included Western Air Express, Western Pipe, Rio Grande, Claude Neon, North American Investment preferred 6's and Barker Brothers.

Standard Oil of California fell off a point to 51 and closed at 51 3-8 and Rio Grande, selling rapidly, yielded 7-8 to 7 7-8 and finished at 8 1-8. Richfield hit 6 1-2 and rallied to 6 3-4, down 1-4 net. Union Oil issues continued to trade briskly but held generally firm.

Western Air Express, which has not been traded on this board for the past few days, was called out at 18 to record a drop of 9 1-8 points. Claude Neon slumped more than 2 points to 17 and ended at 17 1-4. Pacific Finance with a turnover of 3200 shares held steadfastly to 15.

Sales totaled 39,040 shares valued at $1,003,440; previous day 48,998 shares valued at $1,339,528.

90¢ of Every Revenue Dollar from Electric and Gas Service

. . . Greater Security for Associated 5s of 1968

THE ASSOCIATED GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY derives 90% of its gross operating revenue from sales of electricity and gas. This is higher than the average for other gas and electric utilities.

More and more, public utility securities are to be found in the portfolios of institutional investors, due largely to the stability of gas and electric earnings demonstrated over a period of many years.

Over $30,000,000 of Associated Gas and Electric Company 5% Gold Debenture Bonds, due 1968, are held by banks, insurance companies, and other conservative investors.

Earnings 2.22 times interest on an overall basis before depreciation. Yield, at present prices, over 5¾%.

This security enjoys an active market on the New York Curb Exchange.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Curb shares held steady on the downgrade after a brief rally on the buying side. Trading was the most restricted considerable resistance to further declines, and net losses in the majority of issues. Trading was the most restricted session in many weeks, however, with sales for the day around 1,000,000 shares.

Weakness, reflecting continued gasoline price cuts, was the feature in petroleum shares, although statistics issued by the American Petroleum Institute showed a gain of 3,000,000 barrels in gasoline stocks during the week, compared with a decrease of 3,000,000 barrels a year ago. Cities Service and Standard of Ohio were the issues closed steady.

Utilities and specialties remained the most stable of the list, the utilities, and sold at or near the minimum prices reached in the declines of last November, generally supported at that level, and closed at 100. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore was one of the more

The Curb Exchange Company of America dropped 1 point to a new low for the year at 4, and Commonwealth Edison tumbled more than 3 points to 135, after having retired 2 points and 3 points respectively.

Bid prices only are quoted when same were lower than last sale and close when

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"Anybody's Woman." Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook enact romance pleasantly.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"So This Is London." Will Rogers's wit is still good for a couple of hours.

California, Main, near Eighth—"El Dios del Mar." An adventure in the sea which is sometimes slow. Rosita Moreno and Ramon Pereda.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy and simply swell. El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Up the River." A funny satire on prison life with a fine cast, headed by Spencer Tracey.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"Monte Carlo." A delightful Lubitsch satire with Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Raffles." The crook story elegant with that distinguished presence, Ronald Colman.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Dark Red Roses." An English drama. More tiresome than interesting.

Forum, Flea at Norton—"Dixiana." Nice music and Bebe Daniels might attract.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Love in the Rough." Opens today.

Majestic, Broadway at Ninth—"The Girl of the Golden West." The old melodrama for no good reason. Ann Harding.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Follow Thru." The musical comedy of golf and Buddy Rogers; but it's pretty endless.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"The Big Fight." Opens today.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Laughter." Opens today.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Let Us Be Gay." Norma Shearer gives a good performance in a made-over musical comedy.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Brothers." Opens today.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Lady Surrenders." An interesting film with excellent portrayal by Genevieve Tobin and Rose Hobart.

Tower, 849 S. Broadway at 8th—"Extravaganza." Opens today.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Let Us Be Gay."

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Whoopee." Eddie Cantor in the best of screen musicals.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Sinners' Holiday." Good atmosphere and fine performances, especially by James Cagney.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Maybe It's Love." Or maybe it's college, anyway you can use the all-American football team, and if you like, Joe E. Brown.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard—"The Santa Fe Trail." A western and not so bad; with Richard Arlen.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth; wild goings, which should prove popular. John Darrow.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the fun matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Figueroa Playhouse, 940 S. Figueroa—"Cup of Sugar." Dorothy Mackaye returns with this farce in which she recently scored a personal hit.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Little Orchid Annie." Fast farce matters not at all. Betty Bronson and a veteran supporting cast.

Mayan, Hill near 11th—"Temptations of 1930." A modern revue exhibiting some tuneful songs, clever dancing and colorful ensemble work.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"My Girl Friday." A fast and funny farce about the business man at play. With John T. Murray.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

Los Estudiantes de Oxford Protestan Contra las Coeducandas

ÒXFORD (Inglaterra), Octubre 22.—Los estudiantes de la vieja Universidad de Oxford han renovado su campaña contra sus compañeras de estudios.

Muchos de los estudiantes varones llevan largo tiempo de combatir el sistema de matriculación mixta. La revista estudiantil "Isis" publica hoy un editorial contra las alumnas, y les dice: "Angeles, volved a vuestras casas."

Una de las quejas de "Isis" contra las muchachas es que son indecorosas: van en bicicleta por las calles exhibiendo descaradamente las piernas. En las salas de conferencia hacen desayunos muy tardíos de chocolate y bizcochos. La citada revista agrega: "Cuando Matthew Arnold conoció Oxford, no ha de haberle pasado por la mente que llegara a albergar un día horquillas perdidas y sombreros de formas imposibles."

La Armada Pondrá a Prueba el Autogiro

WASHINGTON, Octubre 22.—El avión autogiro ha sido descrito hoy por David S. Ingalls, subsecretario de Mar ina en el negociado de Aeronáutica, "como un adelanto muy saliente en el ramo de aviación".

Dijo Ingalls que el ministerio de Marina va a comprar uno o más de esos aviones con fines de experimentación, tan pronto como estén más perfeccionados.

No ha mucho que vieron funcionar los oficiales de marina ese curioso avión de alas rabonas y aspas que giran sobre el "fuselage". El aeroplano despega mucho más aprisa que los ordinarios, según hace observar Ingalls; gana altura más rápidamente, y baja con la lentitud de un paracaidas. Su velocidad máxima actual es algo inferior a la del aeroplano ordinario, y no ofrece facilidades para tirar desde él, pues la ametralladora no podría apuntar hacia arriba, ya que los proyectiles perforarían las aspas giratorias; pero podría usársele como aparato de observación.

Lo que más impresionó al subsecretario Ingalls es la facilidad con que el avión despega y aterriza en áreas pequeñas. Dice que le parece ideal para los particulares, pues ofrece mucho mayores seguridades que los ordinarios.

Recobra su Automóvil, pero Reducido a su Más Simple Expresión

ADRIAN (Michigan), Octubre 22. La policía de esta ciudad insiste en que ha sido encontrado el coche, recientemente robado, de Donald Drickell; pero el dueño está lejos de haberse convencido de tal afirmación.

"El automóvil de usted", le dijo a Donald el jefe de policía de aquí, "ha sido hallado a seis millas al norte de la población. No tiene usted más que ir allá y recogerlo."

Donald se puso alegremente en marcha. En el punto preciso señalado por la autoridad, vio, efectivamente, que su automóvil reposaba a la vera del camino.

Era su coche, a no dudar, y para estar completo sólo le faltaban las siguientes insignificantes partes: el radiador, los faros, la caja de engranes del eje posterior, la bocina, las ruedas y neumáticos . . . y el motor.

PLANE ALL SET TO SPAN NATION

Sunday Will See Start of Line to New York

Record-Breaking Mail Load to Go Via T. and W. A.

Postmasters to Take Part in Ceremonies at Airport

With what is expected will be a record-breaking load of air mail and a full consignment of passengers, the first plane bearing mail and passengers over Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., will take off for New York on a thirty-six-hour, all-flying schedule at 5 a.m. Sunday from the Alhambra terminal, Valley Boulevard.

Postmasters of four cities and municipal executives will gather at the field for brief ceremonies that will mark the inauguration of an all-air mail connecting Los Angeles with New York.

While plans were completed for the send-off of Saturday's ship arrangements were being made to speed the first westbound plane to schedule under the new schedule—it will leave Sunday at 5 p.m. from New York.

WOMEN TO HAVE PART

Postmaster O'Brien of Los Angeles will take a leading part in Saturday's early morning ceremonies. Other postmasters who will be present are R. N. Marriott, Alhambra; Ralph Reiser, Glendale, and W. F. Voigt, Pasadena.

Much of the expected heavy mail tonnage will be made up of letters written by school children of Los Angeles, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Columbus, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Philadelphia and New York. The children are anxious to place extra letters aboard the history-making ships, with the result that it may be necessary to carry the first shipment in a plane that will haul mail exclusively.

SCHEDULES LISTED

Under the new system planes of T. & W.A. will leave for New York each morning from Alhambra at 5 o'clock, fly to Kansas City for an overnight stop and continue to New York the next day, arriving there at 3:30 p.m.

Eastbound through ships will leave New York westbound at 8 a.m. each day, fly to Kansas City, stop overnight and land here at 8 p.m. at the end of the second day. Mail will be carried on all the route in both directions.

The other service under the new schedule calls for a plane leaving Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, each day at 10:30 a.m. with an overnight stop at Amarillo, Tex. No mail will be carried between here and Amarillo on these ships, but express will be picked up each morning at Amarillo and shuttled to St. Louis through Oklahoma City and Wichita, Kan., while passengers are en route from Amarillo in the same planes to Columbus on the second day of flight.

PASSENGER PLANS

From Columbus passengers will ride the Pennsylvania Railroad to New York at night, arriving there in approximately forty-six hours from Los Angeles.

Going westward passengers on the all schedule will leave New York by train each night over the Pennsylvania and take a plane out of Columbus the next morning for Amarillo. An overnight stop also will be made at Amarillo coming west, with ships of this route due at Grand Central at 3:50 p.m. each day.

"Fare services, although practically following the same old Spanish and Santa Fe trails of the 1849 prospectors, contrast vividly with the mush and train schedule of ninety-five days, then pony express of thirteen days and present record times of approximately forty-five hours.

Actor Washburn Becomes Father

Bryant Washburn, stage and screen actor, was on the receiving end of congratulations last night as he was passing around the traditional box of perfectos, for Mrs. Washburn yesterday morning had presented him with a six-and-one-half-pound baby girl. The child was born at Hollywood Hospital, with Dr. James Beggs in attendance. The physician stated both mother and daughter are doing well. Before her marriage Mrs. Washburn was Virginia Vance. She was a screen actress.

EX-ACTRESS ARRIVES TO BEGIN AGAIN

Cecelia Loftus Prepares to Go Before Film Cameras in New Stage Venture

It was a day of threefold meaning yesterday for Cecelia Loftus, once one of the greatest musical stars of the country, when she stepped from the Union Pacific Los Angeles Limited to gather her eighteen pieces of luggage, take her cat under her arm and call her traveling companion and start for Hollywood.

It was her birthday. It was her twenty-fifth anniversary of the first trip she made to Los Angeles and it was the day she launched a new career on the stage, this time before cameras on the Fox lot.

"Cissie" started her career in the Oxford Music Hall in England thirty-seven years ago.

Twenty-five years ago to the day of her arrival she came to Los Angeles in the E. H. Sothern play, "If I Were King." Since then she has made several short trips to the Coast. She is 54 years of age.

GOOD WILL CHESTS GO TO MEXICO

Golden Rule Foundation Sends Medical Supplies to School Children

The Mexican child welfare committee, sponsored by the Golden Rule Foundation, has undertaken to provide a Friendship Health Chest for 7000 villages in which the Mexican Department of Education has recently established rural schools. Several hundred chests have already been shipped. Each chest contains a medical unit selected by the medical department of the government, a manual of instructions, a first-aid kit, an antivermin kit, six layettes, playground material, story books in Spanish, pictures, a Mexican and an American flag, a friendly letter to the teacher and useful presents for the children.

The work is undertaken in cooperation with the Federal Department of Education. Most of the villages are far from hospitals and medical aid.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt of San Francisco, for seven years western secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, has resigned to become executive director of the Mexico Child Welfare Committee.

The public schools in several American States are already making this expression of friendship a major project of good will. The boys are making chests in their manual training classes and the girls are making layettes in their sewing classes.

The Golden Rule Foundation here is in charge of E. Guy Talbott, associate national secretary, at 130 South Broadway.

POMEROY URGES CURB ON NOISES

Din Menaces Health, Says County Officer

Friday Morning Club Plans War on Clatter

Council's and Supervisors' Aid in Fight Asked

There is a large amount of unnecessary noise in Los Angeles county, particularly in the limits of the incorporated cities, which can be eliminated in the interests of public peace and health, in the opinion of Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer.

Dr. Pomeroy has been chosen as one of the principal speakers when the Friday Morning Club launches its campaign against unnecessary noise on November 4, next. His topic will be "Noise and its Effect on Public Health."

"There is no question many of the noises arising from our hectic modern way of living can be done away with," Dr. Pomeroy declared. He has been making a study of the problem from a health standpoint, and has compiled considerable data from the New York health department, which is now experimenting with regulations for the elimination of noise.

"Take the matter of riveting steel," Dr. Pomeroy continued. "All this terrible din created in the riveting of steel girders going up in our modern buildings can be silenced, silenced by welding. I am told, too, that welding makes a better job than the rivets.

"Then there is the boy-friend who sits out in his roadster and toots his horn announcing his arrival to his best girl. Not only the girl knows he is at the curb, but residents for blocks around.

"Also there is the radio fan who insists on keeping a radio tuned in until the wee hours of the morning. One maniac I know of is not satisfied with having his machine in the house, but carries it to the lawn where he turns on a loud speaker and keeps the racket going for hours into the night while entertaining a crowd of friends.

"And something should be done about the constant blat, blat of the radio sets in front of stores that sell them. Certainly they do not add to the peace and health of a neighborhood.

"Another noise that can be eliminated is that made by flat wheels on street cars. And, the rattling trucks are awful. Something should be done about them. They could be tightened up and a lot of street noise would be eliminated.

"Of course, we have a lot of noise in the industrial district, noise that it would be almost impossible to eliminate. However, there is a lot of it that can be gotten rid of.

"All of these unnecessary noises are helping to create nervous diseases among our people. They injure ear drums, disturb digestion and in many cases cause high blood pressure.

Dr. Pomeroy concluded that the Board of Supervisors and the City Council should create committees from the citizenry to study the noise problem and to ascertain, if possible, means of quieting down the whole county.

John W. Eckman Rites Conducted

Funeral services for John W. Eckman, father of Arthur W. Eckman of the Los Angeles Board of Education, were conducted yesterday afternoon in the chapel of R. C. Dellenbaugh & Co. Mr. Eckman died suddenly at his home, 1013 South Burlington street, Saturday night as the result of a heart attack.

Mr. Eckman was 67 years of age and a native of Texas. Most of his early life was spent in that State and for many years he served as a conductor on passenger trains running out of El Paso. His railroad work ended when he was injured, and he came to Los Angeles in 1910. During his residence here he has been a process server.

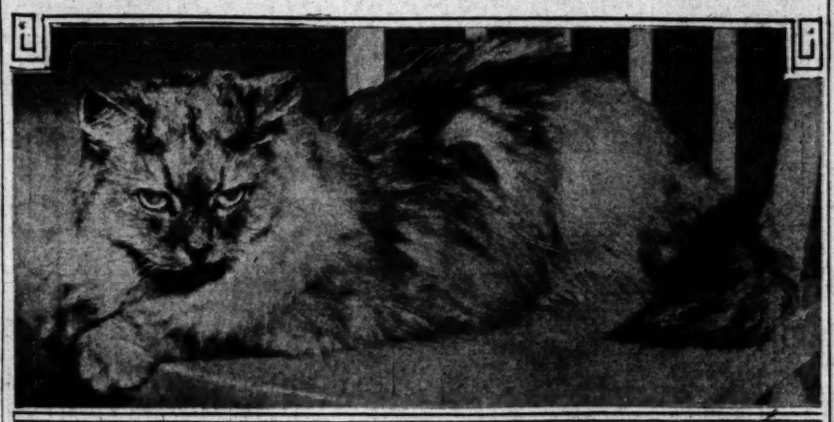
Following the chapel services yesterday the remains were cremated.

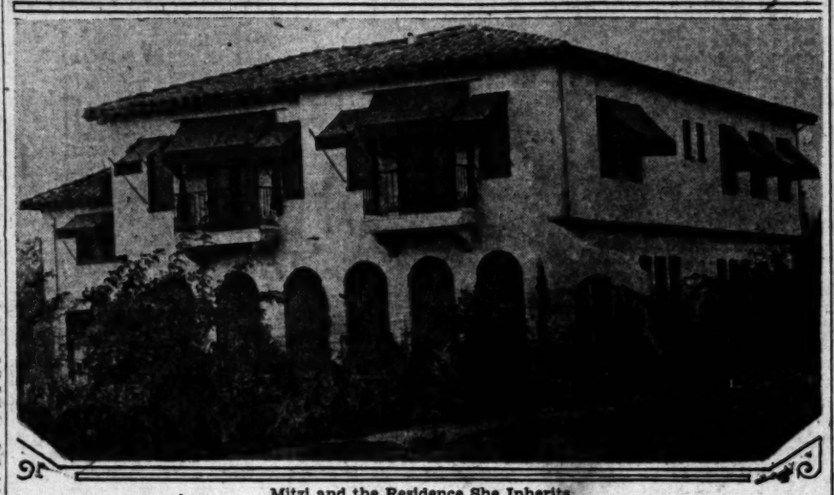
COUNCIL CONFIRMS GRIMMER SELECTION

The City Council yesterday confirmed Mayor Porter's appointment of G. W. Grimmer to the Civil Service Commission, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of C. E. Kenyon. Grimmer is a real estate broker who lives at 3948 Woodlawn avenue.

WILL FIXES CAT FOR ALL NINE LIVES

Fine Home and $15,000 Cash Left Pet of Woman Doctor





Mitzi and the Residence She Inherits

ERAS of economic depression, when so many cats have to prowl alleys in search of half-starved and unappetizing mice, will hold no terrors for Mitzi, the 18-year-old pet cat of the late Mrs. Maude F. Ide of San Gabriel.

Because in Mrs. Ide's will, filed for probate yesterday, provision is made through a $15,000 trust fund for Mitzi's enjoyment of fresh milk, liver and other comestibles dear to the feline heart throughout the remaining lives of Mitzi's original nine. And not only is Mitzi's diet insured, but the will provides that she shall never be forced to roam strange alleys, as the decedent's palatial home at 119 West Live Oak street, San Gabriel, is to be maintained as a refuge for the "millionaire cat," as Mitzi will doubtless come to be known among her less fortunate associates.

Mrs. Ide, who was also known as Dr. Maude F. Cain, a practicing physician, left a fortune estimated unofficially at $500,000. After Mitzi's needs are provided for, one-third of the estate will go to support human charities. Of this, $25,000 will be left to the Mercy Hospital, Springfield, Mass., to endow five free beds for workingmen. The rest of this third goes to the Sisters of Providence Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., to endow a fund for needy working girls.

Jose Sandoval and Polar Sandoval, gardeners in Mrs. Ide's employ, will get the income from a $22,500 trust fund. A similar arrangement benefits Henry J. Wallace, St. Johnsbury, Vt., a cousin. Mrs. Bertha May Hall, Nashua, N. H., another cousin, will get $25,000, and a number of other relatives will get $500 to $5000 each.

Mrs. Pauline Agnes Goetze, Mrs. Ide's housekeeper, will live at the decedent's home, and care for Mitzi, as long as she desires to do so. An income from a $15,000 trust fund is to be devoted to this purpose. And when Mitzi dies, she will have an heir, just the same as a wealthy human being who cannot take to the next world his earthly possessions.

The will provides that Mrs. Otelia Kuschke, 1020 South Citrus avenue, executor of the will, and residuary legatee, upon the death of Mitzi, shall fall heir to the cat's $15,000 trust fund.

Mitzi is not expected to survive her mistress long. Animal experts say that eighteen years is much longer than the average cat lives.

Mrs. Goetze said Mrs. Ide often had remarked that Mitzi would outlive the mistress.

"Mitzi has the run of the house," Mrs. Goetze explained. "She has her meals of chopped liver on a separate dining-room table from the one at which we eat.

"As far as her living for several years goes she seems to be in better health now than last summer. She had to have four teeth pulled during the summer—two at a time—and we thought we would lose her.

"She has a weak heart and has 'spells' now and then, but outside of getting tired easily and being a little stiff in the hind legs she seems to be as fit as ever. Her coat of fur is remarkable for a cat of her age, veterinarians tell us.

"Mrs. Ide raise dher from the time she was a tiny kitten—a gift from a friend in Los Angeles. She is a pure bred Persian.

"It is evident that she misses Mrs. Ide. She was with her mistress most of the time during those eighteen years and whenever a stranger approaches Mitzi turns to ascertain whether it is her mistress returning."

DAM SURVEY COMPLETED

Special Board of Engineers Reports Findings in Study of San Gabriel Excavations

Completing their survey of San Gabriel dam excavations in connection with complaints that Los Angeles county was overcharged $700,000 by contractors for work accomplished up until the time the project was abandoned, the specially appointed group of engineers yesterday submitted a rough draft of their report to the grand jury committee in charge of the matter.

After spending nearly two hours in conference, it was announced by Frederic I. Morris, grand jury foreman, that several changes had been suggested and that the modified report will be presented to the grand jury officially at a special session tomorrow. The changes in the report, Morris said, do not affect it except to provide a more complete summary of the engineers' findings.

The engineers and members of the grand jury committee declined to discuss the report. The summary of the experts' findings will be made public tomorrow, Morris said, if it is accepted by the grand jury as a whole.

The engineers who made the investigation are Dr. Franklin Thomas, Porter Albright and R. V. Meikel. Members of the grand jury committee are Thomas O'Neill, A. W. Townsend, C. S. Thompson, Homer J. Carr and Foreman Morris.

SCHULMAN UNABLE TO TALK YET

Victim of Explosion in Garment Capitol Friday Still Shaken, Says Doctor

Investigation into the cause of the explosion that rocked the Garment Capitol Building last Friday was temporarily halted yesterday when police and fire investigators declared they could proceed no further until they could interview Hyman Schulman, proprietor of the shop in which the blast originated.

At the same time, Dr. L. J. Huff, 7046 Hollywood Boulevard, Schulman's personal physician, declared his patient has not sufficiently recovered from the effects of the blast to stand the ordeal of a lengthy interview. Dr. Huff said Schulman's recovery is being delayed beyond the normal time because of shock sustained as a result of his experiences and predicts that it will be Saturday or next Monday before his condition will permit his examination.

Since being taken to the Hollywood Hospital, Schulman's only visitors have been his wife and attorney, Dr. Huff stated, and they have been cautioned not to discuss the explosion.

MRS. CAMPBELL TO TALK

"Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Mrs. Patrick Campbell at the Vine-street Theater Friday afternoon. Mrs. Campbell will use excerpts from her successful plays to illustrate her methods.

ANYWAY, SHE'S STILL SHOT!

Girl Offers Third Version of Wounding, Now Informing Police "I Did It"

Miss Yvonne Le Blanc, 22 years of age, offered a third version yesterday of how she came to suffer a slight bullet wound in the hip last Monday at her home, 715 South St. Andrews Place. Her first story had been her ex-husband, Max Goff, shot her. Next she said an influential man, whose name she would never disclose, did it. Yesterday she told police:

"I did it."

Child's Match • Curiosity May End Fatally

Matches, dried grass and the curiosity of a 3-year-old child may prove a fatal combination in the case of little Arlene Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Grace of 1010½ South Herbert street.

Last night the child was suffering from seared flesh and flame-choked lungs that attendants at the General Hospital defined as very serious, following her efforts to play with ignited matches in the dry grass of the front yard.

The grief-stricken mother explained that the baby took some matches and went into the yard to play. A short time later a woman passer-by carried the badly burned child into the home. The tiny dress had become ignited.

An ambulance hurried the child to the hospital where surgeons and nurses are battling to save her life.

CITY'S DELEGATES PICKED

City Engineer Jessup and Councilman Williams were delegated yesterday to attend a meeting of the State Board of Health in the Associated Realty Building this morning, when the board will consider the application of Long Beach to run its sewage in the Long Beach Channel.

MAYOR ALTERS WALKUP STORY

Mosher Informed Him About "Check-up," Porter Says

Hiring of Ward, Now Hiding, Reported to Executive

Knowledge of Affair Denied When Quiz Opened

Mayor Porter knew of the connection between W. J. Mosher, his investigating secretary, and Edward S. Ward, a private detective, now being sought by the authorities as the result of the asserted plot to "frame" Police Commissioner Walkup with a pretty blond woman.

The Mayor, according to his own statement yesterday, knew that Mosher and Ward intended to do some "checking-up" regarding Walkup's asserted activities, but had no knowledge, he says, of any attempted frame-up of the city commissioner.

After having already told newspaper reporters and police officials that he had no knowledge of the Walkup matter and that he wanted the affair investigated to the bottom, the Mayor late yesterday afternoon astonished the investigators by remembering that he had been informed by Mosher of some few details of the Walkup "check-up" which is now being investigated as an asserted frame-up.

WARD MENTIONED

Mosher, according to Mayor Porter, informed the head of the city government some weeks ago that rumors of "irregularity" on Walkup's part were coming to him. It was then, according to Porter, that he ordered Mosher to begin the investigation which later resulted in the present frame-up inquiry by the police, the District Attorney's office and the county grand jury.

Further statements by Mayor Porter yesterday disclosed that Mosher had informed the Mayor that he intended to employ Edward S. Ward to "work on" Walkup as his personal investigator. Nothing of the nature of a frame-up was mentioned by Mosher during his conversations with the Mayor, according to Porter, and no details of the investigation were explained by Mosher. Also, according to Porter, no report of any kind was ever made by Mosher to him.

GOES INTO HIDING

It was shortly after the police had arrested Miss Helen Lee, the pretty young blond woman who confessed the entire asserted plot to the authorities, that Ward, sought by the police, was discovered to have fled from the city or gone into hiding. He took with him a police badge issued to him by Chief Steckel at the instruction of Mosher, according to the officers who are attempting to find him.

From Miss Lee and other witnesses the county grand jury Tuesday heard most of the details of the asserted plot and also were told by Miss Margaret Johnson that a City Hall official had offered her a position trapping city commissioners at $10 a day and $50 when the arrests took place. Walkup was the first to be trapped and was to have been followed by two other commissioners and a number of others, according to Miss Johnson.

Yesterday Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, in charge of the investigation for his office, declared that additional witnesses in the case will not be called before the grand jury until next Tuesday. Meanwhile Ward and Connor M. Shawn, a taxicab official mentioned by Miss Lee as having had a leading part in the asserted plot, are still being sought by the police.

Hahn Residence Held No Bar in Ruling on Suit

While Superior Judge Hahn yesterday tried to disqualify himself from hearing a Pasadena condemnation suit because he lives in Pasadena, attorneys for both sides insisted upon his hearing the case. The suit is a condemnation action brought by the city of Pasadena against James P. Clark, prominent resident, for the opening and widening of Holly street.

Clark is the only one of the eighty property owners affected who is demanding a jury trial. He testified that two buildings on his property represented an investment of $17,000. Attorney A. D. Orme represents Clark, while Assistant City Attorney Stoehr appeared for the city.

OPENING OF BIDS SET

The Board of Public Works announced yesterday that bids will be opened November 5, next, for the demolition of buildings along the line of the extended Spring street between Temple street and Sunset Boulevard.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

EVERYONE in the world has now seen Agua Caliente. I was the last one. I have just come from there.

In point of architecture, artistic surroundings and gay caballeros who warble Spanish tunes to the tinkle of guitars, it is as lovely as a Cecil De Mille movie. In fact, it was a good deal like a Cecil De Mille set, anyhow.

As to the degree of sin it was a bitter disappointment. I hung around for hours in the hope of seeing a ruined young man stagger out with a little round blood-stained hole in his gleaming shirt and die in a moonlit court. But there wasn't even a moon.

SHOPPING

To tell the truth, Agua Caliente reminded me of a Friday white sale with the girls suspiciously shopping around from one table to another. And most of them were far removed from the expected type—the Russian countess desperately staking her last dollar.

The majority were somewhat dowdy ladies, who poked half-dollars at numbers on the table and gave dirty looks to the inscrutable young dealers when they lost. I have heard a great deal about the hot, fierce, avaricious eyes of the woman gambler—their blue-bitten lips, etc. To me they all had the joyless, grim look of a woman at a remnant counter.

THE SOUSED LADY

The only interesting woman I saw was a girl who was slightly soused. She kept up a dignified walk between a roulette table and the Klondike dice game. She would put a half-dollar down on a Klondike number; if she won she would leave it there to double the winnings. When she lost—as she usually did—she would give the dealer a glare of haughty and disdainful accusation and walk with heavy—if a trifle uncertain—dignity to the roulette wheel, where she would repeat the performance.

WHEN WOMEN GAMBLE

One distinction between men and women gamblers was borne in upon me. Men like to gamble. Women like to get something for nothing. I don't believe any of them like to play the games. If they could double their money in some quicker way they would do it.

TRAFFIC

The traffic into Tia Juana simply staggers the imagination.

An average of 20,000 cars cross the line every Sunday. On week days they average 12,000. This brings the total to something like 4,600,000 cars a year, carrying from 9,000,000 to 15,000,000 persons. When you remember that Tia Juana has only 8000 inhabitants, it takes on an Alice-in-Wonderland touch.

If 10,000,000 will ride down to Tia Juana for the very mild excitement of standing with one foot on a brass rail drinking beer and putting half-dollars on a green baize table, there ought to be 100,000,000 go down into Mexico when the International Pacific Highway is opened. There is really something to see.

WIDER ROADS

The future automobile traffic of California is also something to worry about. When the highways were first built, fifteen feet was enough width to carry the cars. As rapidly as possible they are being widened and the State Highway Commission is looking forward to the day when they will all be fifty-six feet. It will only be a matter of a short time until even our 7000 miles of maintained roads will have to be stretched to stand up under the strain.

NEAR-BEER GIVEN "KICK" BY MEANS OF LABELS

Federal prohibition agents chuckled yesterday at the "expose" of a so-called night life beer club in the 3600 block on Wilshire Boulevard. The place is known as the "Corner Club" and operates with the knowledge of prohibition officers, but:

Several weeks ago the proprietor of the place interviewed Deputy Prohibition Administrator Peters and Chief Field Agent Noe.

"I have a cafe," he said, "and a lot of people come in there, many times half swacked, and demand beer or liquor. I do not sell either, except near beer. Is it against the law to sell near beer with labels such as 'Bass's Pale Ale,' 'Pabst's Beer,' 'Winnipeg Pale Ale' and other popular labels, providing it is near beer and the label says 'less than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol?'"

"Certainly not," said Mr. Peters. "You can sell all the near beer you want, so far as the government is concerned."

The cafe owner then explained his method. He said that customers would come in and say, sotto voce, "Have you any beer?" Then the head waiter would look about cautiously and say, "Yes. What kind?" So the "whispering beer" would be served, very cold, after the label was shown and carefully removed. A nice price was charged and great satisfaction emanated from the customer, who in most cases had imbibed in other spirits before entering the place.

"If Hollywood wants it, let 'em have it," said the cafe man. "They want something to drink and don't know the difference between near and far beer."

So, Mr. Peters stated with a laugh, the cafe man can sell all the near beer he wants, even if his customers do look upon fancy labels and think it is something with a kick.

MAYOR TO LIMIT TALK AT HARMONY MEETINGS

At adjournment of Mayor Porter's first "harmony" meeting of all his commissioners yesterday at which most of them made speeches, the Mayor declared that at the next session addresses will be limited, the affair will break up promptly at 4 p.m., and that a noise-abatement committee he has selected will make a report.

The only problem presented by any of the speakers was offered by Mrs. Mabel Socha, president of the Park Commission. She said that 71 per cent of the male personnel of the department laborers are between 61 and 85 years of age and if they could be replaced by younger men a great reduction could be made in expenses. She said the commission found an easy job for one oldster in his eighties in Westlake Park, picking up pieces of paper with a pointed stick, but he had to be replaced because the white shirt of a young man napping on the grass looked like a piece of waste paper to him, with consequent disastrous results.

Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the Water and Power Commission, took the opportunity offered to make a plea for the power bonds.

Some interest to the affair was added by Fire Commissioner Werdin, who kept putting a cigar into his mouth and taking it out, but never quite got to the point of lighting it.

Mayor Porter slipped out of the meeting for a while to accept an engrossed and illuminated invitation from Gov. Almazan of the State of Puebla to attend the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the founding of the city of Puebla next April 16.

The Mayor opened the meeting by explaining that he wants all the

FOURTEEN REDS' RETRIAL FIXED

Case Resulting From Riots Set for November 21

Complaints Against Five in School Meeting Dropped

Judge Reverses Decision on Sidewalk Charge

Retrial of fourteen Communist sympathizers, in whose case a jury in Municipal Judge Wood's court disagreed after more than twelve hours' deliberation, was set by Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday for November 21, next. The trial consumed three weeks. All of the defendants were charged with refusing to disperse during the North Main street riots of August 1, last.

Complaints against five radical agitators, accused of disturbing the peace of students of Roosevelt High School by holding a Communist meeting on a sidewalk in front of the school, were dismissed by Judge Curtis at the request of Deputy City Prosecutor Johnstone. Convicted by a Municipal Court jury, the five won a reversal in the appellate division of Superior Court, which held that the meeting was not a disturbance of the peace. The defendants were Yetta Stromberg, now under sentence to San Quentin for her activities in the Yucaipa Communist camp; Tuffy Mallet, Israel Schulmann, Abe Shapiro and Martin Shapiro.

In Municipal Judge Eagan's court, Emma Cutler, who is serving a ninety-day sentence in the County Jail for assaulting a police officer, and Pat Chambers were tried yesterday on charges of blocking the sidewalk. They were arrested by officers at Twentieth and Alameda streets while haranguing a sidewalk crowd on a proposed Communist demonstration to be held on Labor Day, evidence disclosed. Judge Eagan, after hearing the evidence, took the case under submission until the 28th inst.

STUDENTS TO HEAR FITTS

Recent Communistic outbreaks in Los Angeles will be discussed by Dist.-Atty. Fitts today in an address to students of University of California at Los Angeles. The address, stated for Royce Hall at 1 p.m., is sponsored by the John Dewey Club, a civic study organization. It will be followed by an open forum.

NEW TRIAL OF COLLINS SUIT DENIED

Judge Hahn Rules Verdict Against Police Captain for False Jailing Just

Superior Judge Hahn yesterday denied Police Captain J. J. Jones's motion for a new trial of Mrs. Christine Collins's suit against the officer. A jury awarded Mrs. Collins a judgment for $10,800 damages on her complaint that Capt. Jones wrongfully incarcerated her in the psychopathic ward when she refused to accept a youthful impostor as her missing son, Walter Collins. The police captain asked for a new trial, contending the award was excessive.

Judge Hahn said his first impression was that it was an unusually large verdict, but after consideration felt that the verdict is not unjust. He cited the notoriety attending the incarceration and the mother's anguish for her missing son. Attorney S. S. Hahn represented Mrs. Collins.

McGuire, Board of Public Works Mrs. Socha and Willard G. Thorpe, Police Commission.

Final Services Conducted for Geologist Copp

Funeral rites were conducted yesterday at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for William Whipple Copp, petroleum engineer and geologist, who died Monday night at the United States Veterans' Hospital in San Fernando from tuberculosis contracted in France during the World War. The services were followed by cremation at Forest Lawn.

Mr. Copp, who was 48 years of age, was brought to Los Angeles by his parents when he was a baby. He was educated at Stanford University. His greatest achievement in his profession was his discovery of the Alamitos Bay oil field. He was a Mason, a Shriner and a member of several clubs. He leaves his widow, two sons, his parents and two brothers.

High Churchmen Will Assist in Impressive Ritual

Altar Dedication Scheduled as Part of Program

The magnificent altar of St. Vincent's Church, Figueroa and Adams streets, the only Spanish high altar in America, will be dedicated this morning by Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, D.D., bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego, inset, above, at the right. Sunday morning His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes, D.D., archbishop of New York (inset at the left above,) will celebrate pontifical mass in the newly consecrated church. Inset below is Very Reverend Martin J. O'Malley, C.M.D.D., pastor of the church.

McCABE TO MANAGE ROOSEVELT HOTEL

Robert J. McCabe, widely known hotel man and restaurateur, has been appointed manager of the Roosevelt Hotel, Hollywood, succeeding Frank Cummings, Jr., resigned. McCabe, recently managing director of the Half Moon Hotel, Coney Island, New York, and for many years occupying a similar post with California hotels, including the Arlington at Santa Barbara, the Del Mar at Del Mar, the Del Monte Lodge and others, has already assumed his duties. His grandfather and father owned and conducted hotels and taverns in Scotland. McCabe himself commenced his hotel career in the United States as assistant steward in the Manhattan Hotel, New York.

CONSECRATION TO BE TODAY

Ceremony at St. Vincent's Church Will Attract Thousands of Southland Catholics

With thousands of devotees attending, St. Vincent's Church, West Adams street, built and furnished at a cost of approximately $1,600,000 and dedicated April 6, 1925, will be consecrated this morning with all the elaborate and impressive ceremony of the Roman Catholic ritual. Bishop Cantwell of the diocese of Los Angeles will be the consecrator, assisted by Bishop Francis C. Kelley of Oklahoma, Bishop John J. Mitty of Salt Lake City, Bishop J. Henry Tihen of Denver, and Father William P. Barr, provincial of the Vincentians.

Consecration of a Catholic church, it was pointed out by Bishop Cantwell yesterday, imprints an indelible mark on the building, by reason of which it never can be sold or transferred to profane uses. Only church edifices that are permanent in construction and free of indebtedness can be consecrated.

CARDINAL TO BE VISITOR

The ceremonies this morning, beginning at 7 o'clock, will prepare the church and its membership of nearly 1000 families for the solemn pontifical mass which will be celebrated at 11 a.m. next Sunday by Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York, who now is visiting in Yosemite National Park, and who will arrive in Los Angeles, by motor car on Saturday morning. Cardinal Hayes will be the guest of Bishop Cantwell and is expected to remain in Los Angeles for several days. A dinner and reception in his honor, and in honor of other dignitaries of the Catholic church, will be given at 1 p.m., next Sunday at the Chester Place home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Doheny, whose generous donations made possible the building of the church.

FORM OF CEREMONY

At 7 a.m. today Bishop Cantwell and assisting prelates will pass around the exterior of the church, blessing the walls with holy water. On the inner walls the twelve crosses will be blessed and the candles lighted before them. Then the bishop and clergy will repair to the place at which the relics were deposited last night. With the exception of those participating in the ceremony, the church will be empty.

While the bishop is being vested, the seven penitential psalms are to be recited by the chanters, following which all will proceed to the main entrance and the bishop will bless the water to be used in the consecration. The bishop then will bless the exterior of the church, passing around the building three times. After each circuit, he will strike the front door with the base of his crozier and repeat the spiritual words: "Lift ye your gates, ye princes, and be lifted up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of Glory will enter in."

Three times the deacon within the church will ask, "Who is the King of Glory?" and the bishop will reply, "The Lord, strong and mighty, the Lord, mighty in battle, the Lord of armies, He is the King of Glory."

LITANY OF SAINTS

The bishop and his attendants then will enter the church, leaving clergy and people outside, and the door will be closed. The chanters will intone the "Veni Creator Spiritus" and chant the Litany of the Saints. With the point of his crozier, Bishop Cantwell will trace the Greek and Latin alphabets, in the form of a cross, in ashes spread on the floor of the center aisle. The two alphabets represent the Jews and Gentiles and symbolize the universality of the church.

The Bishop then will bless the Gregorian water with which he will trace five crosses on the altar and sprinkle the table and supports of the altar. The walls and floor then will be sprinkled with holy water.

DOORS TO OPEN

In solemn procession, the sacred relics will be brought in, placed in the altars and sealed in specially prepared receptacles. When the twelve crosses are anointed and the ornaments of the altars blessed, the doors will be opened to the people. Five masses then will be celebrated simultaneously by the five consecrators, each at the altar which he has consecrated.

The main altar, gift of E. L. Doheny in memory of his son, will be consecrated by Bishop Cantwell. Bishop Mitty will consecrate the altar in Our Lady's Chapel, gift from Mrs. Doheny. The altar in St. Joseph's Chapel, given by Mr. and Mrs. Doheny in memory of the late Bishop Glass, will be consecrated by Bishop Kelley. The consecration of the altar of the Sacred Heart will be by Bishop Tihen. This altar was presented by Mrs. Doheny, who also gave the altar of the Miraculous Medal Shrine, to be consecrated by Father Barr. Mrs. Doheny also donated the Little Flower statue and the St. Anthony statue. The Agony Chapel is the joint gift of Mr. and Mrs. Doheny. Following consecration ceremonies, Bishop Cantwell will celebrate solemn pontifical mass.

PONTIFICAL MASS

Following the singing of the solemn pontifical mass by Cardinal Hayes next Sunday morning, admission to which will be by ticket, a sermon will be preached by Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco. Bishop Cantwell will officiate at solemn pontifical vespers Sunday at 8 p.m. and the sermon will be by Archbishop John J. Glennon of St. Louis. Next Monday at 8 a.m. solemn requiem mass for deceased priests and parishioners will be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Mgr. John Cawley, V. G., and the sermon will be by Rt. Rev. Mgr. John McCarthy.

The new St. Vincent's Church is one of the finest edifices of its kind in America. The exterior and interior of the building were designed by Albert C. Martin. The altars and pulpit were designed by Cram & Ferguson, who also were in charge of the ceiling decorations.

BAXTER TO BE SPEAKER

Dr. Bruce R. Baxter, chaplain at the University of Southern California and assistant to President Von KleinSmid, is to address the Foreign Trade Club today noon, at the City Club, on "Foreign Trade and Business Prosperity." Clarence H. Matson will preside.

The robberies increased this month's total so far to eighty-eight. The total for last month up to midnight of September 21 was eighty-nine.

HOME RAID FAILS

George Bussy and his wife were victims of the residence hold-up. They reported three men, all armed with pistols, broke into their home at 2016 West Adams street shortly before midnight.

"We're outlaw coppers," one of the trio said, according to Bussey, "and we're looking for your diamonds."

Bussey said he and his wife were forced to partly disrobe to satisfy the bandits in their search for valuables. Unsuccessful, the trio left after half an hour's ransacking of the residence, taking nothing.

Gilbert Moore, collector for Consolidated Hotels, Inc., had just left a hotel at First and Berendo streets shortly after noon yesterday when a bandit, driving an old touring car, forced him into the curb and, threatening him with a pistol, robbed him of $500 in cash and $1200 in checks.

OTHERS ROBBED

Taxicab driver victims included R. W. Graham and Alfred N. Valeria. Graham was held up by one bandit at Rodney avenue and Ambrose street and robbed of $11 and his cab. The cab later was recovered. Valeria was robbed by two men of $5 at Winston and Wall streets.

Thomas Franklin reported he had just driven into the driveway of his home at 2933 South Dalton avenue when two men stepped up to him and, without warning, struck him on the head with a piece of pipe. He dropped unconscious to the pavement. When he regained his senses he found the bandits gone with a $100 vacuum cleaner and $50 worth of dusters from his car.

MANY AT CATHEDRAL BANQUET

St. Paul's Service League Dinner Guests Addressed by Bishop and Layman

The dinner of the Service League of St. Paul's Cathedral at the cathedral house last night was attended by 350 guests. A musical program was given by Margit Hegedus, violinist, accompanied by Will Garroway, pianist, and the Hallelujah Quartet, singers of Negro spirituals, through the courtesy of radio station KHJ.

Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens and Dr. Clinton Wunder, executive manager of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, were speakers. Dean Harry Beal presided.

The youth of England and the continent was the subject of Bishop Stevens's talk, in which he emphasized the new spirit of youth flourishing in all forms of athletics and sport, and particularly in the matter of church attendance, especially in England, and the increasing numbers of students in theological seminaries.

"The interest of the young people in one church alone, for example, St. Martin's-of-the-Fields in London, has been great enough to justify special services held exclusively for them," he said.

Dr. Wunder's talk embraced the broader concepts and possibilities of talking pictures in relation to educational and religious work and stressed the importance motion-picture films will have in the next decade to the field of scientific research.

ADVENTIST LEADER GOES TO CONCLAVE

Rev. F. E. Brodersen, president of the Southern California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, with headquarters at Los Angeles, is en route to Omaha to attend the annual world autumn council of the denomination, the 28th inst. to November 4. Rev. J. E. Fulton and B. M. Emerson of Glendale are representing the Pacific Union Conference. Statistics show that this territory leads all other unions in the amount of funds given to foreign missions. For the period ending August 31, eight months, $264,268.33 was given to foreign missions.

GROCER AND DANCER HELD

Wealthy Minneapolis Man and Girl Arrested on Complaint of Estranged Wife

Authorized by Minneapolis authorities to act as their agents, officials of the District Attorney's office here last night were preparing to return William Windom Spencer, 49-year-old wholesale grocer, to the Minneapolis city for prosecution on an adultery charge brought by his wife.

Spencer was arrested Tuesday night in a prominent Los Angeles hotel together with Miss Jerry Price, 25-year-old marathon dancer. While officers have definitely decided to return Spencer to Minneapolis for trial, they still were undecided last night as to the fate of Miss Price.

When Spencer was arrested by Detectives King and Yarrow, he also was charged with suspicion of violation of the Mann Act. If the man waives extradition and returns east voluntarily, this charge probably will be dropped, it was indicated.

Investigators under Blayney Matthews, chief of the District Attorney's bureau of investigation, state that the charge was brought by Spencer's estranged wife, who accused him of making a trip from Los Angeles to Minneapolis and return in the company of another woman.

At the time officers arrested Spencer he had $700 in cash and bonds and insurance policies valued at $100,000 in his possession.

Miss Price declared that she did not know that Spencer was married.

DEATH-PARTY INQUIRY ENDS

Noel Cole Tragedy Quiz Closes With Inquest

Coroner's Jury Lays Blame on Bootleg Liquor

No Prosecutions Planned in View of Findings

How a bootleg liquor party among youthful chance acquaintances climaxed in death yesterday was unfolded at an inquest into the death of Noel Cole, Los Angeles girl.

Following the testimony of several witnesses, a Coroner's jury returned a verdict ascribing the girl's death to acute alcoholism as the result of excessive drinking of intoxicating liquor at a party at 4105 Sepulveda avenue, Culver City.

The body of the girl was identified by her mother, Mrs. Mabel Cole, 811½ South Carondelet street, who told of seeing her daughter on Saturday evening a few hours prior to her death.

DISCOVERY OF DEATH

Subsequent testimony revealed that Neil Murphy found the girl dead on a bed in his apartment with Bobby La Salle, boxer, lying near by in a drunken stupor. Murphy stated that he had returned from taking May Levine, 17 years of age, to 614 North Spaulding avenue, to her home and on finding the Cole girl dead had summoned his uncle, Cecil Murphy, from near by.

Testimony of the younger Murphy revealed that he and La Salle met the Cole and Levine girls at a beach dance hall and repaired to the apartment of Murphy.

Mirbella Paciotti, 18, 2766 West Fifth street, told of accompanying the Cole girl to the dance, where they became separated.

La Salle testified that the girl insisted on making her drinks of liquor strong and that he had become too intoxicated to know what had happened.

OFFICERS TESTIFY

Other witnesses to testify included Dr. W. J. Lynch of Culver City, who pronounced the girl dead when summoned by Neil Murphy; Virgil Reed, Sheriff's office homicide investigator, who was called into the investigation by Culver City police, and Detective Sergeant Block, Motorcycle Officer O'Day and Police Officer Jones of the Culver City police.

After the inquest Leon Whitaker, County District Attorney, announced that no charges will be brought against anyone for the death of Miss Cole, because the inquiry failed to fix the blame upon any individual.

Rayney Matthews, chief of District Fitts's bureau of investigation, also stated that his investigation into the matter is closed unless additional facts are brought to light.

Indorsers of Sidney Graves to Use Radio

Antonio P. Ertenna, former National Commander of the Spanish-American War Veterans, and George B. Breslin are two of the latest individual indorsers of Sidney T. Graves, candidate for re-election as Supervisor from the Third District.

Ertenna and Breslin will participate in the radio phase of Graves's campaign drive, which opens today. This morning from 10:45 to 11 a.m. an address will be delivered from station KGFJ and from 9:20 to 9:40 p.m. another talk in his behalf will be broadcast from station KMTR.

Today Italian-American voters will fete Graves at a luncheon. Leading Italians of the city will be in attendance, together with representatives of other groups.

Special Counsel for Owens Job Given Approval

By a vote of 10 to 2, the City Council yesterday authorized the Board of Water and Power Commissioners to employ T. B. Cosgrove and W. G. Irving as special attorneys to represent the Bureau of Water and Water Works and Supply in the settlement of water rights litigation in the Owens River Valley.

Councilmen Lewis and Williams voted in opposition. Lewis, who is chairman of the Efficiency and Personnel Committee, contended that the contract should go to his committee, and protested against the haste.

The compensation under the contract is $200 a day for each day in court and $150 a day for work done outside courtrooms, with necessary expenses paid.

PARK SITE LEASE DEAL PROTESTED

Municipal League Hits at Royal Palms Project in Letter to Supervisors

Proposed purchase by the county of a lease on 355 acres at White's Point, known as Royal Palms acreage, in the interests of a county park, is protested by the Municipal League in a communication addressed yesterday to the Board of Supervisors. The protest sets forth the lease price is excessive; the 3800 feet of shore line includes practically no recreational beaches, and finally that acquisition of the property might interfere seriously with development of other projects.

A resolution of intention to acquire a leasehold on the property for fifty years was adopted by the board September 19, last, in response to requests by some sixty civic and business organizations. It would bind the county to expend $225,000 in improvements, $50,000 for the first and last years' rent and $18,000 rent each intervening year. The board is awaiting the county counsel's report on legality of the resolution.

"The Municipal League recognizes the need for more public beaches," the protest concludes. "It feels, however, that in this instance the real needs of the community will not be served but on the other hand will be used to serve the selfish interests of individuals who see in this purchase a means of escaping from an embarrassing predicament at considerable financial advantage to themselves." The communication is signed by Anthony Pratt, secretary of the league.

Clothiers Open Wilshire Store

The fifth store in the chain operated in the Los Angeles district by Mullen & Bluett, clothiers, was opened formally for business yesterday. It is at Wilshire and Harvard boulevards and is featured by a private motor court for the accommodation of customers.

"With the parking situation downtown growing increasingly serious, it is not unreasonable to expect that the retail center of the city may some day be within this very neighborhood," Robert G. Cate, vice-president and general manager, predicted in his selection of the new site. "I dare say that in a few years Wilshire Boulevard from the park to Beverly Hills will be solid business, and the Wilshire-Western district will be the hub."

ELKS TREK TO HAIL CHIEF

Grand Exalted Ruler Rupp Praises Southland and Tells of $20,000,000 Foundation Plan

The Elk call boomed across Los Angeles plains last night and leaders of the antlered herds in nineteen Southland meadows trekked in to mill around Grand Exalted Ruler Lawrence H. Rupp, here from his home in Shreveport, La., on an official tour of Pacific Coast lodges.

"Without the least bit of flattery," Rupp said, "I can say that I have never been more favorably impressed than I have been by Elks in California. Their devotion to the principles of our order, their sincerity in fellowship, their character and the charm of their ladies are exceedingly gratifying to the head of the order. I am glad to say it in the second largest lodge in the United States and where last year our brothers dispensed unostentatiously more than $203,000 for charity.

"We Elks are happy just now building up the Elks' National Foundation, in which we hope eventually to accumulate $20,000,000, the interest of which will be applied to those in distress wherever the need is greatest. It will enable prosperous lodge districts to help their less fortunate brothers in times of trouble. It is the greatest of our undertakings. We will be even prouder of it than the great national home we are enlarging at Bedford, Va."

Lodge 99 tendered a dinner and reception to the leader in the temple off Westlake Park last night and he delivered an address. He will leave this evening for Chicago, national headquarters, and then go home. He arrived late Tuesday. While here he officiated at the laying of the corner-stone of the Burbank lodge.

Outstanding among the hosts were Jack Doyle, Grand Esquire of the Grand Lodge, who is esquire of the Los Angeles lodge, and Dr. Ralph Hagan, chairman of the Board of Grand Trustees.

HOOKED CARPET

The Charm of Early American Patterns at a Very Low Price

Carpet of this character is almost as well adapted to Provincial rooms as to early American interiors! Sturdy, serviceable Carpet that skillfully reproduces quaint old New England patterns at a price consistent with Bullock's policy of value in Home Furnishings.

Value far exceeding price! A fact that applies to Bullock's Hooked Carpet as well as Bullock's Broadloom. There are certain elements in its construction that prove its value, and when making a just comparison with Hooked Carpet elsewhere be sure to note firmness and closeness of weave, depth of pile, colors and designs. The designs are charming, quite in the manner of old, hand-made rugs. Bullock's has an unusually wide and interesting selection of patterns. Whether you buy enough of this carpet for a small rug or for wall to wall floor covering, you will find Bullock's price lower because Bullock's has added to value by reducing markup to a minimum!

PERIOD FABRICS IMPORTED by BULLOCK'S

$3.45 YD.

A new epoch in the merchandising of Period Fabrics commenced when Bullock's went to famous European sources for these fine Decorative and Upholstery Fabrics! Exquisite Fabrics were made available to all at much lower prices than are possible under the usual methods of purchase. Authentic reproductions of lovely old weaves, whose designs in some instances have been taken direct from old documents. Modern conceptions too, fully characteristic of this age.

An English Linen, sketched, part of Bullock's recent importation, somewhat formal in feeling, one which easily might have been taken out of a country house in England, which Bullock's feels is particularly well suited to Southern California homes. Bullock's can price it unusually low because of direct methods of selection.

Today's Bible Text

The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.—Jas. iii:17, 18.

ANOTHER BLOW-OUT
Germany is going to explode to the right or the left, says Adolph Hitler, the understudy of Mussolini in Germany. Germany exploded straight in front once, and see what a mess she made of it.

HITLER HIT
Hitler aspires to be the German Mussolini of Fascism. He has a little tweaking funny mustache; but lacks chest. And from observation it takes considerable of that to be a great leader of a movement that assumes all the liberties of the people.

SELLING SHORT
If a man write a check on a bank in which he has no funds, he is sentenced to San Quentin. If he sell a car which he does not own, he is worse than a horse thief. But if he sell millions of cotton or wheat which he does not possess, he is sent to the Senate. Consistency, thou art a jewel!

WORKING HIS WAY
Many a youngster is now working his way through college by greasing the gridiron. However, some of them have a hard time bucking the front line in the classroom. And even the most ardent coaching of the professor cannot always keep some of them from running toward the wrong goal post.

A SOLUTION
If idle money and idle labor could be hitched up together, the whistle of the factory might make music once more and pay day return with pristine regularity. With labor at work, it would have a better appetite and this would greatly relieve the farmer. In turn, this might give considerable relief to our harassed economists.

PEEWEE POLITICIANS
Everything is so miniature today that it is becoming difficult to locate it without a magnifying glass. We have compressed air, baled hay, small paper money, canned drama, runt golf and peewee politicians. Some of these could play the game on a postage stamp without getting into the rough. If they could only make a hole in one and go in after it to hibernate, the gallery would laugh.

NEVER SAW A MOVIE
There is a Presbyterian preacher whose church is at the edge of Greenwich Village in New York, who is 87 years of age, but who has never seen a play or a movie in his life. He has no grave objection to either of them, but he has been in the church for more than sixty years and has never had the time nor inclination to look up the theater. Perhaps his present idea of dissipation is to take a buggy ride. Greenwich Village supplies a rather odd environment for one of his modest needs.

POISONOUS DRINK
So many people have been poisoned, a large proportion fatally, by imbibing poisonous liquor bought from bootleggers that it would seem there would be few who do not know the danger of drinking this stuff. But there still are to be found many willing to take the frightful chance, and every day adds to the number who drink it and die or become blind or paralyzed.

Perhaps the worst case recorded in recent months was that of the nine men of Newark, N. J., who died within forty-eight hours after drinking whisky bought by one of them from a local bootlegger. The label on the bottle is said to have borne a prewar date, and the bootlegger assured the man who bought the poison that it was "good old whisky and perfectly safe." But anybody who would accept the word of a bootlegger as to the quality of his goods would credit any kind of fiction that might be presented to him.

The New Jersey victims took everything for granted, drank the rank poison, in this case wood alcohol, and died within a few hours. They might as well have taken arsenic or strychnine. Our writers might well add this to their list of similes: "As credulous as the man who believes a bootlegger."

COL. WOODS'S NEW JOB
The post of director of unemployment relief, accepted by Col. Arthur Woods of New York, is one which few men would be capable of filling, and President Hoover is to be congratulated, and the nation with him, on obtaining his services. Col. Woods served in a similar capacity after the war and was conspicuously successful. He takes up his work with a knowledge of the problem and also a knowledge of how a similar problem was solved nine or ten years ago.

There is not much that the Federal government can do directly, except to speed up government contracts and construction, which is already being done by President Hoover's order. But Col. Woods can co-ordinate State and local construction programs with the Federal program and can make an investigation of private industry and obtain the co-operation of employers.

The extension of part-time work, which has already proved valuable in Detroit and elsewhere, as widely as it can be applied, is one of the things Col. Woods will undertake to procure, he has already announced. The principle is sound, if applied with intelligence and discrimination, since it spreads the burden to more shoulders and makes it more easily borne. As Col. Woods says, it is better to have fifty men working half time than twenty-five full time and twenty-five idle. This, however, is an extreme illustration and such a drastic cut as that to half-time will be found necessary in few industries.

It is officially estimated that the unemployed number 3,500,000 at the present time, of whom 1,000,000 would be out of work, for seasonal or other reasons, at the peak of prosperity. This leaves 2,500,000 for whom jobs need to be supplied. The latest estimate of the total number of persons gainfully employed or who could be in this country is 47,000,000, so that presumably 44,500,000 are working normally and about one person in eighteen is out of a job. If only one-third of the nation's industries went on a five-day basis, that is, continued six-day production, but employed no one worker for more than five days, it is evident that the present labor surplus could readily be absorbed.

These estimates, of course, are general and average, and are subject to industrial and local variation. It will be part of Col. Woods's duty to find means for fitting the plan to the industry and the locality. The figures indicate that the problem is by no means insoluble, but on the contrary can readily be solved if Col. Woods can obtain proper co-operation.

The public-works program of the nation has already been expanded approximately $500,000,000, of which $100,000,000 represents an increase in Federal expenditures. At the November election voters the country over will pass judgment on $450,000,000 of bond issues for further public works. This, incidentally, is an economic method of providing emergency funds for emergency construction, since it does not immediately increase taxes, but brings idle funds into use in considerable volume.

The energetic methods of the administration for unemployment relief cannot fail of effect; indeed, there are many indications that business is already on the upturn. If these hopeful signs are real presages of a revival, the 1930 depression will go down in history as one of the shortest cyclical depressions on record.

A NEEDED PROTECTION
Proposal No. 13 on the November ballot is a needed protective measure for California live stock likely to have reactions in an improved human health rate. It grants the Legislature permission to reimburse owners of stock slaughtered to stop the spread of contagious disease—a permission which is extended in every State of the Union but three, Arkansas, Alabama and California.

The introduction of foreign live-stock diseases is always a danger here because of California's seaports. The foot-and-mouth disease, which was stamped out with such difficulty in 1924 and 1925, was one such well-remembered case, in which, in addition to the live stock destroyed, the State suffered much loss through the stringent quarantines imposed by other States which practically stopped commerce at our borders. Pleuro-pneumonia, rinderpest and surra are other diseases likely to become epizootic in this State from foreign introduction. Prompt action against them is always imperative and the lack of a State fund from which cattle owners can be reimbursed hinders prompt action.

Then, too, California is at present unable to take advantage of the Federal appropriation for eradication of tuberculous cattle, since Congress requires an equal appropriation by the State. This means that the State in its payment of Federal taxes supplies money for tuberculosis eradication elsewhere and gets no benefit from it. Two States which California has aided in this way now have herds declared tuberculosis-free, and others have achieved good results. There is some reason to believe that the campaign against bovine tuberculosis has reduced human tuberculosis, particularly among children. The extension of the campaign to California herds is desirable.

This proposal should be adopted, not only for the benefit of the dairy interests, but for the benefit of everybody.

MORE FLYING
The New York, Philadelphia and Washington Airways Corporation carried 1557 passengers the first ten days of its operation, according to the New York Times.

Amelia Earhart, aviatrix of note, adds that September was the first month of an every-hour service. In the thirty days of last month the line carried 4884 pay passengers. Beginning with an average of 150 a day the first week and increasing to 184 a day the fourth week, the planes traveled about 116,000 miles with but eight cancellations on account of weather.

Frequent requests for additional service increased the ten schedules a day in September to eleven a day beginning the first of October. A bus now leaves Pennsylvania Station in New York hourly for Newark airport between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m.

By comparison but 126 travel out of Croydon daily across the English Channel on the air lines of England. The American line from New York to Philadelphia, which approximates the same distance as the English Channel route, is carrying more passengers a day than all trans-Channel lines put together.

The East in the United States has been a trifle backward about taking up commercial aviation. Lines in California pioneered commercial aviation in this country. But there is a rush of wings in every direction at the present time.

Possibly the only thing that keeps the American public out of the air is the price. When the fare swoops down where the common man lives the plane will be able better to compete with railway and bus travel. It would seem the part of good business for aviation to put parachutes on prices, letting 'em down easy.

At present flying is still too much a rich man's game. When its advantages extend to everybody, the heavens will be dark with pinions. It is not fear, but finance, that keeps us down!

DAWES ON RAILROADS
Invited to speak at the opening of the railroad centenary celebration at Manchester, Eng., the other day, Ambassador Dawes rather surprised the Britishers by his display of knowledge of railroad progress in the last hundred years. While he gave due credit to George Stephenson and other English inventors in this line, showing considerable familiarity with their work, he stressed the importance of American rail inventions, without which most of the speed, comfort and safety of modern transportation would be lacking.

"We have contributed something to the railroad progress of this island," he remarked. "An American—Ross Winans of Baltimore—was instrumental in developing the double-truck car and introducing it into Europe. At an early date Philadelphia-built locomotives were coming over here in some quantity. Westinghouse, inventor of the airbrake, received his first real encouragement here in England, and I do not have to remind you of the name of Pullman, seen everywhere on your fine trains."

Mr. Dawes pointed out the fact that British railroads were laid down to cities already old and followed the course of population, while in the United States the railroads were the most aggressive pioneers and their far-flung extensions into uninhabited country determined the course of settlement.

A marked example of American development in this respect was the construction of the Central and Union Pacific, nearly all of which was built through a practically unsettled country, including vast stretches of waste land. The first English railroads were built at smaller expense and with less difficulty than ours. Though Mr. Dawes did not refer to the important part played by the patient coolies in the construction of our first overland lines, he might well have done so.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

A COMPLETE three-act musical comedy, written, composed, staged, acted and directed by employees of the Southern California Telephone Company, is to be given at the Ebell-Wilshire Theater November 5, 6 and 7, and William Wyatt, manager of the theater and dean of the theatrical managers of Los Angeles—the same William Wyatt who has brought many of the greatest theatrical stars and organizations Los Angeles has seen—says it is going to be a darned good show, brighter and more original in both book and music than many a show brought by professional troupers.

The interesting thing about this show is the surprising amount and variety of talent it has uncovered in one organization. It was planned at first as a small musical skit, for presentation at some party of telephone company employees. Albert E. Taylor, a credit man, and Mansford F. Barnes, in the commercial department, wrote a song which sounded good. From that the thing developed until Taylor wrote a complete book and lyrics and Barnes a complete musical score. People who had had experience in directing, stage lighting, dancing and everything and so on were discovered in the company's employ.

Essays of a Chinese Schoolboy

When we were so reckless as to conduct a poetry contest last spring one remarkable poem we received was signed Chon Ying Chang, and we were informed that Mr. Chang was a graduate student at the University of Southern California. The poem was so striking that we thought we were being fooled, so another graduate student brought Chang down to meet us, and we met a very clever young fellow. His poem later was reprinted by the Literary Digest.

Now that college is in session again, Chang is with us once more and sends us an essay on an astonishing crab with a human face which has been found in China. But the essay is interesting to us, as indicating what Chinese schoolboys learn in our schools. Part of it follows:

Try This on Your Schoolboy

"Here is really a wonderful thing, a thing so wonderful that has never been heard of before.

"People in China are seeing it now. The whole China becomes clouded by it.

"Arnold's 'Forsaken Merman' is a symbolical poem. The fight of Beowulf with monsters is a legendary tale. The great American romancer, Nathaniel Hawthorne, told the story of a 'great stone face.'

"The world is broad enough wherein there is everything new or old to be seen, only when we could live long enough to see it. The imagination of Dr. Samuel Johnson as revealed in his 'Rasselas,' respecting the construction of an airplane, was at last realised about one century after his death. Literature could never be an idle thing, for all literary men are prophets. Perhaps Thomas Carlyle has estimated too high of the essential qualifications of a prophet in the place of his famous speech, 'The Hero as Poet.' Needless to remark that Carlyle is one of Kant's group, but in this particular instance his philosophy of idealism is not idealistic at all.

Wonders of Nature and Literature

"A great book of Chinese stories tells of the transformation of a fox into the shape of a humanly beauty. But at last the day is come when we have evidence that is not fairy tale. Some two months ago a friend in Shanghai wrote me that in the great state where the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen was born, a fisherman caught a big crab, on the shell of which there is a human face. More wonderful is the size of that face which could not be seen any sign of difference from a living one. And still the most wonderful is the movement of its eyeballs, which follow and seem to appeal to every visitor to the museum department of the state government, where it is being exhibited.

"Thanks to the Shanghai Daily Press Service, I was lately given a photo of that crab. I will answer any inquiry concerning it addressed to 917 West Thirty-seventh street, Los Angeles."

Modern China Still in Reverse

Possibly as evidence that he isn't putting over on us a code message to a secret junta, Chon Ying Chang incloses a picture of the crab.

We can't blame the whole China for becoming clouded by this. We're mystified, too.

The only thing we can get out of it is that China still does things backward, according to our standards. We never produced a crab with a human face in this country. But we have plenty of humans with crab faces.

THIS DIRTY WORLD
One of the professors at the University of Illinois insists that this is the dirtiest age in the history of civilization. He isn't talking of the plays that are being produced or the books being written either. He means dust, dirt, mud, smoke and other forms of physical uncleanliness. And all this at a time when so many of the big cities are conducting shine-'em-up campaigns. We had thought that definite progress was being made in freeing the land from its incubus of dust and dirt. We are sure that the Illinois professor will find Los Angeles a city of reasonable cleanliness and purity. Even Chicago has been turning over a new leaf. Things are not so worse.

IF AT FIRST THEY DON'T SUCCEED—
By James J. Montague

When a rascal lacks the nerve to be a gunman,
And to prey upon the timid passer-by,
When disturbing fears assail him
That the sleuths may catch and jail him,
He does not bid his hope of wealth good-by.
He keeps a watchful eye upon the future,
And waits the chance to better his condition,
And by and by we find him
With a hungry horde behind him
While he functions as a grafting politician.

When a blackleg doesn't dare to be a burglar,
Or to pick up pins and watches on the street,
When he suffers inward terror
Lest this outlawed form of error
Might attract the large policeman on the beat,
When he's wanting in the sinew and the daring
That are needful to the yeggman and garroter,
He finds a means more clever
For his criminal endeavor,
And becomes at last a crooked stock promoter.

The copy books inform us that persistence
Must always prove successful in the end,
And that those who keep on striving
Will be certain of arriving
At a mountain they can readily ascend.
These maxims were intended for the righteous
Who of noble destinations are pursuers,
But we find, unfortunately,
They are too much followed lately
By the too successful guild of evildoers.

GATLING GUN GOVERNMENTS
BY FRED HOGUE
PART II

Unemployment, and the misery it entails: a tragedy that has wrecked other civilizations, and that threatens our own. The wealth of the world is not sufficient, or is not so distributed, to furnish employment for all the workers of the world. Either the workers are too many or the jobs are too few. The supply of labor is in excess of the consumption of the products of labor.

Production is limited by consumption; and consumption is limited by the ability of the consumers to pay for what they consume. Unemployment, and the resultant misery, if not the cause, is at least the pretext for most of the recent military dictatorships, for the spread and the present popularity of Fascism.

The folly of the masses, from civilization to civilization, has been to seek political remedies for economic ills. Peoples can and must support governments in order that governments may exist. But never yet, in all history, has a government been devised that could support its people.

The will to buy, to consume, is not sufficient. When the buyer is out of funds, the seller is without a market. Europe was once the market for South America, for China and Japan. But the wealth of Europe was wasted in the World War. Europe is impoverished and its purchasing power has been cut in half. Producers in other countries find themselves without markets. Unemployment results and the masses blame their governments for what no government can prevent or control.

Unrest, occasioned by unemployment, seeking political remedies for economic ills: these conditions have brought about the collapse of representative government and the establishment of military dictatorships.

The present industrial depression is the inescapable result of the waste occasioned by the World War. We are passing through the depression of a reconstruction period that was inevitable. It was delayed, but it could not be evaded. And the masses, inflamed by demagogues and venal propagandists, place the blame on the government that happens to be in power.

Industrial depression caused the revolt in Peru, in Argentina and the present revolt in Brazil. Hitler is making capital out of the industrial depression in Germany. The very existence of the German republic is threatened. Its collapse would be a calamity from which half the world would suffer. For the German masses, having witnessed the failure of monarchy and the failure of representative government, might follow a mass impulse to turn to Communism.

The revolt in Russia that overthrew the monarchy was, in essence, a hunger strike. The representative government established by the Duma under the leadership of Kerensky collapsed because the masses were still starving. I recall Kerensky telling me in Prague in 1922 that if his government could have muddled through until the next harvest, there would have been no Bolshevist revolution.

The Russian masses are seeking in desperation to adapt themselves to Communism because there is no other untried form of government to which to turn. In their hunger-goaded desperation, they deposed and murdered the royal family and renounced their God; and they are now groveling on the earth, hungry still, and torpid in the dull apathy of despair. They have only learned that empty stomachs are not to be filled by a revolutionary change in governments.

And that is the lesson that other peoples, by bitter experience, will learn under the military dictators.

China, with its long history, offers some striking examples of the trust that a people may repose in its government and of the unreasoned resentment when this trust is found to be misplaced. Through the Middle Kingdom ran the temperamental, vagrant yellow tides of the Hoang-ho. If floods came and the valleys were devastated they held it was because the gods of the river and the thunder were offended at some crime or sacrilege committed by the Emperor on the throne of heaven. Every great flood in the Hoang-ho Valley was followed by a revolt against the government. Dynasties rose and fell with the tides of the Hoang-ho. Changes of government were dictated by changes of the weather.

Some peoples who sneer at the folly and the superstition of the stupid celestials are, at base, hardly more rational. The government of the Argentine is secure only so long as there is a profitable foreign market for Argentine wheat and Argentine beef. The collapse of the coffee market has much to do with the present revolt in Brazil.

What Uriburu can do about the price of Argentine wheat in the Liverpool market and what a change of government can do about the Brazilian coffee market are questions as difficult to answer as what Hoover can do about the price of wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade. In peregrinations through governments and economics, I have never yet found a political remedy for a purely economic ill.

Despite the collapse of representative government in so many countries, I am firm in the belief that it is not due to any inherent weakness of the representative system. In all the countries I have visited I have never found one in which the masses were better fed, better housed and where the standard of living was higher than in what is called wherever Americans assemble in foreign countries "the good old U.S.A."

One has to spend a season on the outside looking in to appreciate how good it really is. In the midst of the present industrial depression, which is already beginning to pass, times are better right here than I have ever found them at any time elsewhere. Canada, our northern neighbor, is a good second; and I would place third Czecho-Slovakia, as I found it in 1922.

That government and economics are closely related is indisputable. By a misstep in Washington, our whole industrial machine could be thrown out of gear. Equality of political opportunity is an affair of government. Protection of free labor from competition of slave labor and pauper labor abroad is an affair of government. Economy in governmental expenditure is essential to national prosperity. Equal administration of justice is an affair of government.

Government with the consent of the governed, through the medium of elective institutions, we have placed highest of all.

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people" we have regarded as the only form of just government.

This standard we have placed high and we shall be false to ourselves, to our traditions and to our posterity if we do not hold it firmly to its mast in the storm of revolutions and collapses of elective governments about us.

There must be no compromise with military dictatorships, whether Fascist or Communist. In the clouded heavens of world revolution the torch of human liberty, fed by elective institutions, will burn only the brighter.

Eternal vigilance is essential to the preservation of the rights of civil liberty. Forewarned is forearmed. Elective governments representative in form are not falling before assaults from without but before malicious conspiracies from within. The peace of the world is not threatened by nation attacking nation. The dictators are not imported, but are native born.

Between Communism and Fascism the latter is vastly to be preferred; for Fascism destroys only civil liberties, as the experience of Italy has demonstrated; while Communism is destructive alike of civil liberty and the wealth and productive power of a nation. After thirteen years of Communism, the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics is producing less than Russia under the Czars. But Communism and Fascism are both repulsive to the fundamental ideas of political, civil and economic liberty.

Domestic peace, purchased at the price of domestic servitude under a military despotism is, at its best, only a sorry bargain, a bargain unworthy the century and the civilization in which we are living.

Rome was not builded in a day, and free governments are not established and made secure over night. But Rome fell, almost in a day, before the onslaughts of what the Roman apologists termed "foreign barbarians." History has disclosed, however, that, morally at least, the culture of the barbarians was superior to that of decadent Rome at the time of its fall.

If Voltaire were commenting on the current history of the last fifteen years, I can conceive that his caustic pen would record in a single pert paragraph that some of the governments representative in form have fallen because they rotted before they ripened.

The present, however, is not a period to despair. All that totters does not fall. Human rights and civil liberty may be maligned, persecuted, crucified; but they cannot be permanently destroyed.

Dictators, riding in armored cars flanked by machine guns, may strut like petty Luciferes; but they are strutting before a fall.

Among enlightened peoples, from the days of Oliver Cromwell and Danton, parliaments have proved stronger than military despots. If I read history aright, dictatorships have only endured during a brief transitory period, where peoples were rising from a lower to a higher plane of political and civil liberty. We have only to stand firm, to keep our banner of Americanism, unsullied and unstained, floating proudly in the four winds of heaven and the sun of human rights and human liberties will beam forth upon the whole earth all the brighter for the temporary eclipse through which it is passing. Socialism, Communism, Fascism are not constructive, but destructive forces. They are varying forms of the incendiarism by which nations and peoples are consumed.

Apologists for Fascism may call it expedient for a reconstruction period; but expediency is not justice.

Two of the Americans chosen by our Library Board for commemoration in Branch Library names are now before the committee for selection for New York University's Hall of Fame—Henry David Thoreau and Sidney Lanier. Each has a number of votes in the preliminary selection involving 105 candidates, fifteen of whom will have busts placed in the Hall of Fame. James McNeill Whistler, William Penn and Walt Whitman, it has been revealed by Dr. Underwood Johnson, director of the Hall of fame grows with the passing of this date. It would seem that fame grows with the passing of years and such writers as Sidney Lanier and Henry Thoreau are only beginning to come into recognition while Walt Whitman, rugged giant that he was, is at last taking his rightful place in the world of letters.

RIPPLING RHYMES

AN OFF YEAR

So far it's been a fateful year; catastrophe seems always near; we've had our frequent shocks; it started out with things all wrung, because so many had been stung while monkeying with stocks. The summer sorely was a fright; the land was baking, day and night, all records were destroyed; the crops were wilted, dead and brown, and in the city and the town there roamed the unemployed. The merchant in the cross-roads store is feeling bitter, sad and sore, he feels that all is lost; he sees no symptom of relief, and to express his seething grief the language he'll exhaust. The country, once so great and free, is swiftly going to the swine; its doom is surely sealed; there is no sunshine on the hill, no harvest no money in the till, no harvest in the field. But then he's always talked that way; for him the skies were always gray, there was no hope in sight; and that is why he runs a store that people patronize no more, that wilts beneath a blight. That's why he had to fire his clerk; he couldn't find sufficient work for that lone youth to do; and as he stays there all alone, and daily makes his weary moan, he looks for rags to chew. The merchant prince, who lives a host, can see no reason for a roast; he says the prospects fine; it's getting better day by day, the clouds of trouble blow away, the sun begins to shine. That's why he is a merchant prince; his blithe pronouncements all evince a courage high and bold; he isn't headed for the dump whenever there's a little slump, his feet are never cold.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

With the opening of the season's concerts of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra this evening, many lovely dinners are being given, some of them quite informal, the hosts taking their guests to the first concert of the season at Philharmonic Auditorium afterward.

Last evening William Andrews Clark, Jr., president and founder of the orchestra and by whose charming generosity it is possible for us to enjoy these delightful Thursday evenings and Friday afternoons each season, entertained with a "family" dinner at his lovely home in West Adams street at Cimarron, the guests being members of the board of directors, advisory board and executive board of the women's committee. Covers were arranged for seventy guests. The decorations carried out the autumn motif with fruits and flowers.

This evening Miss Louise Burke is giving an informal dinner at her home in Berkeley Square, taking her guests afterward to the concert. Those included will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert David Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Van Court, Mrs. Edgar Gall Miller, Miss Louise Kellogg, Robert Farquhar, Eric Douglas, Arthur Alexander and Harry Borchart.

Mr. Clark will have in his loge at the concert tonight, Mr. and Mrs. David Babcock, Mme. Hedwig Rodzinski, Albert Ruddock and E. H. Clark.

Judge and Mrs. Sydney Sanner also are entertaining with a dinner at home, taking their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nevins, Mrs. Lucy A. Hill of Miles City, Mont., and Miss Cira Sanders to the concert afterward.

Tomorrow afternoon there will be a number of charmingly appointed luncheons at the California Club preceding the afternoon concert.

Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant will have a dozen guests, her special guests of honor being Mrs. Henry Owen Eversole (Mary Clark) and her sister, Miss Lucy Sherman Clark, who have returned from several years abroad to make their home here again.

Mrs. Robert A. London and her sister, Miss Lucy Smith, are especially honoring their nieces, Miss Alice London Smith and Miss Sally Smith. Pink roses will center the luncheon table. Covers were for the hostesses, honor guests, Mrs. Hansen Moore, Mrs. Cecil Frankel, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Howard Eugene Verbeck, Mrs. Paul English, Mrs. Henry W. Keller, Mrs. Gratten Fitzgerald, Mrs. Clarence English, Mrs. Claude N. Comstock, Mrs. Clarke Stull Smith, Mrs. William Francis Howard, Mrs. Force Parker, Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, Mrs. Joseph H. Hill, Mrs. William McDuffie, Mrs. Warren Parker, Mrs. Seymour Thomas, Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, Miss Flora Hollingsworth, Miss Rowena Thom, Mrs. Mark Baldwin Lewis, Mrs. Elmer Neville, Miss Ellen Andrews, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. Harry Tipton Steck, Mrs. William Henry Russell, Mrs. Frank William Davey, Mrs. Chester Turner Hoag and Mrs. Gurdon Wallace Wattles.

With Mrs. Egbert Judson Benedict will be Mrs. Paul Boyle Kelly of Honolulu, house guest of her aunt, Mrs. Dean Mason, Mrs. Loren Barton Babcock, Mrs. Edmund Burke Holladay, Mrs. Collis Huntington Holladay, Princess Pignatelli, Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, Baroness Navia Kebort, Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Mrs. John Barnes Miller, Mrs. Charles Caldwell Bull, Mrs. James Soutter Porter, Mrs. James Bandini Winston and Mrs. Donald Dickey.

At U. S. C.

One of the outstanding social events at the University of Southern California this week was the combined dinner and fashion show for all university women, in the social hall of the Student Union last evening. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Foreign Countries, was the guest of honor at the gathering sponsored by the Y.W.C.A.

Other honor guests of the evening included members of the advisory board of the student "Y," Mmes. O. W. E. Cook, Ralph W. Bolton, Martha Baxter, Bruce M. Harrison, R. B. Von KleinSmid Pearl Aiken Smith, Mabel M. Difrbin, J. G. Early, Frank E. Eckhart, Mary Bowen Huff, R. H. Hunstock, Paul Jones, A. E. Maynes, Walter F. Skeele, Frank C. Touton, Lewis B. Young, Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford, Dr. Irene McCulloch, Dr. Bessie McClenahan and Miss Grace Stoermer.

At Coronado

The Silver Grill was the scene of a lovely dinner and the large table was arranged in T-shape with the admiral's flag at the head of the table, together with a large floral centerpiece, while baskets of autumn flowers were interspersed between silver candelabra with tall pink tapers, down the long table.

Capt. Arthur C. Scott, U.S.N., was toastmaster, and Lieut. Roy W. M. Graham chairman of arrangements.

Capt. Arthur C. Stott, N.S.N., and Mrs. Stott, who have come from Washington, where they have been making their home at the Wardman Park Hotel, have arrived at Hotel del Coronado, where they will live for the next two years. Capt. Stott has been ordered to duty as chief of staff to the commander of the destroyer squadrons of the battle fleet, taking the place of Capt. Stark, who goes to Washington. Capt. and Mrs. Stott motored across the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McRae of Beverly Hills, who have been frequent visitors at Hotel del Coronado for a number of years, motored down for the week-end at the shore.

Mrs. E. T. Clark and her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Hoover of Los Angeles, are passing a week at the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dersk of Hollywood, were week-end visitors and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Wright of Alameda, who are on a trip through the south, are spending a few days before going to Lake Norconian Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman A. Paddock motored down from Pasadena for the week-end at the hotel. Miss Grace T. Walker of Pasadena, with her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Peeler of Huntsville, Ala.; Dr. David Bailey Peeler of Rochester, N. Y., and Miss Jean Davis of Toronto, Ont., have been making a short visit at Hotel del Coronado on a motor trip through the south.

Miss Gertrude Gooding of Los Angeles, with her house guest, Miss Kate R. Thompson of Evansville, Ind., who have been staying at Hotel del Coronado, were much entertained by their friends here. They were the guests of honor at a luncheon and bridge given by Mrs. B. J. O'Neil of San Diego, one day during the week, and Mrs. W. A. Drake of San Diego also entertained for them at a bridge-luncheon. They returned home several days ago.

Maj. M. F. Davis, officer-in-chief of the air corps, of Washington, who is on an official trip through the West, made a brief visit at Hotel del Coronado during the week, going down from Los Angeles.

Mrs. Robert K. McNeely of Merion, Pa., with her daughter, Miss Florence McNeely, Miss Helen K. McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. McNeely of Rough Acres, Paoli, Pa., and Mrs. Ronald D. Barlow of Bryn Mawr, Pa., passed a few days at Hotel del Coronado before going to Los Angeles for the women's national golf tournament.

SOAP FOR SUPPER

PERHAPS you wouldn't like White King for Sunday night supper, but we want to point out that here is a soap that is made from the same material as good salad dressing.

The purest vegetable and nut oils—oils good enough to eat—go into White King Granulated Soap. That will give you some idea of how safe it is for your finest silken lingerie, how kind it is to the skin of tender hands. And that same purity makes White King effective for the heaviest blankets, the greasiest dishes—even in hard or lukewarm water.

White King washes everything—colored fabrics, dishes, silver, glass, floors, woodwork. And it's economical—a teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine. You won't need more. It's condensed. Try it today. Your grocer has it.

Judging by appearances is a common error, but we should take a lesson from the fact that such an error exists.

It really is our own fault if we are thus judged, especially when and where it is possible for us to appear to advantage.

A woman recently complained that the saleswomen in a certain shop "high-hatted" her. "How were you dressed?" asked a friend. "Very plainly, as I always dress when shopping—so they will not show me only the most expensive things," replied the complainant—a really wealthy woman. "That explains it," replied her friend. "You were, in fact, masquerading, to 'fool 'em,' and they took you for what you looked like and did not think you would be able to buy anything. Can you blame salesfolk for not caring to waste their time and effort?"

Returning Bread

It seems that some years ago the benevolent lady loaned money to a friend in need. The borrower insisted upon passing to her benefactor an old violin which she long had owned. Not long since the benevolent lender found herself in a predicament similar to that of the former violin owner and, bethinking of the violin, took it to an expert whom she chanced to know—a fine musician. As the man drew the first notes from the instrument tears of joy sprang to his eyes and he exclaimed, "You possess a treasure!" Now, from the bread, so long ago cast upon the waters of benevolence, the owner of the unsuspected treasure is looking for a lover of such instruments to purchase the violin or make her a loan to save her little home, which is in jeopardy. Thus the "bread" shows some sign of "returning" in manifold. Whether it will do so remains to be proven by some benevolent—even though self-seeking—violin lover.

Well Heeled

Angela long had been seeking Chinese slippers possessed of heels and she discovered them just in time for the oriental party she was to attend. Of course, it was in my favorite Chinese store, where they have so many wonderful objects oriental. The tiny, satin-covered heels lend a marvelous jauntiness to the handsomely embroidered slippers which, by the way, are of highly excellent quality—far different from the flimsy shoes so often found in lesser shops dispensing things oriental.

Seat! And Scatter

Just why all the superstition anent black cats is a long and intricate story; but, anyhow, black cats are connected in general thought with Halloween; and for the festive board on this October occasion there really is something new in the feline line! Black cats of many sizes, from infinitesmal to almost natural—black cats fashioned from a sort of chinaized black glass! With backs raised to a perfect arc, tails on high, and, in fact, the very epitome of the scared and scary cat of inky blackness, these cats serve as place markers to the Halloween feast table, act as ornaments and are generally distributed throughout the table and beside the plates. They are clever and at the same time are so well made as to be most artistic—in truly good taste, expressive of the superstitious season.

Incidentally, these novel kitties would form fine little gifts to children who love cats.

Cat-and-Dog Life

Those who lead a cat-and-dog life—and there are many—should see the collection in the art china section of that great store. I refer, of course, to those who collect cats and dogs of all kinds in china, bisque and other materials. Children, especially, are fond of collecting these animals nowadays. And the man, the buyer for this department, has recently returned from a tour of European centers in the interest of his section and there obtained an infinite variety of cabinet pieces—some rare and expensive, others of modest cost, and table after table may there be found, from which to select the Christmas gift for child or grown-ups.

There They Grow

Or do they? Do they grow or are they fashioned! Those Dutch tulips, I mean. Set in the cleverest of china shoes from Holland, those blossoms of identical origin with the shoes—what fine gifts they would make! Upon closer observation the blossoms prove to be of china, but so natural that only the one who is not obliged to water and tend them would be certain that they are not actual plants.

Peasant China

Those big, bold designs—brazenly colored flowers and foliage in blatant coloring—peasant wares done hand-crafty, with pleasingly rough finish as to surface! How the artists hasten to purchase them! And also they are chosen by the socially elect to gayly offset the after-theater supper table; or the Sunday night affair, served studio-fashion, as is the custom now.

The Supper Dress

The Sunday night supper dress has made for itself a distinctive place in the regime of those who know.

Partaking of both the characteristics of the afternoon frock and the evening gown; or either one; or taking on something of sports charm, this dress so happily expresses mood of the wearer, her taste, her charm, as to endear itself forthwith.

The Sunday night supper, so very informal, if it chooses to be a sort of at-home-for-all affair, where everyone serves or helps himself, as occasion may be, likes to express itself in the vestments of its votaries. Hence the Sunday night supper dress. It may be sleeved or sleeveless; decollette to the degree of its full dress sisters, or modestly v'd or rounded; or even high Russian-collared! But it must be distinctive, different from all others, if it performs its ablest function—that of expressing the taste and the personality of its wearer.

In Readiness

In every medicine cabinet there should be some preparation made in case of accident, namely, several rolls of different-sized gauze bandages, a box of absorbent cotton, adhesive tape and a bottle of antiseptic.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

EGGPLANT AND TOMATO

Peel and cut in dice enough eggplant to make four cupfuls, add an equal quantity of tomatoes cut in dice, season with salt, paprika and a teaspoonful each of sugar and onion juice, place a layer of the eggplant dice in a baking dish, over it spread a layer of buttered bread crumbs, season, then add a layer of the tomatoes, and continue until all has been used, dotting with bits of butter. Have the last layer of bread crumbs, place in the oven and bake for thirty minutes.

DANISH APPLE CAKE

Peel, core and cut in eighths two pounds of cooking apples, add just enough water to them to keep them from burning, and cook until tender, add one-half a teaspoonful of cinnamon and sugar to taste. Place in a saucepan four tablespoonfuls of butter and add two cupfuls of bread crumbs and cook until slightly brown. Line a pie dish with the bread crumbs, pressing down with the hand on the sides and bottom, then add a layer of the apple sauce, another layer of crumbs and continue until all has been used, having the last layer of the bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes, and when cold cut in wedge-shape pieces and serve with whipped cream.

OATMEAL GRIDDLE CAKES

Two cupfuls of cold, cooked oatmeal, one-half teaspoonful of salt, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two cupfuls of flour, two eggs and one cupful of boiling water, one cupful of milk. Beat the milk into the oatmeal, then add the well-beaten yolks of the eggs and the salt, then add the boiling water and mix well, sift the flour and baking powder into the mixture and beat again, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Mix well and bake in small cakes on a well-oiled hot griddle.

CORN BEEF CROQUETTES

Four cupfuls of hot mashed potatoes, two tablesponfuls of butter, one-third cupful of cream, two eggs, three cupfuls of finely chopped or ground corn beef, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a seasoning of white pepper. Press the potato through a ricer, then add the beef and butter to the hot potato, then the cream and one well-beaten egg and a seasoning of pepper. Beat all together and make into rolls about one by two inches long. Place them on a floured tin and let them stand for one hour. Beat one egg and add to it one tablespoonful of cold water, roll the croquettes in the beaten egg, then in the bread crumbs, and allow to remain again for one or two hours. Fry in deep, hot shortening until a golden brown. Drain, dry and serve garnished with parsley and slices of lemon.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHER SUGGESTS COMFORTABLE WAY FOR INFANT TO TRAVEL

Traveling with the infant presents some difficulties which are not met with when traveling with older children. The infant cannot be comfortable sleeping with an adult. It is unwise to put him in a large berth alone, weighed down by heavy blankets as he would be, even if there were no other considerations. The square clothes-basket as an early bassinet has long been a favorite of mine, for my first infant slept in one twenty-two years ago and I have never swerved in my allegiance to it.

Mrs. I. U. H. has also discovered its comforts, for she writes, "When my daughter now half past three was born, we purchased a large, square clothes-basket for her bed. This we placed solidly across a chair with wide, flat arms. This provided an excellent bed at a height which necessitated very little stooping. Underneath the bed on the seat of the chair I kept a supply of fresh diapers, talcum powder and vaseline.

MAKING A JOURNEY

"When the baby was 6 months old we had occasion to take a long journey and managed in this way: We packed into her basket a supply of diapers and flat clothes. Over this we put a folded army blanket and a rubber sheet. We carried a bag containing the necessities for the trip and a goodly supply of soft blankets, rattles, rings and her stockinette doll. She traveled in comfort, as did her mother.

"When we reached our destination she had her own bed to sleep in and seemed hardly to realize that she had been moved.

"I want also to tell you how well the suggestion of dryness worked with our daughter. She was a bed-wetter, and when she went to bed we repeated over and over in a monotone how nice it was to be dry and how this made her a big girl and that she wanted to be dry. In a few nights this showed results.

FOR STEPMOTHER-TO-BE

"I was so interested in the letter from Miss E. who is going to become the stepmother of a 2½-year-old girl. I wish her every success. May I suggest that if 'daddy' would let his little daughter share some of their good times now before marriage, love and understanding would be established before discipline enters into it."

I think you are quite right, Mrs. I. U. H. The presence of the "new lady" now will be a delight to the child and the right relationship will be instituted.

I'm glad you had success with the bed wetting suggestion for it is a powerful one, and does hold over into sleep. This is suggested as one method of curing this disagreeable habit in our leaflet on the subject of "Bed Wetting and How to Manage It." Perhaps other mothers would be interested in having this leaflet. We shall be glad to send it to any reader who incloses a self-addressed, stamped envelope with her request, and sends it to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

ASTHMA IS CURABLE

Since asthma is such a distressing disease, its sufferer usually vainly tries one remedy after another until he comes to the conclusion that it is an incurable disease. In spite of the failure of many remedies, I am sure that every case of asthma is curable if the right diet, exercise and sometimes manipulative treatments are used.

In order to bring about a cure it is necessary to correct the causes. In many cases which I have examined, the reasons could be sifted down to the following three: First, excessive gas pressure against the diaphragm; secondly, lack of mobility of the diaphragm, and thirdly, the excessive formation of mucus in the bronchial tubes.

Cardiac asthma is caused by some heart derangement whereby the heart does not pump enough blood through the chest, causing a feeling of fullness and shortness of breath. This is not true asthma, although it greatly resembles it.

What are usually termed asthmatic causes, such as irritating dust and substances, and the pollen of plants, are really only exciting causes. When the bronchial tubes are so congested, it takes only a slight irritation to bring on an acute attack. In many people, such an attack may follow exposure to cat fur, felt, feathers, horse dander, orris root in face powder, or even the ink in the picture section of the Sunday paper. Bakers breathing flour dust often suffer. None of these things, however, will cause asthma unless the underlying causes are present, and they will cease to bring on attacks once the real causes are corrected.

The attack usually comes on suddenly following certain symptoms which the patient learns to fear. The face becomes covered with sweat and may turn livid, and the hands are cold. The patient finds it increasingly hard to breathe. He first fights for every breath he draws and struggles to expel it. He will often sit in front of an open window because of the agonizing air-hunger which he feels coming upon him.

In the beginning he may have some trouble with a hard, dry cough, but at the height of the attack the cough begins to raise sputum, which is characteristic and carries in it small bits of mucus which look like tapioca and are called "Laennec's Pearls." Once this sputum is raised, relief begins, the coughing grows easier, and the breathing normal.

An attack may last a few minutes, a few hours, or a few days. The magic of the fasting regimen will never be more quickly seen than in its application to this malady, but a careful diet free from carbohydrates will also bring about a cure of this distressing disease, although the cure is much slower than if the initial fast is used. The patient should be encouraged at the same time to develop a strong movable diaphragm.

If much bronchial mucus is present, the cure will be [illegible] none the less sure, and in advanced cases often [illegible] ily as those which are [illegible] ning. It is necessary to [illegible] use of starches in the [illegible] to avoid gas-forming [illegible] binations.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

MOTHER BROWN'S GREAT SURPRISE

The obstinate will always find it difficult to change his mind.

—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy suspected Flip the Terrier of stealing Black Pussy's dinner each night. Mother Brown was sure that Flip had nothing to do with it. In spite of the fact that Black Pussy had grown more and more thin, Mother Brown was certain that she got her big dinner every night just the same. She insisted that Flip had no chance to get it. However, Farmer Brown's Boy wasn't satisfied and decided to keep an eye on Flip.

"I have it!" said Farmer Brown's Boy to himself. "I'll take Flip for a walk about the time that Black Pussy's dinner is put out in the shed for her."

So that evening Farmer Brown's Boy whistled to Bowser the Hound and Flip the Terrier and they took a long walk down on the Green Meadows. When they returned Farmer Brown's Boy saw at once that Black Pussy's dishes were empty. Black Pussy herself, however, was nowhere about. Presently, she came from the barn. She rubbed up against one of Farmer Brown's Boy's legs, arching her back and purring and saying "Meow!" It was the way she had always done when she was hungry and was teasing for something to eat. She acted exactly as if she hadn't had a mouthful. Farmer Brown's Boy went into the house and got her a saucer of milk. It seemed as if Black Pussy couldn't lap it up fast enough. Her master watched her and he was doing some hard thinking.

"Black Pussy certainly didn't get that dinner tonight," said he. "Neither did Flip nor Bowser the Hound. But somebody got it. It was somebody of whom Black Pussy is afraid. It must be somebody from outside. It must be somebody that goes in through that round doorway that we made for Black Pussy. I think I'll have a look at that doorway. Perhaps I'll learn something."

He went over to the little round hole, by which Black Pussy could enter and leave the shed, and carefully examined the edge all around. In a moment or two he picked up something. Rather, he picked it from the edge. It was a hair. It was a much longer hair than one of Black Pussy's. Furthermore, it was black and white. Black Pussy's hair is, you know, all black. Farmer Brown's Boy grinned.

"Nothing but a hair," said he, "but it tells the whole story. Tonight Black Pussy shall have her supper. I'm going to put out another supper and just close this little doorway."

So Farmer Brown's Boy took Black Pussy into the house; then he went out into the shed and closed a little sliding door over the doorway that Black Pussy used. After this, he went to the pantry and began to prepare a good meal for Black Pussy.

"What are you doing?" demanded Mother Brown as she came into the kitchen.

"I am getting this half-starved cat something to eat," replied Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Something to eat!" exclaimed Mother Brown. "Why, that cat has cleaned up a plateful of food and a saucer of milk already."

Farmer Brown's Boy merely smiled. Then he took the food he had prepared out to the shed and called Black Pussy. Black Pussy came as far as the kitchen door and there she hesitated. She acted as if she were afraid. It took a lot of coaxing on the part of Farmer Brown's Boy to get Black Pussy down to those dishes of food. But when she did come, she ate as only a half-starved cat can eat. Mother Brown stood in the doorway looking on and she was surprised—there was no doubt about it. Black Pussy ate everything and then teased for more. Mother Brown looked at her in amazment. You see, she was sure that this was the second supper that Black Pussy had had and she was too surprised for words when Black Pussy began teasing for more.

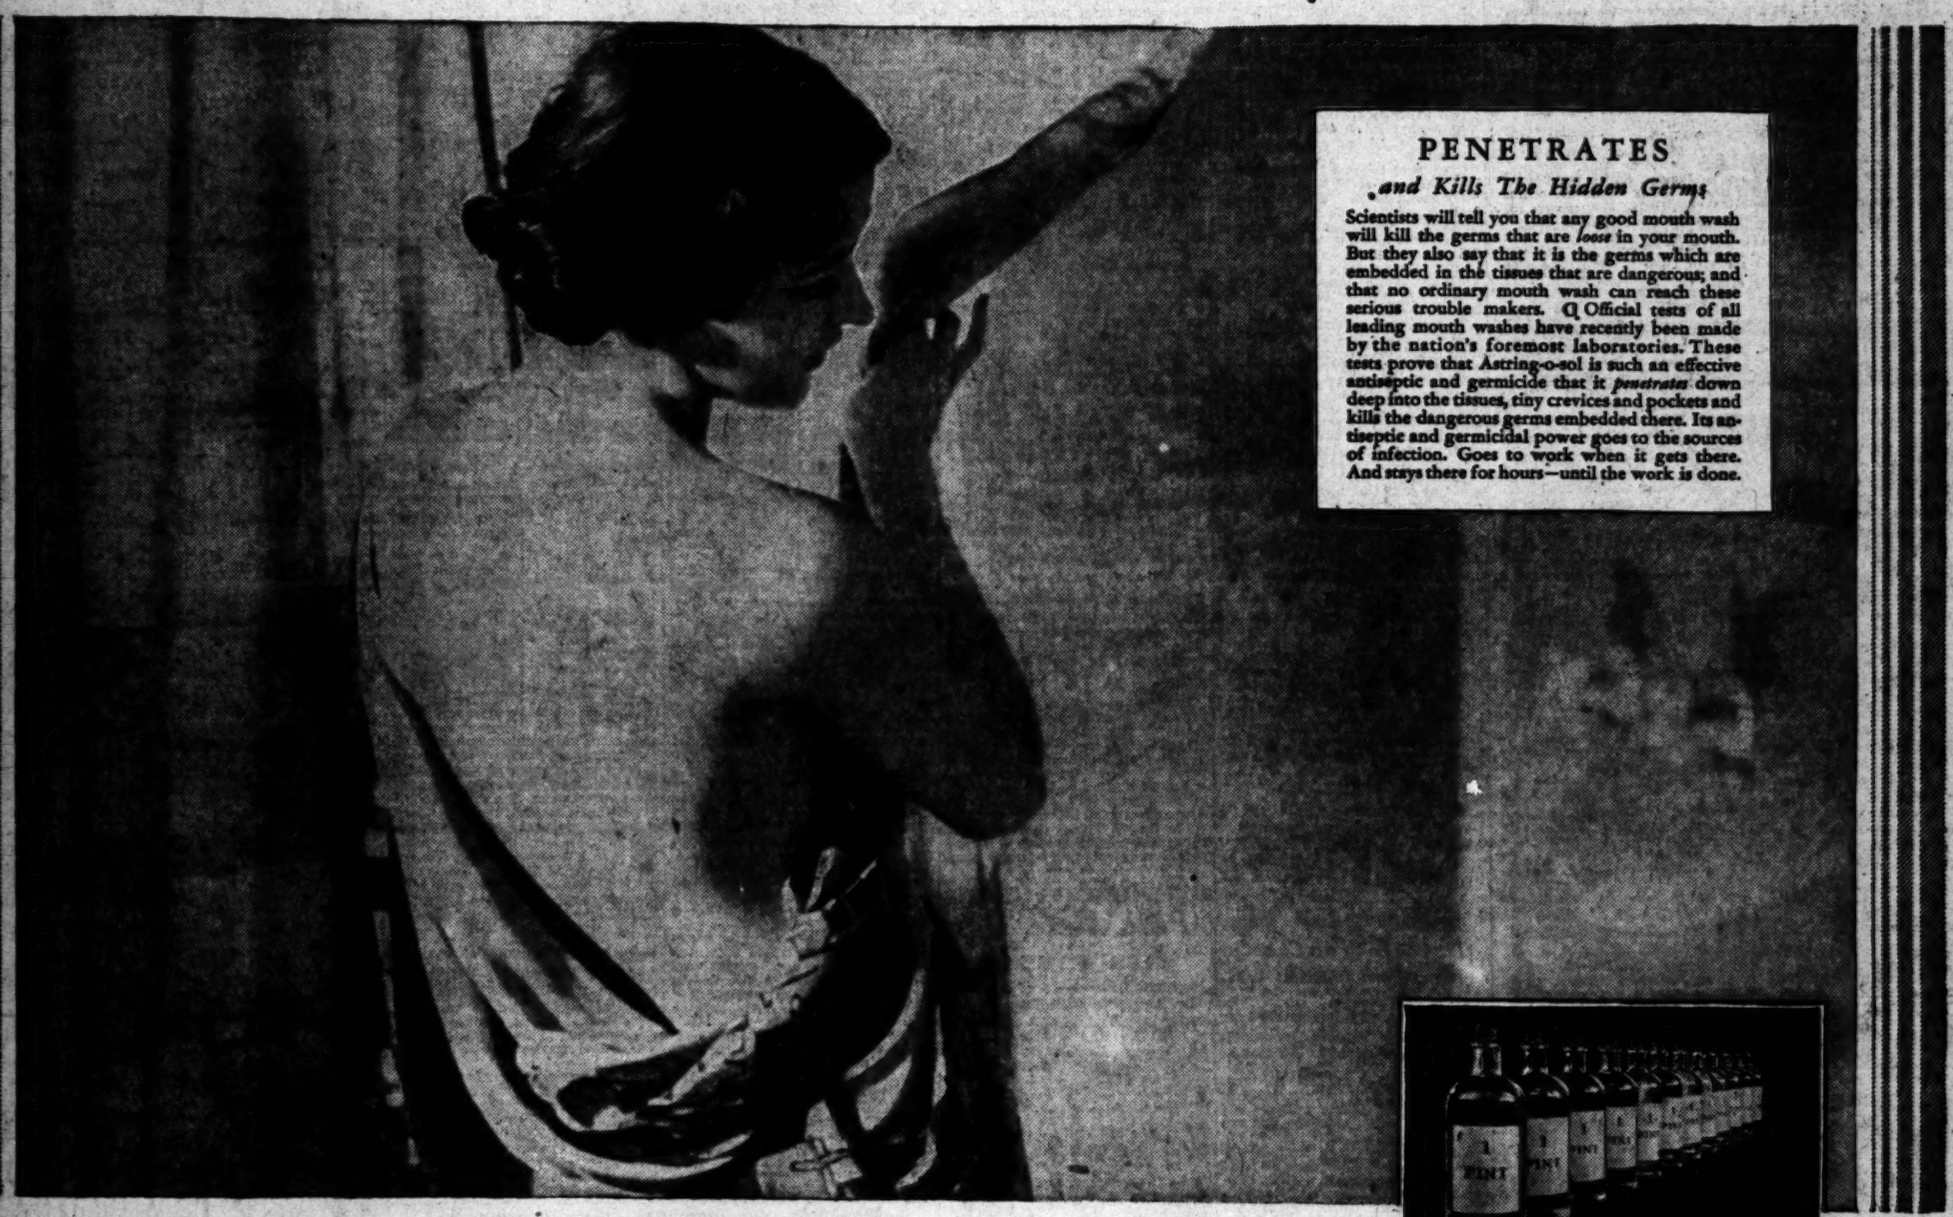
Morning Mouth

Everybody has it... Astring-o-sol corrects it



PENETRATES

and Kills The Hidden Germs

Scientists will tell you that any good mouth wash will kill the germs that are loose in your mouth. But they also say that it is the germs which are embedded in the tissues that are dangerous; and that no ordinary mouth wash can reach these serious trouble makers. ¶ Official tests of all leading mouth washes have recently been made by the nation's foremost laboratories. These tests prove that Astring-o-sol is such an effective antiseptic and germicide that it penetrates down deep into the tissues, tiny crevices and pockets and kills the dangerous germs embedded there. Its antiseptic and germicidal power goes to the sources of infection. Goes to work when it gets there. And stays there for hours—until the work is done.

This 4-ounce bottle makes 12 full pints of refreshing mouth wash.

Like a Sparkling Shower Astring-o-sol Wakes You Up... Peps You Up... Corrects Morning Mouth in a Twinkling

FREE!

An artistic Lanster Glass—in your choice of 5 beautiful Pastel Colors—is given FREE with every bottle of Astring-o-sol. Your neighborhood druggist is now featuring this special introductory offer.

FOLLOW the sparkling refreshment of your morning shower with the most delightful and exhilarating bath of all—the Astring-o-sol Mouth Bath that corrects Morning Mouth!

Just shake a few dashes of Astring-o-sol into a quarter-glass of water. Then gargle the tingling liquid down deep in your throat—and swish it through your teeth.

That dry, stale, disagreeable taste you wake up with will disappear like magic. Your mouth and throat tissues will feel cooled, refreshed, stimulated, and clean. Your breath will be pleasant. And you'll have a delightful after-taste to enjoy breakfast.

More Effective for Mouth and Throat

The amazing effectiveness of Astring-o-sol as a mouth wash and throat gargle is due to the fact that it—

Penetrates down deep into the tissues, tiny crevices and pockets rapidly and thoroughly;

Exerts a powerful antiseptic and germicidal action that kills the germs embedded there, yet is absolutely safe to the most delicate tissues;

Produces a mild astringent action that helps to drive out bacteria;

And leaves an antiseptic effect that remains at the sources of infection for hours.

Does More—Costs Less—Tastes Better—Because Concentrated

Astring-o-sol is a concentrated preparation. This feature makes it: 1. Do More—you can use it in any strength you require; 2. Cost Less to Use—a 4-ounce bottle makes 12 full pints of refreshing mouth wash; 3. Taste Better—you can dilute it to suit your personal taste; 4. Take Up Less Space—in your traveling bag or medicine cabinet.

Dentists and doctors everywhere use Astring-o-sol and prescribe it to their patients for its superior penetrating power, powerful antiseptic and germicidal activity, effective astringent and cleansing qualities.

Try a bottle today. You'll wonder how you ever got along without it. For there is nothing so zestful, so concentrated and packed with germ-attacking power! So safe and delightful to use.

HOME FOR GIRLS CEREMONY SET

New Building's Corner-strone to Be Laid Saturday

Donor of El Monte Site to Conduct Affair

Sanctuary for Unfortunates Outgrows Quarters

Directors, officials and friends of the Ruth Protective Home will gather at the site of the new building near El Monte Saturday at 3 p.m. for the formal corner-stone laying ceremonies for the $85,000 building now under construction. Mrs. Alexander H. Kerr, superintendent and secretary, donor of the ten-acre tract for the new home, will cement the stone in its place. Speaking and music will feature the remainder of the program. Invitations have been sent to leaders in civic, philantpropic, educational and religious affairs of the city, in addition to many friends of the home who always have taken an active interest in its work and accomplishments.

The site of the new building is one-half mile east of El Monte and one block south of El Monte Boulevard on Maxon Road. The new home is necessary, as accommodations of the present building at 3931 Compton avenue were long since outgrown. It is a home for "that most neglected of all human beings, the young girl who is facing motherhood."

It will give accommodations for sixty-six girls and forty babies, and every effort will be made to create a homelike atmosphere for its occupants. There will be equipment for complete, scientific hospitalization care, a thorough course in practical household economics, and a school building where an academic program will be carried out. These training features are an essential part of the work of the home. It is hoped that the new home will be ready for occupancy by the early part of December.

The Ruth Protective Home was founded in 1924, when a small bungalow at the Compton-avenue address was sufficient for its first needs. Rapidly it outgrew one building and subsequently several others were leased. Last year its demands were so great that it was necessary to turn away 130 girls, and during the first six months of this year fifty-four applicants were refused admittance because of inadequate accommodations.

Officers of the home are Carl L. May, president; R. E. Hadden, vice-president; Mrs. Alexander H. Kerr, superintendent and secretary, and E. W. Thwing, treasurer.

SHIP LINES MAY MERGE INTERESTS

Detailed Rumor States Lasso-Matson Combine Near Consummation

Rumors of consolidation of the fleets of Los Angeles Steamship Company and Matson Navigation Company of San Francisco intrigued shipping men at the port yesterday. No confirmation could be obtained from Lassco officials but the rumor had it that the two are to be consolidated soon.

For the past several weeks, it was learned from sources close to the company management, various conversations have taken place at different times and both companies are understood to have recognized the advantages that such a fleet consolidation would provide, especially to California-Hawaii tourist travel.

Shipping men who have been keeping an eye on the situation pointed out that if Lassco and Matson were to consolidate it would give both Los Angeles and San Francisco a particularly effective sailing schedule not only to Hawaii but to the South Seas and Australia as well.

Shipping men who would discuss the report ventured the opinion that if the consolidation is consummated the two lines' fleets will be operated by probably the same organizations intact without much change, unless it be that of close teamwork in passenger and freight business development.

Morley Drury to Quit Hospital

Morley Drury, former star athlete of the University of Southern California, who has been under special treatment at the General Hospital for a mild attack of infantile paralysis, is scheduled to leave the hospital today. Yesterday he notified his associates in the brokerage firm of E. H. Hutton & Co that he will be at his desk Monday morning.

Drury, who was captain of the University of Southern California football team in 1927, was stricken with the malady several weeks ago and was taken to the General Hospital, where treatment is available for the illness

DRIVER SAYS TWO WOMEN ROBBED HIM

Pair He Gave Lift Took His Last $2, Man Says; Arrests Quickly Made

H. A. Leonard of 1121 West Kensington Road gave a lift to two women who hailed him on Telegraph Road, he reported to County Motorcycle Officer Atherton whom he met at Whittier Boulevard and Eastern avenue a few minutes afterward. The women, he said, held him up and relieved him of $2, all the money he had.

Atherton arrested two women who gave the names of Betty Rumbaugh, alias Helen Reynolds, 22 years of age, of Garden Grove, and Mary McAllister, 37, her aunt, of 1713 Washington street, San Diego. They admitted riding in Leonard's car, but denied holding him up. Atherton was unable to find a gun and Leonard told him he believed Betty Rumbaugh had rolled her hat to simulate a revolver, but that he was afraid to try to investigate it at the time of the hold-up, the officer reported. Leonard also said that he had seen the two women ejected from another car just before he picked them up.

In Municipal Judge Eagan's court yesterday both women pleaded not guilty to a charge of being drunk on a public highway. They were ordered released on $100 bail each pending trial on the 29th inst. A complaint charging robbery against them was issued late yesterday by the District Attorney's office. They are scheduled to be arraigned on this complaint today before Municipal Judge Ballard.

CONVICTION OF BOLTON AFFIRMED

Court of Appeal Upholds Murder Verdict in Death of Wife on Highway

The conviction of John Dewey Bolton, dancing master, in Superior Court on a murder charge for the slaying of his wife Lucille on November 9, 1929, was affirmed yesterday by Division Two, District Court of Appeal.

Bolton was convicted of slaying his wife in an automobile on the Roosevelt Highway. The prosecution charged that the motive was collection of a $10,000 insurance policy taken out on his wife. The defendant related that he had been held up by bandits and that one of the desperadoes shot his wife.

The court found that the circumstantial evidence was sufficient to support the verdict of the jury.

Michigan Alumni Plan Fete for New President

Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, newly elected president of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, will be honor guest at a dinner at the Biltmore next Monday at 7 p.m. Dr. Ruthven will be in Berkeley to attend the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of the new president of the University of California, Dr. Robert C. Sproul, and will visit Los Angeles on his way home.

DR. ALEXANDER G. RUTHVEN

Under the leadership of John B. Miller of the Southern California Edison Company, Judge N. P. Conrey of the Court of Appeals and Albert D. Pearce, attorney, local Michigan alumni have invited Dr. and Mrs. Ruthven to meet the former Wolverines now in Southern California. Dr. and Mrs. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid of U. S. C., Dr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Moore of the U.C.L.A., Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Millikan of California Institute of Technology and Dr. and Mrs. Remsen D. Bird of Occidental College will be among the guests.

Dr. Ruthven is one of the country's leading scientists and a prolific author, specializing in biology and zoology. The recent gift of more than $16,000,000 to the Michigan law school from the estate of W. W. Cook of New York has directed special attention to Michigan University.

DISABLED VETERAN SOUGHT

Disabled American Veterans of the World War yesterday asked the aid of The Times in locating Daniel Bryant, formerly of Company A, Eight Hundred and Fourth Pioneer Infantry, for whom adjusted compensation has been received. His last address was National Military Home, Sawtelle. Anyone knowing his whereabouts is requested to communicate with Frank J. Irwin, past national commander, at West Los Angeles 33477.

BOOTLEG CHECKS REVIEWED

Beverly Hills Capitalist Identifies $4000 Worth in Suit on Marital Troubles

Francis Whitaker, retired capitalist of Beverly Hills, yesterday identified checks for $4000 paid to bootleggers for liquor during the past two years, when he was examined in Superior Judge Guerin's court. Mrs. Margaret P. Whitaker, in her separate maintenance suit, asserts her husband was intoxicated nine-tenths of their ten years of married life. Whitaker is cross-suing for divorce, naming Cleon Plato, a cousin of his wife, as co-respondent.

Under examination, Whitaker was asked how his income tax returns happened to list Plato as his bookkeeper, when the husband had complained that the wife's cousin merely was an unwanted member of their household. Whitaker testified that he had not written Plato's name on the tax report, but merely had signed a blank form which an income tax expert had filled out as to details.

Mrs. Whitaker, whose collapse late Tuesday, abruptly adjourned her ordeal on the witness stand, was in court yesterday, reported recovered after her seizure.

Whitaker spent the entire day on the stand, being asked to identify documents and account books. He identified his signatures on five scraps of paper, which his wife had offered in evidence as IOU's for approximately $300,000 in cash and stock. Some of these asserted promissory notes were written on backs of tear-off calendar sheets, and one was written on the back of a corsetiere's bill for 40 cents.

Mrs. Whitaker is asking $6000 a month. Attorneys W. J. Barnhill and Roger Marchetti represent her, and W. I. Gilbert appears for the husband. The hearing continues today.

EMIL JANNINGS PLANS RETURN

R.-K.-O. to Produce "Recoil," With Evelyn Brent Starred; Claudette Colbert Back From Tramp Steamer Trip; Oscar Straus Will Journey to Europe

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Fans who have been missing Emil Jannings from the screen may take heart. The actor, who has been gallivanting through Europe during the past year or two, and who has been appearing on the stage over there, is returning to Hollywood. He is expected to arrive about January 1.

EMIL JANNINGS

Jannings, formerly with Paramount, has been signed by Warner Brothers, and will star in a picture called "The Idol." No director is yet assigned, although it is quite likely that Michael Curtiz will be the man. The picture will be made both in English and German.

Jannings, as will be remembered, scored a hit as star of several Paramount productions. Before coming to America he was a German picture and stage star.

EVELYN BRENT WILL PLAY LEADING ROLE

For some reason nearly all Rex Beach's novels fit themselves admirably to the screen. The latest one to be announced is "Recoil," which is to produce under the title of "White Shoulders."

EVELYN BRENT

No less popular and accomplished a star than Evelyn Brent will play the leading feminine role. Miss Brent has so many hits to her credit that it is hardly worth while to try to enumerate them here.

Mel Brown, who just finished directing Amos and Andy, will direct the Beach story. J. Walter Ruben is writing the dialogue.

This will be the second Beach story in which Miss Brent has starred for R.-K.-O., having appeared in "The Silver Horde." The picture is to be made as a special production and will have an all-star cast.

Bertha Mann With Universal

Bertha Mann has just been signed by Universal for a featured role in "The Modern Wife," in which Genevieve Tobin is co-starred with Conrad Nagel.

Two other players were yesterday also added to the cast, Reginald Pasch and George Irving.

Claudette Colbert Returns

Bringing to a close a globe encircling trip, which started from the Port of New York almost six months ago, Claudette Colbert returned to Manhattan yesterday.

Traveling aboard a freighter, the stage and screen player, with a group including her husband, Norman Foster, sailed from New York early in May. They visited Japan, China, Manila, Java, Sumatra, Singapore, Ceylon and Egypt. At this point in their trip they chartered an airplane in which they flew to Crete, Greece, over the Balkan States to Budapest, then to Vienna, Prague, and eventually to Miss Colbert's birthplace, Paris. A complete motion-picture record of the entire trip was made by Foster, who is an enthusiastic amateur cameraman.

Included in the huge collection of souvenirs which Miss Colbert brought with her are two tiny Sumatran monkeys, which were acquired in the East Indies and which accompanied their owner throughout the remaining months of the trip.

Miss Colbert will start soon in "Strictly Business," which will be made at the New York studio of Paramount. Foster is to play opposite Clara Bow in "No Limit."

Charlotte Greenwood Busy

That lady of one dimension, Charlotte Greenwood, has no time in which to improve her game of pee-wee golf these days.

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD

Not only is Miss Greenwood luring packed houses every night to El Capitan Theater to witness her performance in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," but she also is arising at dawn to play in a Christie comedy called "Girls Will Be Boys." Other picture contracts loom.

In the meantime, Miss Greenwood's first two-reeler for Christie, "Love Your Neighbor," has had its premiere in Cleveland, and is said to have scored.

Don't Slap Esther!

It appears to be unlucky to slap Esther Ralston, even in the interests of art. Or even to think of slapping her.

H. B. Warner, you remember, left the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of "The Scutherner," starring Lawrence Tibbett, because he was called on to slap Esther; and, having certain gallant feelings, as well as believing it would be bad for the reputation for sympathetic roles which he has built up to administer a sock to the fair Esther, he refused to play the scene. Then Ricardo Cortez was assigned the role.

THEODORE VON ELTZ

Yesterday Cortez, for some unexplained reason, was taken out of the role, or left it, and Theodore Von Eltz has been engaged for the part, which is that of the brutal husband of Miss Ralston. And now just what will happen to Teddy or what Teddy will happen to, remains to be seen.

Oscar Straus to Europe

The noted composer, Oscar Straus, best known in this country for "The Chocolate Soldier," and who has been in this country writing music for First National and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is to take a trip to Europe.

Straus's recently written operetta, "The Peasant King," is to be produced in Vienna at the very theater where first "The Chocolate Soldier" saw the light, and naturally Mr. Straus wishes to be present. Mrs. Straus and their son will accompany him. The trio will leave Hollywood November 15.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THERE'S a possibility that Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the eminent English actress who is to enlighten Hollywood Friday afternoon on "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting," may follow this feat by doing a play at the Vine-street Theater.

Most of Hollywood knows Mrs. Campbell as that English lady who speaks her mind and who, with her remarkable flow of wit, has been giving the old "regulars" among the wisecrackers a run for their money. Some of those who know the theater are also cognizant of the fact that she is regarded as an authority on manners and style of acting in an era of the drama which is just closing.

She would probably give a most interesting performance, one well worth seeing. Several plays of Shaw's, one or two of Pinero's, and Ibsen's "Ghosts" are under consideration for a vehicle.

"Lost Sheep" Considered

As a mater of fact, the Vine-street managers can't quite make up their minds about their next attraction. They're thinking about Mrs. Campbell. Also they are contemplating "Lost Sheep," that risque piece of foolery which tumbled into New York in May and startled even the most seasoned of critics and theater-goers. Arthur Greville Collins wants to do this. From what I have heard, it is about a couple of minister's daughters who take up their residence, unwittingly, in a house of unsavory reputation.

There are also, under consideration, for immediate booking, "A Cup of Sugar," with Dorothy Mackaye, now at the Figueroa Playhouse after a trip to San Francisco, and "Green Bottle," new play written by John T. Murray.

MacDonald Option Canceled

Broadway is about to fall heir to quite a bit of talent which has been hanging up its hat in Hollywood.

Yesterday I heard that Jeanette MacDonald was considering a return to the New York stage in a new operetta which would provide her a star role in keeping with the personality which has been flashing from the screen in such films as "Monte Carlo" and "Love Parade." Paramount, to which she has been under contract, admitted yesterday that it had failed to renew her option. Of course, there is a chance she may stay here and work for some other film company.

Hammerstein Back to Stage

Arthur Hammerstein, who last April announced he would abandon stage production for the talking motion picture, has reconsidered his decision and yesterday announced that he would in the future devote all of his time to theatricals. He said that "the public lack of interest in musical films" has been responsible for his change of plans and that his contract with United Artists has been canceled.

His next stage production, which is expected to reopen his theater, dark since the sudden failure of "Luana" in mid-December, will be a musical comedy called "Ballyhoo," and starring W. C. Fields.

Two Others Depart Hollywood

Erno Rapee, who, it seems, came to Hollywood just a few months ago to make a half-million dollars directing all music for Warner's, boards a train today for New York. He is going back to Roxy's to conduct and also to do national broadcasting.

Oscar Straus, Viennese composer, leaves here the middle of November for Vienna where his new operetta, "The Farmer General" will be launched.

Beautiful Girls Needed

More of Eddie Cantor's forthcoming show is that it won't have any choruses but it will have a lot of beautiful girls as background. Mr. Cantor believes that pulchritude on the stage provides a fitting frame for comedy, be it of revue or plain farce variety. So far no one has broken down and confessed the name of this Cantor show. I'd like to know.

Mason Opening Sold Out

A young gentleman who brings me dispatches from the R.-K.-O. studio on the progress of events theatrical at the Mason Theater reported gleefully yesterday the opening performance of "Women Who Take" was completely sold out. Money orders and checks for tickets are even now being returned. The premiere occurs Monday evening.

Beverly Hills Efforts

The Beverly Hills Community Players will get their fall season well under way with three performances of "Interference" next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Arthur Kachel has directed Irene Hunt Weyman, Bernard Borge, Ray Noll, Joan Blackmore, James Woolwine, Jr.; Theresa Arensma, Norman Pabst, Jr., and others. The show will be staged in the theater's new home, the top floor of the California Bank Building.

COMIC IN "STAMPEDE"

William Le Maire, the drawling sentry of "Only the Brave," was a blackface comedian in vaudeville before entering pictures. He has been signed for the Paramount picture, "Stampede," featuring Richard Arlen and Fay Wray.

JOAN BENNETT RETURNS

Joan Bennett has returned to Hollywood after a three weeks' vacation in New York. She came back across the continent via airplane.

Golfers Romance on Film Fairways

Robert Montgomery and Dorothy Jordan
Enact leading roles in "Love in the Rough," a cinema adaptation of "Spring Fever," which starts today at Loew's State Theater.

RODZINSKI CONDUCTS TONIGHT

Philharmonic Orchestra Opens Twelfth Season at Auditorium

Tonight the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles, Dr. Artur Rodzinski conductor, will open its twelfth season at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

This will be the beginning of the twelfth season of William Andrews Clark, Jr.'s sponsorship of the organization.

For the opening pair of concerts Dr. Rodzinski has chosen an interesting program, including Bach-Respighi's "Passacaglia," Brahms's Symphony No. 4; Debussy's "La-Mer," and the "Bolero," by Ravel. The same program will be repeated tomorrow afternoon. Capacity audiences are expected.

Spanish Talkie Starring Buster Keaton Booked

By special arrangement with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, the International California Theater has just closed contracts for the first showing in this country of Buster Keaton's first Spanish talkie, "Estrellados." The picture will have a gala premiere opening Friday night, following the close of "El Dios del Mar."

"Estrellados" is said to be a riot of fun and novelty, with Keaton speaking an original brand of Spanish. He is aided by an all-star cast of Spanish-speaking players including Raquel Torres, Don Alvarado, Carlos Villarias, Juan De Homs and Maria Calvo. William Haines, Gwen Lee, John Miljan, Lionel Barrymore, Fred Niblo and Cecil B. De Mille also aid in the merriment.

The adaptation and dialogue in Spanish was made by Salvador De Alberich and the direction was by Edward Sedgwick.

Judges Picked for Amos 'n' Andy Contest

Hugh J. Crawford, Arthur Keetch and Carlos J. Hardy, judges of the Superior Court, have accepted the invitation of the Orpheum Theater to select the winner of the Amos 'n' Andy impersonation contest which closes today. They will make their decision tomorrow.

The contest calls for the best imitation of the radio personalities of Amos 'n' Andy and is being conducted in conjunction with the opening of the team's first motion picture, "Check and Double Check," at the Orpheum Friday at a midnight matinee.

The feature closing tomorrow is "A Lady Surrenders," Universal's adaptation of the sophisticated novel, "Sincerity," by John Erskine. Featured players are Conrad Nagel, Genevieve Tobin, Rose Hobart and Basil Rathbone.

Clarence Brown Adds Players to M.-G.-M. Picture

Clarence Brown has added two more distinguished players to the cast of "Inspiration," which he is directing at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. They are John St. Polis, who has been a familiar figure in the casts of pictures for many years, and Beryl Mercer, who recently achieved overnight popularity in films.

These valuable additions to the fifth Brown-Greta Garbo production, "Inspiration," augment the imposing cast, which now includes Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau, Gwen Lee, Joan Marsh, Zelda Sears and Judith Voselli.

New Program at Wilshire Today

"The Santa Fe Trail," with Richard Arlen in the leading role, opens a three-day engagement today at the Fox Wilshire Theater. The film is said to introduce a new idea in treatment of stories of the West.

'BROTHERS' HEADS NEW R.-K.-O. BILL

Bert Lytell Plays Dual Role in Picture Opening Today on Screen

Starting today at the R.-K.-O. Theater is "Brothers," with Bert Lytell offering a dual impersonation of twins. The supplementary vaudeville program features Count Berni Vici and his girl symphony orchestra and chorus. Also in the unit are Bob Carleton and Julie Ballew and Dezso Retter.

The story of "Brothers" has its inception when in an argument on heredity versus environment, it is decided to make a test by placing and rearing twins in contrasting surroundings.

Dorothy Sebastian has the feminine lead in "Brothers," and the supporting cast includes William Morris, Richard Tucker, Maurice Black, Frank McCormack, Claire McDowell and Howard Hickman. Walter Lang directed.

Nancy Carroll Stars in Film at Paramount

Nancy Carroll's latest vehicle, "Laughter," with Fredric March, will have its western premiere at the Paramount Theater today. "Laughter" is the story of a girl who sacrificed happiness for wealth.

Jack Partington's new stage show, "High Speed," will make its debut here today in conjunction with the feature film. Ray Bolger will act as master of ceremonies.

The remainder of the program includes Rubinoff and the Paramount Orchestra. A comedy and Paramount sound news complete the bill.

New Film Due Tomorrow at Warner House

Appearing for the last times today on the screen at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater is "Sinners' Holiday," a Vitaphone production featuring Grant Withers, Evalyn Knapp, Joan Blondell and Lucille La Verne.

Starting tomorrow, the Downtown presents Billie Dove in "One Night at Susie's."

In this production, which has Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in the supporting cast, Miss Dove has the role of a beautiful chorus girl. John Francis Dillon directed.

POPULAR STAGE REVUE AT MAYAN

Bessie Hill

"Temptations of 1930" is proving itself a popular attraction at the Mayan Theater, where it has held sway for several weeks. The stage revue introduces almost a score of prominent principals, including Leota Lane, Bessie Hill, Doris McMahon and others.

An ensemble of girls was selected and trained by LeRoy Prinz, of Ed Carroll's "Vanities" note. Leonard Silliman, dancer, is another of the featured performers.

'BIG FIGHT' WILL START RUN TODAY

Lola Lane Plays Chief Role in Cruze Film at Pantages Theater

"The Big Fight" opens its first local showing at Pantages Hollywood Theater today in conjunction with a new stage offering. Several novelties are promised, including the official United States Indian Reservation band, Brenck's Golden Horse and Bella Donna.

"The Big Fight" was produced on the New York stage by David Belasco, with Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor in the roles which are played in the James Cruze film by Lola Lane and Guinn Williams.

In the supporting cast are Stepin Fetchit, Ralph Ince, Wheeler Oakman, Edna Bennett and James Eagle. The new program will be rounded out by a special musical novelty with Slim Martin and the orchestra, news reel and short subjects.

Pro-Arte Trio Presented at Knickerbocker

The Pro-Arte Trio, composed of Helena Lewyn, Mischa Gluschkin and Ludwig Foerstel and presented by the Musical Artists' Guild of America in concert recently at the Knickerbocker Hotel, maintained the high standard of musicianship that characterizes this series of weekly recitals.

During the first half of the program each member of the trio was introduced as a soloist. Mischa Gluschkin, violinist, offered Vieutemp's "Ballade and Polonaise," in a manner that emphasized the beauty and style of that composer. Helena Lewyn's "Ballade in A Flat," by Chopin was played with the assurance and ease of technique of a finished pianist.

Three compositions for the 'cello acquainted Ludwig Foerstel with his audience. He managed a remarkably full and vibrant tone. His own composition, "Elegie," was as successful as the Moszowski and Van Goens numbers.

New Date Set for Criterion Presentation

The date for the premiere of "Billy the Kid" in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new invention, Realife, has been postponed to the 31st inst.

"Billy the Kid," in the opinion of the theater management, should excel in popularity the four other films from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio which have recently played the Criterion. By the studio "Billy the Kid" is ranked with "The Big House," "Anna Christie," "The Divorcee" and "Blushing Brides" in patronage possibilities.

All of the grandeur of Arizona and New Mexico, the Grand Canyon and the Silver City and Lincoln county country where "Billy the Kid" and Sheriff Pat Garritt lived will be shown in the Realife film, it is said.

College Farce to Be Held for Another Week

"Maybe It's Love," the college comedy featuring Joe E. Brown, Joan Bennett, James Hall and the all-American football team, has met with such a popular reception that it is to be held for a second week at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater.

"Maybe It's Love" is said to be a timely picture, with its mythical all-American football team as picked by Rockne, Tad Jones, Alexander and Pop Warner. Joe E. Brown plays "Speed," the substitute, who wins a game by staying off the field.

Coach Howard Jones and Russ Saunders of S.C. have prominent parts in the picture. Joan Bennett as the college widow and James Hall furnish the love interest. William Wellman directed.

Rogers Vehicle Promises Humor at Boulevard

Mixing the Yankee wit and philosophy of America's foremost humorist with the subtleness of the English royalty, Will Rogers creates many amusing situations in his latest starring vehicle, "So This is London," which opens a week's run at the Boulevard Theater today.

The plot develops when a wealthy mill owner goes to London on business and takes his family along. Many complications arise when the son falls in love with an English girl and the father tries to break it up.

Irene Rich plays the wife of Will Rogers, the mill owner, and Frank Albertson portrays the son. Maureen O'Sullivan and Lumsden Hare also have important roles. John G. Blystone directed.

CANADIAN SOPRANO TO SING AT MAY'S

Mabel Curtis, Canadian soprano, will present her first concert in Los Angeles when she appears at the May Company's exposition hall this afternoon.

Miss Curtis will present a series of American, English and Irish folk songs and folk dance interpretations, and also a group of songs for children adapted from the A. A. Milne-Christopher Robin series. Evelyn Kemp will accompany at the piano.

GROUP OPPOSES POWER BONDS

Taxpayers' Organization to Combat Proposal

Other Needs of City Cited as More Urgent

City Club Takes Action on Charter Amendments

Resolutions embodying its reasons for opposing the proposed $13,300,000 power bonds were made public yesterday by the Taxpayers' Anti-Power Bond Association through its chairman, Attorney Walter R. Leeds. The resolutions, together with the names of the men who sponsor them, follow:

Whereas, on five different occasions, the voters of Los Angeles, at the urgent request of the Power Department, have voted power bonds which now total the sum of $60,500,000, and

Whereas, at the election on June 4, 1929, the voters very decisively defeated the power bond issue on the ballot, thereby showing that they did not favor additional power bonds, and

Whereas, on April 30, 1929, the total amount of outstanding bonds for the city of Los Angeles, exclusive of school bonds, was more than $140,000,000, and

Whereas, it is necessary to conserve the bonding capacity of the city for schools, the development of more water in the near future, sewers, police and fire protection, street improvements and the city's proportion of the Colorado River development;

Now, therefore, we, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the city of Los Angeles, hereby pledge our support to the Taxpayers' Anti-Power Bond Association, which has been organized for the purpose of opposing any power bond issue submitted to the voters within the next twelve months.

INDORSEMENT GIVEN

The German-American League, through its president, Max E. Socha, had indorsed the power bonds. Mr. Socha was quoted as saying that the big investment the city has in the power system and the increasing demands made for electricity make it imperative that the bonds be voted. Also, the need for extensions to handle Boulder Dam power was cited as an argument in favor of the bonds.

Opposition to proposed city charter amendments No. 2-A and No. 3-A and indorsement of No. 12-A was voiced at the City Club yesterday by George Dunlop, charter expert and formerly president of the City Club.

Regarding 2-A, which provides that all interest earned by the Water and Power Department and the Harbor Department shall go to the general city treasury, Mr. Dunlop said that the adoption of this amendment would be a direct reversal of the expressed will of the people two years ago, when the several departments were granted use of their own earnings to be used in the development of their respective departments

PURCHASING SYSTEM

Mr. Dunlop also expressed strong opposition to 3-A, which would give the city purchasing agent power to make all purchases for the various departments. Opposition was based upon the ground that each department not only is best acquainted with its particular needs, but also in position to make economical purchases.

In respect to 12-A, Mr. Dunlop said he hopes this amendment will carry, declaring that no city department has a moral right to sign contracts for payment of city funds for more than three years, unless such contracts are approved by City Council and made subject to referendum vote of the people.

Another speaker was Chief Engineer Scattergood of the Department of Water and Power, who spoke in favor of the proposed power bond issue.

OF THE COMMUNITY CHEST

F. S. RASCO SAYS:

"We realize the only way to investigate the needs of a community and distribute funds without waste, is through a centralized organization. For this reason we have welcomed the opportunity to co-operate with the Community Chest.

"On several occasions I have found it necessary to refer a worthy case to our Community Chest for assistance, and in every instance I have found they have been fairly and impartially assisted."

G.A.R. Member Killed by Auto

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 22. (Exclusive) Mahlon D. Stambach, 84 years of age, a Civil War veteran, 703 East California street, was fatally hurt tonight while crossing the street near his home, when he was struck by an automobile driven by 15-year-old Louis Boisot, son of L. M. Boisot, 555 South Grand avenue, a well-known Pasadena realty dealer.

He suffered a fractured skull from which he died two hours later at the Pasadena Hospital. Witnesses told the police that the boy was driving possibly twenty-five miles an hour and that the victim crossed the street outside the safety zone. The youth was booked for reckless driving but was later released to his parents.

FLIP OF COIN USED TO DECIDE DEBATE

Coin flipping, which was finally resorted to in breaking a continuous tie between the two remaining speakers in the local extemporaneous oratorical contest at Los Angeles Junior College, gave Wade Church, manager of literary activities, victory over Phillip Manning, his opponent. Church will next represent this college Friday at Pasadena Junior College.

SPEAKERS VOICE CHEST MESSAGE

Bureau Headed by Dr. Snape Reports Activities

Many Speeches Delivered to Service Clubs

Industrial Plant Workers Display Courtesy

A complete report of the activities of the Community Chest campaign speakers' bureau was released yesterday by Dr. John Snape of the Temple Baptist Church, chairman of the bureau.

The report reveals that since September 1, last, 345 talks have been made by Chest speakers. Of this total, 150 were made in industrial establishments, 110 were before Parent-Teacher Association meetings, twenty-one before clubs, such as Ebell, Kiwanis, Friday Morning, Rotary, Lions, Electric, Catholic Women, Advertising and seventy-three before general clubs and organizations.

WORKERS COURTEOUS

Under a new policy speakers were permitted to address industrial establishments only on company time, except where men work by piecework. Fred S. Ritter, vice-chairman of the speakers' bureau and chairman of the industrial department of the speakers' bureau, reported that in every case workers in the 1500 industrial establishments in the city received Chest speakers with every courtesy

At a recent meeting of the Central Labor Council, at which representatives of every union in the city were present and which was addressed by a Community Chest speaker, the gathering voted unanimous co-operation to the Chest campaign. Chest speakers have covered all parts of Community Chest territory from San Fernando to San Pedro.

SCHOOLS CO-OPERATE

A unique phase of the speakers' bureau is the co-operation being extended it by high schools and secondary schools of the city. Several hundred young student speakers have been trained to go out from these schools and make talks to the student assemblies for the Chest.

"All speakers have first-hand knowledge of the work being done by Chest agencies," Dr. Snape's report stated, "and stress the services given to the indigent before every body they address. The picture they leave of Chest services shows that approximately 10,000 destitute families were aided in the past year, 35,000 homeless men were given food, lodging and other assistance, 130 indigent aged were cared for, 35,000 children and adults received medical and surgical care in clinics, hospitals, preventoriums, sanatoriums and convalescent homes, approximately 20,000 persons obtained employment through employment departments of various Chest agencies, 17,000 disabled war veterans and their families received financial assistance, medical and hospital care and assistance in obtaining employment, and so on down the line."

WILL SHARE PULPITS

Next Sunday has been designated as Community Chest Sunday in all churches and numerous churches have invited Chest speakers to share the pulpit.

The speakers' bureau expects to fill a great number of speaking engagements prior to the official opening of the Chest campaign next Monday.

Among volunteers in the service of the speakers' bureau are Fred S. Ritter, Mrs. Chester Rude, Joseph Scott, Mrs. Adolf Sieroty, Rev. Willsie Martin, Grant V. Jenkins, Thomas P. White, Mrs. George Herbert Clark, Joseph Bonapart, Benjamin F. Bledsoe, William W. Bearman, Miss Margaret Barnard and more than 100 others.

KIDNAP PLOT REVEALED

Police Report Confession by Prisoner of Scheme to Perpetrate Sensational Crimes

George S. Beckwith, middle-aged draughtsman for mining companies, who is accused of having formulated a daring plan to kidnap wealthy persons and to have sought confederates by placing "blind" decoy advertisements in the newspapers, became a legal puzzle last night to authorities in Los Angeles.

Neither Dist.-Atty. Fitts nor the Federal authorities could find legal jurisdiction in the case against the 52-year-old prisoner who is charged with having suddenly forsaken a life of rectitude to undertake a series of crimes of astonishing magnitude. They hope to find some statute on which to proceed today, and meanwhile Beckwith, who is father of two sons, and has not had a police record heretofore, remains in custody, charged with suspicion of robbery.

GEORGE S. BECKWITH.

Remembering that in the $80,000 robbery at the City Power and Light office three years ago confederates in the crime were obtained by the ringleader through advertising, the police department yesterday attached increasing importance to Beckwith's arrest, particularly as he displayed keen intelligence in conversation, and frankly confessed, officers said, having laid out a campaign of crimes that would have been the source of many sensations in Los Angeles and vicinity.

Beckwith was arrested Monday night at 2211 East Seventy-seventh street. A fortunate bit of telephone "listening in" by Detective Lieutenants Miller and Hurst led to the man's capture.

Operating under the name of Warren (Vic) Richfield, he is accused of having placed a series of advertisements a week ago, asking for truck drivers and laborers. To those whose answered Beckwith is asserted to have sent letters outlining his scheme for kidnaping wealthy persons. The plan, he is asserted to have pointed out, promised easy money, and much of it.

Beckwith, in these letters, professed to be able to fix things with the police so arrests would not follow, and he added the returns from the kidnapings would be large enough to insure quick wealth to those who engaged in them.

Yesterday the man frainkly discussed his asserted kidnaping plan, declaring he needed money, and had based the idea on a similar scheme carried out by a band of criminals recently in the Middle West.

In dealings with those who replied to his advertisements Beckwith told applicants he would get in touch with them over the telephone, and it was during one of these conversations that Miller and Hurst managed to trace him.

The perplexity of the District Attorney and the Federal authorities yesterday seemed to grow out of their inability to find a statute covering Beckwith's asserted activities. He cannot be charged with conspiracy to kidnap, because the confederates he may have obtained are not known. He had not yet kidnaped any one. And, so far as known, he took no money from the men who answered his advertisements.

However, either Dist.-Atty. Fitts or the Federal authorities hope to find some method of procedure today.

MIXED DOUBLES TENNIS TEAM NOW IN "SINGLES"

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—The mixed doubles team of Van Ryn and Gladman became Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ryn tonight when the coholder of the Wimbledon men's doubles tennis championship and Miss Marjorie Gladman, who gained fame on the tennis courts while a student at the University of Southern California, were made husband and wife by Rev. Wallace N. Pierson in a pretty and dignified ceremony at the Episcopal Church of St. Augustine's-by-the-Sea.

The bride, known to her friends and tennis fandom as "Midge," is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gladman, of 3581 Centinela Boulevard, Mar Vista. She was given in marriage by her father.

Wearing a white satin wedding gown, she was accompanied to the altar by Miss Bonnie Glendinning, maid of honor, and Miss Doris Gladman and Miss Peggy Henry, bridesmaids. The maid of honor's gown was of turquoise blue net and the bridesmaids wore gowns of pink satin crepe. Mr. Van Ryn's best man was Hyde Braly and the ushers were Joseph Bixler and Joseph Bitterlin.

Gathered to view the ceremony was virtually everyone of prominence in Southern California tennis circles as well as friends and relatives of the couple and sister members of the bride's sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents which was attended by about 150 friends and relatives of the couple. Prominently on display at the reception was a huge wedding cake with the tennis motif predominant in the design of its icing. Worked into the design along the side were tennis rackets and on top of the cake were iced figures of tennis players in action.

After the reception the couple left on a honeymoon trip whose itinerary they would not reveal. They plan to make their home in Philadelphia. Mr. Van Ryn's home formerly was in East Orange, N. J.

NOVELIST WRIGHT RIGHT PROUD THAT SON WRITES

Disclosing that his oldest son, Gilbert, 25 years of age, collaborated with him in the production of a novel soon to be published, Harold Bell Wright, author of many best sellers, of Tucson, Ariz., was a Los Angeles visitor yesterday, stopping at the Biltmore.

Wright said that the novel has been named "The Devil's Highway" and that it is of a mystery-scientific turn.

Wright was proud of his son's accomplishment in breaking into the writing world without benefit of his father's reputation, putting forth two novels and a number of short stories under the name of John Lebar. Even the publisher of his son's first novel did not know the young writer's real identity, the father said.

The son's novels are "The Doubtful Year" and "The Lighted Lantern." Young Wright is living at Balboa.

Wright said he came to Los Angeles on business and to visit his son. He will leave today.

TESTS OUTLINED ON BREAKWATER

Harbor Department to Aid Federal Engineer

Stress and Costs Will Be Fixed by Miniature

Work Done at Milwaukee to Be Key to Studies

Use of the harbor department's supply yard in Wilmington and its engineering division for Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States district engineer, to conduct breakwater experimental studies was approved by the Harbor Commission yesterday on recommendation of Harbor Engineer Nicholson, who spoke very highly of the co-operation Maj. Lanagan has extended to the department.

Maj. Lanagan is at present preparing plans and specifications for the 12,500-foot breakwater extension on the forty-eight-foot contour, for which Congress appropriated $7,000,000, and Nicholson's suggestion is for experiments with miniature breakwaters in a tank to ascertain wave action on different types, mainly the rock-mound type, similar to the Los Angeles Harbor's present breakwater, and the reinforced concrete caisson type now being used to protect Lake Michigan harbors.

Nicholson, who will co-operate with Maj. Lanagan, informed the commission that during his recent visit to Milwaukee he found that the United States engineers for the Great Lakes district are conducting a great deal of experimental work with the use of miniature concrete caisson breakwaters.

These experiments are for finding the greatest resistance to wave action and also to obtain a more accurate estimate of the cost of the different types of breakwaters.

Nicholson informed the board that it had been found that of the 5000-foot reinforced concrete caisson type of breakwater at Milwaukee, 700 feet of it had been tilted during a storm, apparently because waves struck it, shot high in the air, dropped behind and scoured out the supporting rip-rap, which apparently was of insufficient weight.

He explained that at the experiments to be conducted here it would be ascertained if the concrete caisson type of breakwater would show more strength in withstanding heavy wave action in view of the fact that there is a hard-pan or clay bottom for the breakwater extension here, whereas the Milwaukee breakwater is on a sandy bottom, on which a crushed rock base first had to be laid.

In addition, he said, the experiments in miniature would reveal whether the concrete caisson type of breakwater cost would come within the appropriation, and whether it would be cheaper or more costly than the rock-mound type. The concrete type is favored because it would shut out all surge from ground swells.

Card Outfit Working for Pass Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (Exclusive)—With Stanford continuing to work out behind locked gates "down on the farm," the experts have gone into a huddle behind wide open typewriters and have emerged with the conclusion the aerial route may mean the difference between the relative strength of the Cardinal machine and the visitors from Troy Saturday afternoon.

"POP" WARNER

After considerable skull practice this afternoon, the experts cut loose with the conclusion the Trojan of 1930 is not as smart as he was in 1928 and not as powerful as he was last year but he has a greater variety of plays mixed up with a great flock of deception which brings the experts to the additional conclusion that Pop Warner, sometimes called the "fox of the farm," is hep to that also, and is running the Cardinal of 1930 through a siege of defensive tactics designed to overcome deception.

That done, the air will tell the tale. That is, if that is done. This is according to the experts, you understand.

It appears that Orv Mohler and Duffield are good passers and Pinckert and Apait also can pass. It appears that Stanford also has some passers, but who they are is a secret.

INJURIES HURT TIGER ELEVEN

Waddell and Blee May Not Make Arizona Trip

Star Sophomore Guard Has Broken Hand

Oxy Team Leaves Tomorrow for Phoenix

Adding more darkness to the already gloomy prospect of meeting the tough Arizona Wildcat this Saturday at Phoenix, Johnny Waddell, star sophomore guard, and Bob Blee, reserve backfield man of the Oxy Tigers, were found to be so badly injured last night when Eddie Kienholz called the roll, that both may be left home.

COACH KIENHOLZ

Waddell suffered a broken hand in the San Diego tussle las Friday night, but Oxy officials didn't find it out until yesterday. He, in all probability, on Redlands a week from tomorrow night in the Rose Bowl.

Blee broke a bone in his foot in scrimmage last night and will be all right in a couple of weeks. Blee had a good chance to get in the Wildcat game as Kienholz is planning on using most of his reserve material against the potent Arizona eleven.

The Tigers will leave for Phoenix Friday night and will arrive just in time to grab a sandwich before the game. After the struggle, the Oxy outfit will grab a rattler for home and are scheduled to be back by noon Sunday.

ARIZONA WILDCATS DRILL FOR OXY GAME

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 22. (AP)—With the squad's most effective combination still something of a puzzle, and with several players handicapped by injuries, University of Arizona football coaches are seriously at work today to bring a winning Arizona team to the front before the Occidental game in Phoenix Saturday.

In the first practice since the clash last Saturday with the Tempe State Teachers, the Wildcats did not show unusual dash and power in a thirty-minute scrimmage between teams selected from the varsity squad. Line Coach Fred Enke tried out various combinations in an effort to put his finger on one which would "click" consistently.

Tewksbury was given stiff drill at end in place of Dicus, and Paul Leary, speed merchant, replaced Hargis at half on one team, to do most of the ball carrying. Hargis was kept busy on the sidelines, punting the ball in long arcs down the field.

Just what men will compose the Wildcat line against Occidental is uncertain. Gus Seidel, 190-pound tackle, is back in uniform after having been away from practice for some time with leg injuries. His leg still is bandaged heavily, however.

Coach J. F. McKale has not yet decided definitely between Phillips and Clark for right guard, or Mannen or Anglin for right tackle. The broken hand of Dunseath, regular center, is mending rapidly, but whether he will get back in the game immediately is problematical.

The starting fullback has not been named. Lieer started against Tempe, to give way to Collier.

The team will ease up tomorrow, and Friday McKale will take a twenty-six-man squad to Phoenix. Names of those selected to go will be announced after tomorrow's workout.

HANDY TANDY - - - - by Feg Murray

HE ALWAYS GETS HIS MAN!
AND the UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA'S CAPTAIN IS NAMED HANDY!
STANFORD MEETS SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ON OCT 25, WASHINGTON NOV. 8, CALIFORNIA NOV. 22, AND DARTMOUTH NOV. 29.
RAY TANDY
CAPTAIN AND TACKLE OF THE STANFORD FOOTBALL TEAM, AND DISCUS THROWER ON THE TRACK TEAM.
...politan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

STANFORD'S captain this year is Ray Tandy, a worthy successor to such former leaders of the big Red teams as Ernie Nevers and Biff Hoffman. But because Ray plays in the line you won't hear so much about him as if he were in the backfield. However, Ray Tandy is a star in his own firmament, and everybody knows the value of a good tackle to a football team. He has football intuition, the strength of a Hackenschmidt and the speed of a cobra. And that makes him a pretty good tackle, which is exactly what he is.

Capt. Tandy was hurt early in the Santa Clara game on the 4th inst., but Pop Warner showed that he had able support for the Red leader by rushing in a very healthy gent named Ehrhorn, who started at right tackle in the Minnesota game. The left tackle position on the Stanford team is held down by a Mr. Bogue, brother of a famous Cardinal ball carrier of a few years back. Tandy is 26 years of age, five feet eleven and one-half inches tall and weighs 190 pounds.

Capt. Tandy's greatest ambition is, probably, to beat the University of Southern California, which Stanford plays at Palo Alto next Saturday. The Red Shirts have only got one tie and two defeats out of the last three years' contests with the Trojans. Next to beating Howard Jones's men, Tandy wants most to beat California in the Coast's annual "big game." In this contest the radio announcers will have the fun of trying to remember that Tandy is captain of one team and Handy captain of the other! The week following the California battle Ray and his mates will be hosts to Dartmouth and hope to entertain them as fittingly as Stanford did Army last year.

A MOSES SOUGHT FOR ON COAST

BY RALPH HUSTON

Ho, for an Art Shires!
Ho, for a U. S. Grant!
Ho, for an Harry Ebding!

What the Pacific Coast Conference needs is one of those guys who says, "I can do anything," and goes out and does it.

What with all the gloom emanating from the Stanford and Southern California campuses, it remains for some noble soul to shove his manly brow above the seas of despair and pronounce, "We'll win in a walk! The other guys are lousy! It's just a breather!"

"My present team is the dumbest I ever had," says "Pop" Warner. "Never have I seen such a collection of human dumbness. We couldn't win from the Trojans if our lives depended upon it."

TROJANS' CHANT

"Warner has great reserve strength," chant the Trojan supporters. "We've a good starting line-up, but we can't compete with 'Pop' in the matter of reserve strength. They'll slaughter us."

Be it said to the everlasting credit of Howard Jones, master of the Trojan hordes, that he has said no words one way or the other. Jones has learned the lesson of silence. He makes no predictions, no alibis, and takes things as they come. Win, lose or draw, the Trojan mentor has never a word of praise; nor never a word of condemnation.

But what the conference needs is a Shires, or a Grant, or an Ebding. A guy who can predict the best, and who can go out, and do it. A guy who can say, "Those Cards are a bunch of grammar-school punks! We can take 'em in a gallop. It's a breeze, and if you want to see some real football, just wait till we cruise over California and Notre Dame!"

Shires said, "I can do anything!" and he did it.

Grant said, "There's no such word as can't."

Ebding said, "I'll beat out that senior in two weeks."

Probably most of you don't know the story of Harry Ebding, the Saint Mary's end. When Harry was a lowly sophomore, a number of newspaper men visited a St. Mary's workout. Harry talked to them personally. "See that guy on end," he said. "In two weeks, I'll be in the starting line-up, in his place. In my junior year, I'll be all-Coast, and by the time I'm a senior, I'll be all-American. They laughed.

FOOLED 'EM

Ebding has more than lived up to his predictions. In two weeks he was a regular. As a junior, he was all-Coast, and now, as a senior, he's a real candidate for all-American.

That's the spirit that makes great athletes. The will to win, and the ability to come through. Charley Borah, a dash man, honestly believed that he could beat any two-miler running. And, given the chance, Charley could.

What the conference needs is a quarterback who can step into the breach, declare that the opposition is a "bunch of bums," and proceed to run wild to victory.

Maybe it will be Duffield. Maybe Mohler. Maybe Hillman, or Rothert, or Moffatt, or Simkins. But let's have a guy who knows he can win, and goes out and does it. Away with gloom! Let's have a Shires, or a Grant, or an Ebding!

Ouch, Pop, How Could You?

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) Oct. 22. (AP)—Coach Pop Warner, recently quoted as saying the Stanford football team this year was the "dumbest he had ever coached," told the student body at a rally here tonight that "no matter how dumb the Stanford team is, it is a lot smarter than any U.S.C. team."

If You Can't Pick a Winner—

Don't fail to tune in on KHJ at 9:30 on the dot this evening when Braven Dyer of The Times sports staff discusses the inside dope on Saturday's Southern California-Stanford game with Seraphim (Dynamite) Post, former All-American guard under Pop Warner. Post has crushed many a Trojan line and his expert opinion from the player's standpoint will come mighty close to hitting the nail on the head. Post and Dyer will treat with the present, past and future in a half hour of fast and furious football chatter. It's a lost opportunity if you miss this broadcast. Remember the time—9:30, the station—KHJ, and the principals—"Dynamite" Post and Braven Dyer.

BEAR PLAYERS DEPART FOR WASHINGTON GAME

BERKELEY, Oct. 22. (Exclusive) Conceded an even chance of bringing home the first Pacific Coast Conference victory of the 1930 season, the University of California football varsity, thirty-nine players in all, boarded the train this evening for Seattle to compete against the University of Washington on Saturday.

A big send-off rally, under the direction of Hubert Pedersen, student body yell leader, saw the Bears on their way following a stiff workout that began at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and ended just early enough for the gridmen to get out of their football clothes and into their civvies.

Coach Clarence (Nibs) Price intends to use 1 of against the mighty men of the north. This was evident in the return of Ed Griffiths to the first-string quarterback position. Griffiths has been useless the past couple of weeks on account of a very bad ankle which got all used up in the Washington State game. It was rumored that Bill McCutcheon would take his place against the Huskies. With Griffiths a 190-pounder, back on the job, McCutcheon will have

HILL DOUBLES TO BRING 9-8 VICTORY TO STARS

Jacobs Hits Two Homers and Pair of Doubles; Seven Circuit Clouts Feature Clash

BY BOB RAY.

Whew! And various other expressions of excitement!

In one of the wildest, most thrilling baseball clashes that has been staged during Wrigley Field's history, Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars got the jump on their Angel rivals in their quest for the 1930 Coast League pennant by eking out a 9-to-8 triumph in ten innings in yesterday's championship play-off opener.

It was a contest that was packed with more thrills to the minute than one could possibly imagine, and none of the 5310 fortunate fans on hand were ready to concede a victory to Hollywood until Buzz Wetzel disposed of the last Angel batsman in the final inning.

RAY JACOBS

The Sheiks finally won out in the tenth when Jess Hill, the ex-Trojan athlete, who is now playing left field for Hollywood, smashed a double down the third-base line that brought big Dave Barbee scampering over the plate with the run that decided the thriller.

Both sides apparently had the ball game sewed up at various stages of the struggle, but gallant rallies by two fighting ball clubs forced the battle into overtime before the issue finally was decided.

Seven home runs, five by Los Angeles and two by Hollywood, added their exciting moments to the afternoon's entertainment.

ACES ARE ROUTED

Ed Baecht and Jim Turner, the two hurling aces of the rival clubs, were treated like high-school pitchers by the base-hit-crazy athletes and both failed to finish. Vitt

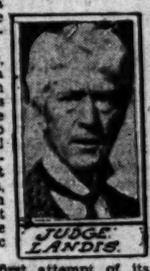
BALL FARM GIVEN RAP BY LANDIS

Major League Clubs Can No Longer Draft Players From Outposts

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis ruled that no major league club could draft a player from one of its own baseball farms.



JUDGE LANDIS

The ruling, regarded as a slap at the farm system, was made after the Brooklyn club of the National League attempted to select Jimmy Pattison, a pitcher, from its farm at Macon in the South Atlantic Association.

It was the first attempt of its kind since the farm system became general.

"Selection of a player from a club's own farm is wholly inconsistent with the draft," Commissioner Landis said. "The club can buy any players before September 15 if it wants them."

BRUIN GRIDDERS WORK IN ROSE BOWL TONIGHT

Coach Bill Spaulding and his U.C.L.A. gridders will sample the Pasadena Rose Bowl brand of night air tonight when they work out under the klieg...s in preparation for tomorrow night's game with the Caltech Engineers. The Bruin football team will practice from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening at the Rose Bowl, and special attention will be paid to punts, passes and handling the ball on reverses and spinners.

Glendale Abandons Plans for $2500 Open Golf Tournament

JUNIOR CHAMBER NOT INTERESTED

Professional Interference Causes Decision

May Hold It Next Year if Attitude Changes

Santa Monica Given Spot on Midwinter Program

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Glendale's $2500 open golf tournament, scheduled for December 27 and 28 over the Oakmont Country Club, was abandoned yesterday. The announcement came from Phil Thomson, president of the Glendale Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Thomson rang in a new angle in the present National Professional Golfers' Association tournament bureau problem when he stated that it was understood that one plan was to have sixteen leading professionals play in one tournament and take their slice of prize money, and then let sixteen others play in another tournament.

"The open tournaments promoted in Southern California," said Thomson, "are for the benefit of all who wish to play. We don't propose to allow the P.G.A. to dictate terms which will practically make them closed parties for the benefit of a few.

"There are also hints that expense money, in addition to the prizes, will be demanded by some stars.

"It is easier to cancel all arrangements at the present time and show the pros that they are merely players and not dictators than to attempt to fight with them. They insisted on having their own way. They have it now, as far as Glendale is concerned.

"Perhaps if they alter their attitude we will go ahead with our plans for the annual tournament here in 1931."

The withdrawal of Long Beach and Glendale leaves only $55,000 in money prizes to be awarded in Southern California this winter.

It is understood that Santa Monica will fill in the Long Beach dates with its $1500 amateur-pro event announced a short time ago. This will be held the first week in January and will be unique in that the new big ball will be officially required in this tournament for the first time.

PARTNERSHIP TOURNAMENT ON AT BRENTWOOD

Freddie Tongue, caddie master of the Brentwood Country Club, yesterday announced pairings for the partnership best-ball tournament being staged at the popular Santa Monica club. These matches are to be played each week, and a great deal of interest has been aroused. Each partner is allowed seven-eighths of his handicap.

Following are the pairings:

George Reimers (8) and Dick Young (12) vs. C. E. Sampson (20) and W. F. Howard (18); A. A. Lamm (8) and George Balle (14) vs. W. Burry (16) and D. P. Kisler (16); S. S. Taylor (16) and R. K. Houston (18) vs. Charles Ward (6) and Mal Knight (9); Fred Ackerman (6) and Hal Baker (12) vs. Charles Goodwin (12) and K. E. Schurz (12); S. H. Hopp (18) and E. E. Wood vs. H. Thomas (20) and Dan Egan (22); W. H. Morgan (12) and W. C. Stranahan (7) vs. G. M. Unter (12) and J. S. Howell (16); A. Hayes (6) and C. Donnelly (18) vs. A. M. Lovelace (26) and Max Stimson (14); Hooper Dunn (12) and L. A. Martin (10) vs. Dennes Penimore (16) and C. R. Parsg (14); W. Dimmick (12) and R. Mitchell (12) vs. Fred Graves (18) and George Mayton (14); E. V. Bledsoe (14) and Roy Hunt (14) vs. Frank Ann (14) and Cliff Hunt (18); W. Miller (12) and D. A. Swan (18) vs. Fred Gilmore (14) and G. D. Coulter (16); W. A. Pelz (22) and Bob Pelz (6) vs. C. Campbell (14) and M. W. Kirby (6); Les Mann (14) and D. G. Bovel (6) vs. J. D. Milne (24) and Jim Flynn (39); J. George Harmon (4) and H. J. Barde (4) vs. R. A. MacDonald (12) and C. S. Dickinson (10); Don Dawson (8) and J. Perry (4) vs. W. F. Bentley (8) and Capt. H. P. Smith (12); Rob Hunt (18) and C. S. Temple vs. Clyde Smith (13) and W. Chapman (12).

SAN BERNARDINO EVENT DRAWS LARGE FIELD

J. G. Knapp, chairman of the tournament committee, reports that all is in readiness for the San Bernardino Valley Country Club's thirty-six hole medal play invitation tournament on Saturday and Sunday. Knapp has planned a banquet at the clubhouse tomorrow evening and places have been laid for 100 golfers. A large field is expected with more than forty entries already on hand.

Knapp stresses the point that the twenty-four-handicap man is just as much sought after as the scratch player with play in four classes, scratch to six, seven to eleven, twelve to seventeen, and eighteen to twenty-four.

The San Bernardino course is open to entrance today and tomorrow for practice rounds.

CARPENTER WINS TROPHY AT CHEVY CHASE

Charley Johnston, professional of the Chevy Chase Country Club, reports that Tom Carpenter won the M. B. Desenberg Trophy tournament. W. E. Taylor was runner-up.

MEYBERG WINS MEDAL IN HILLCREST PLAY

The qualifying round of the Hillcrest Country Club championship was held recently at that course. Eddie Meyberg annexed low gross with a 75. Dr. Reingold with an 89-16—73 walked away with the low net. C. L. Myers, H. L. Gumbiner, George Thompson and Roy Badt tied for second low net with 74's.

PHELAN BOASTS NEW LINE-UP FOR BEARS

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Coach Jimmy Phelan of the University of Washington plans to try a new backfield combination in his starting line-up next Saturday when his Husky eleven tangles with the University of California here.

Jack Patrick, veteran backfield man, will likely replace August Buse, giant sophomore, at the fullback position. Whitey Martin, new speedy halfback find, has caught the eye of the coach, and may succeed Cherberg. Merle Hufford or Clarence Bledsoe, two speed demons, will handle the other halfback job and Bill Marsh will return to his quarterback post.

TENNIS UNIONS

THE marriage of Johnny Van Ryn and Midge Gladman gets out of the society notes and into the sports columns this morning because it is the most famous union of tennis athletes since Tom Bundy led May Sutton to the altar.

Miss Gladman was No. 9 in the national rankings last years, and will be higher this year. Van Ryn has been a Davis Cup star for two years, and is No. 5 man in the "First Ten."

With Wilmer Allison he won the Wimbledon doubles championship in 1929 and repeated this year. They also overthrew the French doubles team in the 1929 Davis Cup play, but were defeated this year.

Tom Bundy and May Sutton were married twenty years ago. Tom had been runner up for the national singles championship and with Maury McLoughlin national doubles champion. May Sutton was national as well as world's singles champion.

Another interesting point in connection with the Van Ryn-Gladman marriage is the wholesale clean-up of America's young Davis Cup stars.

Wilmer Allison was married this spring, George Lott last week, Van Ryn last night and Johnny Doeg's marriage has been set for an early date.

THE FOOTBALL HEGIRA

ONE of the largest train movements in the annals of American college sports events.

That's the ticket on the hegira to Palo Alto for Saturday's struggle between Cardinal and Trojan.

The dope comes right from Henry Monohan's Southern Pacific offices, so it's authentic.

Ten extra trains with five regulars will carry 500 students, 1000 alumni and over 2500 Trojan fans north tomorrow night—4000 in one lump.

Others will trek north tonight, and the total will be augmented by steamship contributions and travel by automobile.

The Stanford stadium steats 87,500 persons.

Every seat will be occupied.

The game has been sold out for weeks, and there was no public sale.

PICKS THE TROJANS

M. B. RICE, the statistical expert, is one gent who has the courage of his convictions.

The anonymous letter writers send in their predictions such as S.C. 26 to 0 or Stanford 20 to 6, but Brother Rice comes right out and stacks his reputation on 13 to 6 in favor of Southern California.

He says Stanford will score on one of its Ireland-to-Russia forward passes, that Duffield will engineer one touchdown and that Mohler has two in his system, at least one of which will register on the scoreboard.

NEBRASKA UPHELD

MR. TOM LIEB'S memory has been assailed again. Over the radio he named Army as having the best ten-year record against Notre Dame.

Millard Binney, Nebraska '11, submits an eleven-year record of play between the two teams which gives Nebraska five games, Notre Dame five and one tie.

This was for the period 1915-1925 inclusive. When they stopped scheduling these games in 1925 Nebraska had won three of the last four games, according to Mr. Binney's statistics.

Cantlon, May Back in Race

"Shorty" Cantlon and Walt May, two of the outstanding drivers of the country, will don their goggles and crawl into their chariots again today following absences of several weeks from competition. The formidable pair will start tuning up their respective castor-oil burners at the Legion Ascot Speedway for Sunday afternoon's first day race of the season. They are expected to attract the scrutiny of the many railbirds at the local course who are clocking the drivers in action this week in hopes of "doping" the winner in the forty-lap sweepstakes.

Cantlon has been getting his thrills from the sidelines for several weeks because, after two flings at night racing, the pee-wee of the speed sport decided that he was not so great under artificial illumination. However, the Detroit speed king, whose achievements on eastern tracks this year were some of the most brilliant in recent history, is thoroughly accustomed to the Ascot track. May has been on the shelf due to a shoulder injury, sustained when his Padre Special overturned several weeks ago after crashing into the upper guard rail on the south bend.

W. H. Richards, prominent official at the speedway, stated yesterday that every outstanding pilot in this section of the country, with the exception of Billy Arnold, is enrolled for this week's six races. Among those who have signed to drive are Francis Quinn, Arvel Brunmier, Nick Martino, Johnny Krieger, Sam Hoffman, Ernie Triplett, Mel Kenealy and Chester Gardener.

EVANS BEATS THOMAS IN PICO RING BOUT

Huerta Evans took a six-round decision over Ritchie Thomas last night at the Pico Bowl. Johnny Grinone took a four-round nod over Milt Wilkins in the semi-wind-up. Al Wilson beat Don Ponn in four rounds. Stafford McCoy stopped Johnny Willett in the third round. George Starr took the decision over Norman Kemp in the curtain-raiser.

HUTTON FIVE LEADS

The E. S. Hutton five went into the lead for the first time in the Los Angeles Stock Exchange Basketball League last night at the Hollywood High School gymnasium, defeating the William R. Staats quintet, 33 to 13. In the other game played, the Dean Witter team trimmed the Tucker-Hunter-Doolin squad, 22 to 13.

ALL-STAR NINE BEATEN

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22. (AP)—A team of Coast League Senators drubbed the all-stars of the National and American leagues here tonight, 8 to 3, in an exhibition game. Rude Walberg pitched for the Stars against Tom Flynn and Clarence Hamilton. Myril Hoag, who will be a big leaguer next year with the Yankees, was the outstanding player on the field.

NELSON WINS VERDICT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Al Nelson, San Diego welterweight, was given a ten-round decision over Charley Hernandez, San Francisco, in National Hall here tonight.

DANIELS AND RISKO HOOK UP TONIGHT

BOSTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Dick Daniels, the promising St. Paul heavyweight, will be thoroughly tested here tomorrow night when he swaps blows with Johnny Risko, the Cleveland trial horse of the heavyweight division, in the Boston Garden's ten-round feature bout. Daniels, several nights ago, made an impressive showing against Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight champion, but the Cleveland "rubber man" delights in chopping down ambitious and title-seeking youngsters.

SHERIDAN KAYOED BY MICKEY WALKER

WICHITA (Kan.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, knocked out Homer Sheridan, Los Angeles, after 1m. 42s. of fighting here tonight. The nontitle bout had been scheduled for ten rounds.

Sheridan went down a second time for the count of nine. Several quick jabs to the head floored him for a knockout. He was unable to get in a good punch at Walker, who left the ring with his hair unmussed.

MORTON KAER HAS NEW TROJAN HOPE

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Morton Kaer, former star half on the University of Southern California football team, all-American, today announced he has a candidate for the Trojan squad of the future. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kaer here this morning. Kaer is line coach at the University of Nevada this season, and has been mentioned as the head coach for next season.

TOILERS PLAN TIGER REVENGE

Manual Arts Out to Trounce Lincoln Tomorrow

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Revenge, sweet revenge is what the Manual Arts Toilers have in store for the Lincoln Tigers tomorrow afternoon, when the two undefeated elevens clash at Wilson Field in the feature tussle of the six games listed for the City League.

Two years ago this Thanksgiving the Tigers surprised the Toilers by upsetting them 14-0. The victory took a city championship away from Manual Arts and presented it to the Poly Mechanics. Before game time the Toilers were heavy favorites and became overconfident, while Lincoln has been underrated.

However, Coach Jim Blewett avers that this year such will not be the case. While the Toilers are favorites again as they were on that memorial Turkey Day struggle, neither will the Artisans be overconfident nor will they underrate the Tigers.

Both Blewett and Tunney are looking forward to a hard-fought game. While the Tigers haven't shown any great amount of scoring ability to date, they have managed to win all their games. Tunney's eleven have a 7-6 practice victory over Poly, and a 7-0 win over Hollywood to its credit as well as two league triumphs. Fairfax was defeated, 6-0, while Garfield bowed to Lincoln last week, 14-0.

At a glance it can be seen that only one touchdown has been scored on Lincoln all year and if memory serves correctly Sinclair Lott of Poly intercepted one of Santo Garbo's passes and galloped to the 2-yard line, from where he packed the ball over for that tally. The touchdown wasn't an "earned" score. That is, it was a break that gave Poly the scoring chance.

From that it can be seen that if nothing else, the Tigers must have a powerful defense and can be expected to more or less halt the potent Manual offense.

And if the Tigers do stop Manual's offense it will be quite a feather in Jim Tunney's cap. So far this year the Toilers have rolled up 113 points to 7 for the opposition in four games. That is quite a record for any team anywhere, in any league.

Inglewood was the first to feel the potency of the Manual Arts outfit, bowing 48-0. Long Beach Poly, defending Southern California prep champions, was next, losing 19-6. In the first league encounter Los Angeles High was defeated 19-0 and last Friday Fremont was thumped, 29-0.

Vic Kelley's Hollywood Redshirts will be out to retain their perfect record in league competition tomorrow when they take on the Franklin Panthers. The game is scheduled for the Panther field. Hollywood is favored to win.

Four other games are listed, L. A. High at Fremont, Jefferson at Poly, Roosevelt at Belmont and Fairfax at Garfield. The Romans, Roosevelt and Fairfax are favored to win their games, while the Democrat-Poly contest looms as a toss-up.

Clark De Groot's Rough Riders may get a surprise in the Belmont eleven. For the past two years Roosevelt has been favored to drub Sid Withrow's Hilltoppers but each time the "little giant" has upset the dope, tying Roosevelt in 1928 and beating them last season.

CITRUS BELT LOOP SET FOR SECOND ROUND

COVINA, Oct. 22.—The Citrus Belt League swings into its second round of play Friday with three feature games scheduled. The Covina Colts trek out to Redlands to battle with the Terriers, the Chaffee Tigers tangle with Riverside Poly on the Riverside tanbark while the Pomona Cardinals play host to the San Bernardino Cards.

Coach Ted (Butter) Gorrell's Colts are favored to register a win over Coach Daniels's Terriers. However, the Terriers have a good little outfit and may upset the dope. Coach Daniels has two classy wingmen in Garnsey and McLelland and they will probably make it plenty tough for Doug Fischer, the colts' flashy ball carrier.

Coach Howard (Muggs) Mitchell's potent Chaffee High Tigers, fresh from their victory over the Pomona Cards, should defeat Les Lavelle's Riverside Poly crew rather handily. The Chaffee team won last year by a 21-0 score and it looks as though its margin of victory Friday will be about the same.

The most closely contested battle of the afternoon will be between Archie Nisbet's Pomona team and Coach Renfro's Berdoo Cards with Nisbet's team out for revenge for the 6-0 defeat handed them by Berdoo and which cost Pomona the conference honors last year.

Bain Stopped by Rosenbloom

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN (New York) Oct. 22. (AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, champion of the light-heavyweights, cuffed an unqualified young man from Newark, N. J., named Abie Bain, into a technical knockout tonight in the eleventh round of one of the poorest title matches ever staged here.

Although the battle was scheduled for fifteen rounds many of the 4400 customers had departed elsewhere by the time Maxie cut the left eye of the outclassed youngster so badly that Referee Lou Magnolia was forced to halt the bout. There had been no knockdowns. The eleventh round lasted one minute and forty-seven seconds.

In all the eleven rounds Bain, hitherto a middleweight who has done most of his fighting in New Jersey, managed to win only one, the second, when he hurt the champion with body clouts. The remainder of the time Abie was a target for Maxie's unorthodox slapping, poking and cuffing. The attack of the title-holder baffled him and he held and wrestled as often as he could.

MIKE ARTIST GRABS FENCE

Radio Announcer Declines to Predict Winner of Stanford-Trojan Gridiron Contest

BY DON THOMPSON

Sports Announcer KPO and Announcer of Saturday's Game

There's an old adage to the effect that any sports follower who tries to predict the result of a game between two rival schools is more than various and sundry varieties of chump; he's a plain fool.

Therefore, nothing in the line of definite statements as to the winner will be found in this article. We had the opportunity of seeing the men of Troy in their suits just once, earnestly tossing the pigskin pellet, carefully booting it over, through, and around various goal posts. How they look in a game remains to be unveiled to our eyes next Saturday.

But the cohorts of Glenn Scobey Warner have ambled back and forth at length on the farm gridiron several times as far as we're concerned. And not one of those times has been impressive.

CLASSY LINE

Blessed with one of the greatest potential lines in years, with not only letter men, but with men from last year's goof squad that could have replaced letter men, the Stanford line has been invulnerable defensively. Oregon State is the only school to score on Stanford this year, and that was via the aerial route. However, and here's a horse of another garage, most of that defensive line was individual work. There hasn't been a great deal of this stalwart forward wall stuff that one reads about. We've seen one man go knifing through, or another man bear the brunt of the offensive interference. And up at Stanford it's freely admitted that no one man, even a Bogue or Tandy or Ehrhorn, is going to stop Howard Jones and his power plays.

Considerably less optimism can be shown as regards offensive strength. The Stanford line has charged it, when and how it felt like. If the boys got together the result was yardage. If they didn't, which has been happening all too frequently, the result was pitiful. Santa Clara's line held Stanford's line even, until its reserves ran out. In fact, it gave the Cardinal forward wall a few lessons in charging during the first half of the game.

The backfield also lacks co-ordination. When last year's backfield, Caglieri, Moffatt, Rothert and Hill get together they gravitate to the old "B" formation as naturally as a duck to water, and every time they do yardage and touchdowns have resulted. But the "C" formation has not the same happy record. In fact, it has gone nowhere fast and with the same men using it.

A gloomy picture? Yes, but like all such pictures, it has a silver border. Heretofore Stanford, notoriously slow in getting started, has chosen the Oregon State game as the one in which each of the moving parts of the Red machine decides to work with the others. Last Saturday it was a wonder the doggone thing even ran!

CARDS HAVE EDGE

Therefore, if the Red machine is ever to get "broken in" it had better get started. And if it should pick next Saturday to start clicking, it will be one tough afternoon for the sons of Troy. Frankly, on paper, Stanford has the edge; a practically veteran line and backfield, as against U.S.C.'s distinct sophomore tinge. Loyal supporters of the Cards are praying that next Saturday will mark the debut of this year's Stanford varsity as a football team. And U.S.C.ites should ask only that that debus be deferred yet a little while.

All "big games," such as this Saturday's, have a very definite psychological (whatever that is) angle. There's no apparent edge in that respect this year. Each team fears the other; each team is, perhaps, overestimating the other. Which means a whale of a scrap which should be a real joy to broadcast. I'm looking forward to it.

COOPER OFF FOR GOLF CLASH AT SALT LAKE

With the cheers of the Breakfast Club ringing in his ears, "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, who was feted at a dinner the other evening, yesterday hopped a plane for Salt Lake City, where he will represent Caliente Golf Park in the Salt Lake open that starts Friday. Cooper, Fred Morrison, Al Espinosa, George Von Elm, "business man golfer;" Horton Smith, C. K. Foley, State amateur champion of Utah, and Henry Merhar of Butte, Mont., are among the list of entrants in the Salt Lake Country Club's first annual open golf tournament. The contest is seventy-two-hole medal play. Eighteen holes will be played Friday, the second eighteen on Saturday and the final thirty-six Sunday. The purse is $5000 for the victors.

PREPS TO WATCH SOCCER CONTESTS

Soccer, the most popular played game of international sports, will be introduced in a big way to Los Angeles High School and grammar school students Sunday afternoon. The Los Angeles City Soccer League through Jens A. Meyer and Dr. A. A. Brix tendered an open invitation to all school students to be guests of the league Sunday at Loyola Field, where two of regular loop games will be staged. The boys and girls will be admitted free.

The games on tap at Loyola are between the Pasadena C. C. team, and the Victorias and one between the Richfield Oilers and Scots.

JOE CARDOZA STOPS MURPHY IN NINTH

Joe Cardoza won on a technical knockout over Larry Murphy in the ninth round of the main event at Wilmington last night. Red Gregory and Zenado Chavez battled to a draw in the six-round semi-windup. Johnny Gonzales beat Frankie Mann in the six-round special event. Thor Olsen stopped Georgie Lopez in the third round. Nat Litkin beat Cliff Campbell over four rounds. Melvin Bobo defeated Tony Cruz in the opener.

LOYOLA STAGES LAST PRACTICE

Lions Ready for Game With St. Ignatius Saturday

Tom Lieb is about ready to call it a week.

The Loyola University mentor, whose Lion eleven faces the powerful University of San Francisco (St. Ignatius) football team at Wrigley Field on Saturday night, will send his boys through their paces this afternoon and then lay aside the armor until game time.

It is probable that Lieb will stage a short workout this afternoon, paying particular attention to the Lions' repertoire of passes. There will be a bit of special attention for Bud Brubaker, flashy halfback who does the kicking and tossing for Loyola, and a signal drill for the whole team. Then it's over.

Lieb has had two solid weeks to drill his athletes on the new offensive that he designed for use against the Grey Fog. Although he declined last night to comment on Loyola's chances in the game Saturday, he declared himself satisfied with the condition of the squad and expressed the confidence that his boys would score at least once, and perhaps twice.

Southern California fans will see one of the strongest backfields in the Coast, when the Fog rolls out on the gridiron Saturday. Bob Kleckner, the cut-back king, has been getting all the space in the papers, but Mike Hemovitch, quarter, and "Warhorse" Warford, running mate for Kleckner, have been doing the damage in the early games.

ONEONTA NEXT FOR FIREMEN GRIDDERS

One of the strongest prep teams on the Coast, Oneonta Military Academy, provides the next test for the firs department football team at Wrigley Field on Monday evening. The military academy eleven has a number of fine school-boy stars who are making ready to launch on college careers and they should give the heavier firemen team a real workout, the experts point out. Coach Bill Blewett's fsmoke-eaters due to their recent convincing victories over teams like San Jose State, West Coast Army and Santa Barbara American Legion, should trot on the field heavy favorites to defeat the Cadets.

RIVAL OILER HOCKEY SQUAD CLASH TONIGHT

Tonight's hockey battle at the Winter Garden is featured by a brother act. Doc Claman manages the Shell Oilers, while his brother, Al Claman, is the Union Oil prexy. The former played goal last season, but is branching out this season and intends to show his brother how to run a hockey club, after playing for him several seasons as a goalie.

A number of good boys are on both squads. Union has Henry Brandow, Brown, Warren and Dave Patrick as their big stars. Shell will rely on Dale Wells, Comber, Lefty McDonald and Joe Fritz. The game will start promptly at 8:30 p.m.

CUMNOCK FACES WEBB

Cumnock School's football team, under the direction of Lester W. Newberry, will clash with Webb School Saturday afternoon on the latter's field.

Stribling and Christner in Bout Tonight

NEWARK (N. J.) Oct. 22. (AP)—Young Bill Stribling, heavyweight ace of the Southland, will swing back into action here tomorrow night for the first time since his spectacular knockouts over Otto Von Porat in Chicago and Phil Scott in London. The Macon youth is scheduled to go ten rounds with K. O. Christner, iron puddler from Akron, O.

Stribling, considered by many experts the outstanding American challenger for the heavyweight title, is in fine condition and is expected to have little trouble with the former iron worker.

weeks at Soper's ranch roughing it. Since he returned to the gymnasium he is having trouble getting sparring partners.

The supporting card features three six-rounders and four. The sixes are Don Burchard vs. Teddy Palacios, Tommy McGough vs. Sammy Seaman, Frankie Diaz vs. Battling Shaw. The four is Marcelino Lomeli vs. Oral Eubanks.

The Bud Taylor-Maurice Holtzer bout was definitely closed yesterday. They box November 10, the week following the Newsboy Brown-Claude Varner rematch. Jackson and Tommy Freeman are slated for November 18.

NEWMAN OPTIMISTIC OVER WHITTIER TEAM

Coach Wallace Newman feels quite optimistic about his Whittier eleven as he drills them in preparation for Friday night's tilt with Santa Barbara on Hadley Field.

Bonner, a reserve guard, has been putting up a great defensive game in workout and may get the nod over the regular starters, Daugherty and Frank Jones, when Newman picks his first eleven for Friday night.

AL FAY FAVORED TO WIN FROM ELLIOTT TOMORROW

Al Fay, living up to his reputation, should beat Dutch Elliott in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadihm tomorrow night. Fay has fought and beaten better fighters than Elliott has ever met. He has had the greater experience, and knows more about fighting. Upsets have happened to all kinds of fighters at the stadium and the most recent one was when Al Morro beat Armand Emanuel.

Elliott should go the full ten rounds with Fay. The El Monte fighter is big and strong. He has a pretty good sock, one that Fay can't afford to disregard.

Unless he is off form Jimmy Hannah should beat Tom Patrick in the semi-wind-up. When it comes to vicious swings and terrible facial expressions, Patrick can hold his own, but he must show a lot of stuff to get even a draw with Hannah, who is rated a very promising light-heavyweight. This fight looks to be one of the best on the card.

Johnny De Coursey has the ability to beat Frankie Forbes in the special event. They are welterweights.

The Burns twins, George and Billy, will be the favorites in the four-round shots. George fights Ignatio Manana, Mexican, in the second spot, and Billy battles Rito Martinez, Mexican, in the curtain-raiser.

STARS CAPTURE OPENER

rushed in Augie Johns and then Buzz Wetzel, who stopped the Angel attack to gain credit for the victory, while Lelivelt followed Baecht to the mound with Wilbert Peters and Art Delaney. The latter started pitching in the tenth and was the victim of the Sheiks in the tenth.

The Angels outhit the Stars by a fifteen-to-ten margin, but a combination of poor base running and bad breaks nullified their heavier attack.

Although on the losing side, Ray Jacobs stood out above all other athletes as the hero of the day. Jake, his bat full of dynamite that blasted out two home runs and a pair of doubles in five trips to the plate, also scintillated around the initial sack with some spectacular fielding. It wasn't Jacobs's fault the Angels didn't win and you can bet that the Stars were mighty glad there weren't two Ray Jacobs playing against them yesterday.

The contest started out with the Sheiks piling up a 4-to-1 lead during the first five and a half innings. Then the Seraph sluggers got busy. Two runs were pounded over in the sixth and four more in the seventh and the tables were reversed with the Cherubs holding a three-run lead.

But the Stars had a comeback in their system, and once more forged to the front by routing Baecht with a four-run barrage in the eighth. That looked like the ball game until Johnny Moore came up in the ninth and whacked one of Johns's offerings far over the right-field fence to tie it up.

SHEIKS WIN IN TENTH

However, Dave Barbee opened up the tenth with a double off the center-field barrier that lacked only a few feet of clearing the wall. Carlyle's attempted sacrifice resulted in a pop fly to Statz. After being unable to locate the plate on his next three pitches, Delaney purposely walked Heath. Then Bassler's bat, although he tried to hold back his swing, dribbled a slow roller down to Statz. Fred Haney, who gamely played second base despite a painful pulled groin muscle, was slow getting over to cover, but he got there in time to receive Statz's throw for a force-out. He had no chance to try for a double play, however, because Heath slid into him and bowled him over. That meant the ball game for Hollywood, for Bassler surely would have been doubled had not Mickey upset Haney. After a conference in which the Angels talked over the advisability of walking Hill to get at Wetzel it was decided to pitch to the Star left fielder. Jess, who hadn't got a hit all day, then punched his double down the left-field line and Barbee came in with the winning tally. Wetzel was thrown out, Statz to Jacobs, to end the inning.

The contest also had its squabble and there are plenty of fans who were at Wrigley Field yesterday who contend that Umpire Hank Fanning pulled a boot that may have robbed the Angels of a victory in the regulation nine innings. The disputed play came up in the Seraph sixth after Schulmerich had homed and Jacobs and Statz doubled to put the Sheiks on the run. Dittmar smashed a low liner that Gazella either caught on the fly or scooped almost as soon as it hit the ground. Statz, not knowing whether Gazella had caught the ball or not, started back toward second despite Lelivelt's attempt to wave him to third. Mike hurriedly whipped the ball toward second but it soared over Brannan's head into right field. Dittmar ran for second and made it, while Statz was still going around in circles between second and third. Barbee returned the ball to the infield and Dittmar was run down, Dittmar meanwhile resting on second. Then Fanning ruled that Gazella had caught the ball on the fly and that both runners were out. I thought that the ball had hit the dirt before Mike scooped it but Gazella swears that it didn't. And Fanning, who was umpiring on third at the time, also claims that it was a caught line drive, so his decision is the only one that counts.

Brannan homed over the right-field wall in the opening inning to put the Stars off in front, but Jacobs clouted one of Turner's pitches over the left-field fence to even the score in the Angel second.

Hollywood got two more in the fourth when Heath clouted one high into the center-field bleachers to score Carlyle, who had forced Barbee, ahead of him.

LEE SCORES IN SIXTH

Some nifty base-running by Lee gave the Sheiks a fourth run in the sixth. Lee led off with a walk and was bunted to second by Brannan. Barbee struck out on a curve that broke into the dirt and got past Hannah. For some unknown reason Barbee never started for first until Hannah had got the ball and heaved it to Jacobs in time for the putout. In the meantime Lee went to third and raced for home, which was left uncovered when Truck went back to retrieve the ball. Hannah made a great effort to get back to the plate and take Jacobs's return throw before Lee got there, but Dud just did slide in ahead of him on a close play.

Schulmerich's homer and doubles by Jacobs and Statz produced two Angel runs in the sixth, but the real fireworks were reserved for the seventh when Haney and Harper led off with singles to cause Vitt to yank Turner. Johns disposed of Moore and Schulmerich, but Jacobs responded with another homer over the left-field wall to put the Angels in front, 6 to 4. Statz followed with another homer over the same wall, and it looked as though it was all over with Hollywood.

Baecht started wobbling in the eighth when Gazella singled, only to be forced by Lee. A walk to Brannan and Barbee's single scored Lee. Whereupon Carlyle banged one to center that took two bounces on top of the wall and went for a triple, both Brannan and Barbee scoring to knot the count. Peters then replaced Baecht. Jacobs made an impossible stop of Heath's hot grounder to hold Carlyle on third and beat Mickey to first. Bassler punched a single over second and Carlyle came home with what again looked like the winning run. Statz speared Hill's line drive for the third out.

Moore's homer in the ninth that tied the score and the details of Hollywood's winning rally have already been told, so that brings us to today's game. Frank Shellenback will pitch for the Stars, while Lelivelt will send Win Ballou to the mound in an effort to even up the series. The teams will use the same line-ups. Score:

WILL ROGERS TO PLAY ON RED TEAM SUNDAY

Will Rogers, gum-chewing comedian, is expected to play No. 1 on the Reds in their polo tilt with the Blues next Sunday on the Uplifters' field. Will Rogers, Jr., will oppose his famous dad when the umpire throws in the ball to start the game, for he will be filling a similar position on the Blues. Reggie Weiss, former six-goal player and a mainstay of the Midwick team some few years ago, will will appear at No. 2 on the Blues.

Probable line-ups:

Lionel Pedley	No. 3	Snowy Baker
Lyell Puckett	Back	Dick Smith

BROTHER ACT CARDED AT ICE HOCKEY RINK

The brother act of local ice hockey ranks, the three puck chasing Proulx boys, Hector, Gene and Noel, is expected to hold the spotlight in tonight's Southern California senior Ice Hockey League game at the Palais De Glace. The Proulx trio, stars for the past two years in the senior circuit, have been signed by the Los Angeles Bruins and will form the fast-passing forward line for the team tonight when they meet the Hollywood Monarchs.

GUS MUST WATCH HIMSELF

Dynamite's Tendency to Strangle Opponents Under Close Scrutiny in George Go Wednesday

"Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg's use of the strangle hold when he snaps on the double wristlock and head-scissors will be closely watched in his match with Don George, Hollywood mat star, at the Olympic Wednesday night.

In his bout with Everett Marshall here several weeks ago, Sonnenberg was cautioned several times for bringing his legs across the challenger's windpipe and shaking his foe vigorously. It is believed that the strangling Marshall received in this bout had a great deal to do with Sonnenberg's ability to subdue him with this hold, although the Coloradoan refused to file any protest following the bout.

George indicated yesterday that he did not intend to be strangled into submission, undetected, and expects to enter the ring with a double wristlock and head-scissors hold as effective as the one used by the champion. Two can play the game as well as one, is George's stand on the strangle question. George has five bruising trainers helping him get ready for this match.

The rule against the use of the butts and the tackles will be rigidly enforced in this bout, Promotor Lou Daro stated. The referee will be instructed to warn each grappler against the use of these holds, and to call a foul on the grappler showing intentional disregard for the rules.

JONES CHOOSES GRID PLAYERS

er, Howard Joslin and Ray Sparling, ends; Bob Hall, Al Plaehn, Tay Brown, Ernie Smith, Bill Armistead and Ward Bond, tackles; Johnny Baker, Jess Shaw, "Butcher" Black, Byron Gentry, Irving Winfield, Bob Jensen and Vaughn Deranian, guards; Stan Williamson, Bill Hawkins and Julian Whittier, centers; Marshall Duffield, Orv Mohler, Blanchard Beatty and Al Maloney, quarterbacks; Erny Pinckert, Marger Apsit, George Kirkwood, Tom Mallory, Barry Stephens and Harold Hammack, halfbacks, and Gaius Shaver, Jimmy Musick and Ev Brown, fullbacks.

Jones will depend upon these players to score the Trojans' third straight victory over the Cards. "Pop" Warner's hopefuls have not even scored against S.C. since 1927, when the annual game ended in a 13-13 tie.

Just whom Jones will start at Palo Alto is still a mere guess, and nothing more. The veteran U.C. coach has announced that he will not announce his starting team until the morning of the game. However, the strongest possibility includes Arbelbide and Wilcox at ends; Hall and Smith at tackles; Baker and Shaw, guards; Williamson, center; Pinckert and Apsit, halfbacks, and Shaver, fullback. The quarterback duties, of course, lie between Duffield and Mohler. The latter has the best ground-gaining average to date, but Duffield has the advantage of two years of varsity work and has a cool head under fire. Mohler is a smart player, but may not be up to Duffield's caliber in important games.

LIGHT WORKOUT

Jones sent his athletes through a light signal drill last night. There was no heavy scrimmage, which would offer a last-minute opportunity for an injury to a valuable player. This afternoon he plans to give his men another light workout. They will board the special at 7:45, and will arrive in San Jose about 7:30 tomorrow morning. A bus will take the gridders to the Castlewood Country Club, where they will remain until game time. Another limbering-up drill is planned for tomorrow afternoon.

Thousands of Trojan rooters are going north to the contest. A record number of Espee specials will cart more than 8000 local spectators to Palo Alto for the annual conflict between the two great elevens.

The starting line-up will probably be Avery and Thornton, ends; Cahn and Timmerman, tackles; D. Handy and Beckett, guards; Eickmeyer, center; Griffiths, quarterback; Hickingbotham and Schaldach, halfbacks, and Gill, fullback.

Those who are making the trip include the following players: Bob Bartlett, Rus Avery, Ralph Stone, Togo Thornton, Jack De Benedetti, Dick Tozer, Luis De Resta, George Garner and Charles Whyte, ends; Bob Cahn, Dolf Timmerman, Gerald Easterbrook, Seldon Del Georgio, Bob Neuhaus, tackles; Bob Pascoe, Ted Beckett, Gene Eldering, Capt. Touchdowns—Tik, Ferguson, 2.

KENNEDY AND HALL TO CLASH TONIGHT

Don Kennedy will meet Richey Hall, featherweight, at the Pasadena Arena tonight. The go is scheduled for six rounds at 126 pounds. In the four-round semi-final, Joe Pimenthal takes on Ad Cadena. Jack Kay meets Bob Douglas at 148 pounds. The other bouts will bring together Honest Murphy and Les Darcy, 140 pounders; Frank Spalone vs. Bob Maxwell, 138 pounds, and Bobby Frayne vs. Ramon Navarro, 120 pounds.

CARDS PREPARE PASSING GAME

except that Rothert has given himself away by hurling passes at Phil Moffatt that Moffatt usually turns into touchdowns when he reaches them. So there you are.

After another huddle, the experts decided Stanford was given so many plays early in the season, the poor lads had trouble remembering them, and that partly accounts for the indifferent showing the squad has made so far this season. So that means Stanford is concentrating on fewer and better plays behind those barred gates down on the farm.

This experting business is quite an expert task. The offense this year, it seems, is more complicated than usual and some of the linemen got mixed up in their blocking and let opponents get through to spil lthe plays. All experts agree this is not conducive to the best results in football. With fewer plays to remember, there can be more polish and more hopes of satisfactory execution. Yes, that surely must be what Stanford is doing.

Moffatt gained sixty-one yards in thirteen plays against the embattlements of Troy last year and Bill Clark negotiated forty-eight yards in ten tries. Both of them will be in Saturday's line-up and Stanford hopes they can do better in their mathematics this year.

EVERYTHING EVEN

By the same token, Stanford hopes the Trojans have got messed up in their calculus or something because Southern California made 278 yards on running plays last year against Stanford's 211. According to the experts that makes everything six, two and even.

The only other expert that can lick the experts now on the job is the scoreboard.

BRUIN GRIDMEN WORK AT NIGHT

back of the Bruins, injured his leg in a strenuous scrimmage last night, and probably will view the Caltech game from the sidelines. However, Capt. Eddie Solomon was due to start the game, anyway, so Spaulding will probably save Bergdahl for the Stanford game next week. Norman Duncan, fullback, also injured his shoulder, but he will be in the game against the Engineers.

The Bruin mentor is not expecting a tough assignment in Coach "Fox" Stanton's Beavers, but he is not treating the contest as a soft touch, either. The Bruin gridders made a strong stand against the St. Mary's Galloping Gaels last Friday night in the Coliseum before going down to a 21-to-6 defeat, but their showing was mostly defensive. The team will specialize in offensive playing against Caltech, and the Engineers should see a lot of Bob Decker, Buddy Forster and Norman Duncan, Bruin backs.

Caltech played a great game last Saturday night to take a 2-to-0 decision from Pomona College, and the first string of eleven men played the entire game without a substitution. "Fighting Bob" Shuler the Second is the bulwark of the Beaver forward wall at tackle, and Capt. Dickey and "Red" Watson, both weighty and fast, scintillate in the backfield.

BRUIN FROSH ELEVEN ENTRAINS FOR SOUTH

Coach Freddy Oster and his U.C.L.A. freshman football club will entrain tomorrow morning for San Diego, where the Bruin yearlings play the San Diego submarine base eleven Saturday afternoon on the service field. The team will reach the southern city about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and will then hold a light workout.

Signal drill has played a big part in practices this past week since the game last Saturday with the Stanford freshmen demonstrated that half the men did not know the signals. The game with the undersea men is the next to the last on the schedule, the Bruin frosh tangling with the University of Southern California frosh on November 11, Armistice Day, on the Westwood gridiron.

EXTRA TRAIN SERVICE NECESSARY FOR FANS

Running as extra sections of regular trains, ten Southern Pacific special trains, or fifteen trains in all, will carry a crowd of 500 students, 1000 alumni, and more than 2500 other Trojan fans to Saturday's big game at Palo Alto. The Trojan hosts will commence their pilgrimage when the Owl leaves Central Station at 6 p.m. Friday. Thirty-five minutes later two sections of the Sunset Limited, each carrying the limit number of heavy steel Pullman cars loaded with Trojan rooters, will roll out of the station. The Padre will follow at 7:20 p.m. and at 8 p.m. four sections of the Lark will depart. The Coaster and six special trains carrying the rear guard pull out at 8:10 p.m.

STETSON WALKS THE FIRST TEN MILES!

A man is only as good as his feet. Youth crumbles at the foundation, not at the top. Why, then, should you, craving and utilizing all the silken amenities of life, endure periodic agonies of "breaking in" new shoes and a slow-up in your pace when it's all so unnecessary? You can step into a Stetson Shoe Shop today and into a PRE-WALKED shoe. You can cover the next ten miles without raising a blister, pain or pang. All because Stetson has wrought a comfort revolution . . . softened, flexed and limbered the fine imported leathers in its marvelous system of progressive shoe assembly. Machines, and not man, do the "breaking in." A master idea in shoe craftsmanship, yes . . . but what a blessing on your feet, so vital to your success! What size, Sir?

AD PROTECTION TOLD ON RADIO

Association President Cites Service to Buyers

Products Made Familiar by Trademark and Price

Housewives Disclose Keen Interest in Campaigns

Advertising is a protector of the public. Some thirty clubs on the Pacific Coast are constantly alert to keep it so. More than ever before, it is believable and winning public trust.

HERMAN A. NATER

These were some of the interesting points elaborated yesterday by Herman A. Nater, president of the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association, in the sixth address broadcast by the Los Angeles Advertising Club and sponsored by the University of Southern California. The aim of these addresses is to educate the public concerning advertising, and that of Mr. Nater yesterday was sent out by remote control from the university studio over station KMPC.

BARRIER EXPLAINED

The subject selected by Mr. Nater, who is also vice-president of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association and past president of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles, was "The People for Whom the Nickel Was Coined." After approaching his subject from the consideration that advertising is of great importance to persons interested in thrift and practical buying, he told of the protective barriers that have been established by the thirty clubs in the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association with the determination of making advertising truthful and believable.

"The dual slogan 'Truth in Advertising' and 'Integrity in Business' describes this graphically and briefly," he said. "The advertising movement on the Pacific Coast has tended to build up believability. Business operators are not always honest and ethical. It has been the specific program of organized advertising to maintain a watchful attitude, carry on a perpetual examination into the methods of advertising and selling, to the end the public might be protected.

RESULTS ACCOMPLISHED

"Advertising clubs on the Pacific Coast originally sponsored the Better Business Bureau movement so the buying public could be told to investigate before it invested, and could check the truthfulness of advertising copy. Splendid results have been accomplished for the public.

"People who read advertising have appreciated the fact it is gradually becoming more believable. Recently I attended a convention of advertising agency men at Medford, Or. They called in six of the representative women shoppers of Medford. These women participated in an advertising clinic. They were asked to give their views of various advertising campaigns. They were asked to tell their reactions to certain advertising copy and they told the advertising men what they read, what pleased them and what displeased them.

"They commented on advertising on billboards, in newspapers and magazines. It was surprising to learn they followed advertising campaigns and knew much about the various advertised products. They were shown a list of advertised products and trade names and were asked to tell something about each product, and they invariably knew all about it.

"They stressed the beauty in travel advertisements, the illustrations that covered the well-prepared and appetizing dishes offered the public in food advertisements. They said they gladly availed themselves of recipes which came to them in certain advertising copy.

PROTECTS PUBLIC

"They commented upon the advertising they saw in the street cars, and they proved to the advertising men and women that they had become good judges of products because of the advertising they had read.

"It was evident that advertising does protect the women buyers, and we believe advertising should and does take the role of a protector. While it is a builder of business, and while it is the greatest agency in the dissemination of products, if it does its job well, it is likewise a protector of the public.

"Advertising protects us from foolish expenditures, because through advertising we have become competent and well-informed buyers. Manufacturers and distributors advertise because they wish to keep your good will and protect you from inferior products. They realize they must protect you both as to quality and price. They realize through advertising, which produces augmented sales, they can save you definite amounts in every purchase.

"Advertising is the greatest agency for the people for whom the nickel was coined."

Wife Gets Divorce From Mate Who Collected Her Wages and Kept Lion's Share

"My husband even collected my wages and then would not give me back enough for clothes," Mrs. Lucille May Gillum testified yesterday in winning a divorce from John Webb Gillum.

"The meanest man," commented Superior Judge Yankwich, in granting her a decree. Mrs. Gillum testified that, in three years of married life, they lived in eight different places.

G.O.P. WILL FETE MAYER IN BAY CITY

Rolph and Merriam Will Return With Angelenos to Open Four-Day Tour

Louis B. Mayer, first vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee, accompanied by M. B. Silberberg, campaign director for the committee in Southern California, and a party of Republican leaders, will leave tonight for San Francisco to attend a luncheon there tomorrow in Mr. Mayer's honor.

Mayor Rolph, the G.O.P. nominee for Governor, and Senator Merriam, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, will speak at the luncheon, which will be held under the auspices of the northern division of the State committee.

Several hundred Republicans from San Francisco and the other Bay cities are expected to attend the affair. Marshal Hale, San Francisco merchant and chairman of the committee, will preside.

Mr. Mayer and Mr. Silberberg will return to Los Angeles Sunday, accompanying Mayor Rolph and Senator Merriam, who are to campaign in Southern California next week. The candidates will confer with party leaders Monday morning and then begin a four-day joint tour of Southland communities which calls for twenty-two speeches by each.

Col. Charles W. Decker will speak over Radio Station KGPJ at 11:15 a.m. today on the G.O.P. ticket.

Each morning at the same hour for the next week a Republican orator will talk from the same station, the speakers including Mrs. Winfield Blaine, tomorrow; Max Socha, Saturday; Mrs. John George Mason, Monday; Capt. J. V. C. Taylor, Tuesday, and Mrs. Jean Strickler, Wednesday.

Col. Decker will talk again over KTM at 1:45 p.m. today and Maj. Carlos W. Huntington will speak over KMTR on Monday at 8:30 a.m.

THREE FILM MARRIAGES SCHEDULED

Actresses to Be Brides at Series of Ceremonies Over Week-end

Three marriages will be performed in Hollywood over the week-end, according to announcements made yesterday. Betty Boyd, actress, and Charles Henry Over, will wed tomorrow; Yola D'Avril, actress, and Edward Ward, musical composer, will be married Saturday, while Jane Arden and Frank Stempel are to go to the altar Sunday.

Miss Boyd, whose real name is Elizabeth Boyd Smith, and Over, will be married at 8 a.m. tomorrow at a Hollywood church. A motor trip in the north will follow. They plan a honeymoon to Europe later. Billy Joy is to be best man, Mrs. Ellen Dee, matron of honor, and Frances Dee, actress, bridesmaid. Mrs. Laura Allen, aunt of Miss Boyd, also will attend. Over is connected with a screen talent agency.

Miss D'Avril, whose real name is Vermairion, will wed at Noah Beery's Paradise Club in the mountains near Palmdale Saturday at 5 p.m.

Miss Arden and Stempel are not divulging their marriage plans. A reception to which 500 guests have been invited will follow a quiet ceremony on Sunday.

Store to Have Unique Party for Children

The very youngest set in Los Angeles social circles, whose ages are 2 to 12 years, will be guests at a unique Halloween party next Saturday at Bullock's-Wilshire store. Witches and elves and fairies will be on hand to entertain the youngsters. There will be a playlet and a luncheon.

Miss Jule Ingram, teller of children's stories, will offer her most delightful narratives. David Leo Tillotson, who has won attention in the films, will appear in the playlet as "The Good Little Boy Who Never Said An Unkind Word," which is something of a title in itself.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. The luncheon, "fairy-feast," will be served in the tea room. There will be chicken "en cauldron," ice cream and other enticing edibles. Those desiring admission to the party must obtain a ticket at Bullock's-Wilshire. The ticket includes luncheon.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

PERMIT ISSUED TO WAREHOUSE

City and Harbor Company to Operate Shortly

License Granted by State Rail Commission

Plant on Mormon Island of Fireproof Type

BY WALDO DRAKE

City and Harbor Warehouse Company yesterday received authorization from the State Railroad Commission to open operations as a warehouse company, and the concern will throw open its new modern fireproof plant on Mormon Island in a few weeks, it was announced yesterday by J. W. Cord, one of the executives of the company.

The plant, just completed, is the first of the completely fireproof, one-story concrete structures for the storage of water-borne goods, since the newly authorized rail rates from the interior made the port a natural distributing center for back-country cargoes.

It possesses 77,000 cubic feet of floor space, and under the financial organization arranged by the Cord men, is competent to issue warehouse receipts encouraging storage of foreign and Atlantic Coast products far in advance of their consumption locally.

The company is expected to file its tariffs within thirty days with the State Railroad Commission.

SEPTEMBER HARBOR REVENUES SHADE OFF

Harbor Department revenues for September were $180,386.90, compared with $193,555.19 for the same month last year, according to figures released to the Harbor Commission yesterday. Principal items were dockage, $16,868; wharfage, $81,758; storage, $3107, pilotage, $23,364; land rentals, $27,193; Belt Line Railway, $7645; warehouse, $2631, and bond interest, $10,000.

The French Line steamer Winnipeg sailed out last night for Havre, with a full capacity of freight and thirty-four passengers of whom nine embarked here. The liner, having the largest capacity for passengers of any vessel plying between here and Europe, is on her second voyage in the Pacific-European run.

The fast steamer Chiapas, being reconditioned by Noel Pemberton-Billing for the San Diego-Ensenada run, now is scheduled for departure for San Diego the 26th inst., instead of the 24th, as originally planned. The ship is declared in process of government inspection, having passed her stability tests, but life boats and deck fittings have not yet been passed. Two other fast ships will be operated to Ensenada by Billing, sailing from San Pedro. They will be brought to San Francisco from San Francisco before Christmas for reconditioning.

Federal Shipbuilding Company of New York is reported lowest in bids opened at New York the 21st inst., for construction of four Panama Mail liners, with a tender of $15,920,000. Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation was reported far down the list, but the Bethlehem yards of San Francisco were declared third, only $321,000 higher than the lowest. San Francisco, it is declared, has pledged around $400,000 to make up the deferential, and may stand a chance of landing the contract.

The Norwegian motorship Minerva, just completed at Copenhagen, arrived here yesterday on her maiden voyage, to enter the new Pacific Coast-Australia run, under auspices of Swayne & Hoyt. She brought a full cargo of European products to the Coast, including 1500 tons of silver sand, coke and general merchandise to be discharged here before the ship sails north tomorrow to load for the Antipodes. She has a deadweight of 9500 tons, and a speed of twelve knots.

The American Shipping Board motorship West Honaker arrived from the North Pacific yesterday and will depart tomorrow for Cape Town and around the world for the South African Dispatch Line, Capt. A. R. Paulsen, agent. She will lift several hundred tons of gasoline and miscellaneous cargo here.
